(2) Where a matter is so referred, the assessment panel may, by notice in writing given personally or by post, require the person alleged to have committed the offence to appear before the panel.

(3) Where a person to whom a notice under subsection (2) has been given is in custody, the manager of the prison in which the person is detained must cause the person to be brought before the assessment panel in compliance with the notice.

the assessment panel must not proceed further with an assessment under this Division, and must certify accordingly.

- (a) fail to comply with a notice requiring the person to appear before an assessment panel; or
- (b) fail to answer truthfully any questions put to the person by the assessment panel.

Maximum penalty: $500.

- (a) the treatment that the person will undertake;

Controlled Substances Act 1984

(5) An assessment panel may, at the completion of an assessment under this Division (whether or not it requires the person alleged to have committed the offence to enter into an undertaking under this section) warn or counsel the person alleged to have committed the offence.

Conduct of proceedings before a panel

38. (1) Proceedings before an assessment panel will be held without formality and in private.

(2) Upon a matter being referred to an assessment panel, the panel must proceed to carry out and complete its assessment as expeditiously as is reasonably practicable.

(3) A person is not entitled to be represented before an assessment panel, but the assessment panel must hear submissions from the person and may, at its discretion, hear submissions from any other person who has been treating, counselling, advising or aiding the person.

(4) No person other than the person alleged to have committed a simple possession offence, or any other person authorised by the assessment panel, may be present at a sitting of an assessment panel.

(3) This section does not prevent the laying of an information against a person alleged to have committed a simple possession offence, and the apprehension of any such person and his or her remand in custody or release upon bail, but a preliminary examination or other proceedings in respect of the offence cannot proceed unless the panel has authorised the prosecution.

(4) Where an assessment panel has certified that a matter is to be dealt with by a panel, the person alleged to have committed the offence must, if in custody, be released from detention, or any agreement entered into for the purposes of bail must be discharged, as the case may require.

(5) The release of a person from detention, or the discharge of a bail agreement, pursuant to subsection (4) does not render that detention or agreement unlawful.

(6) Where an information has been laid against a person for a simple possession offence and an assessment panel notifies the informant that it does not propose to authorise a prosecution, the information must be withdrawn.

(7) Where an assessment panel authorises the prosecution of a person, the panel must notify the court in writing of its decision (but not of the reasons for the decision) and must cause written notification to be given to the person of the decision and a short statement of its reasons for the decision.

(10) Subsection (9) does not apply to property that has been destroyed under subsection (2) if the property—

- (b) consists of equipment, devices, substances, documents or records acquired, used or intended for use for, or in connection with, the manufacture or production, or the smoking, consumption or administration, of a prohibited substance or drug of dependence.

(11) Despite subsection (9), a court hearing proceedings under that subsection in relation to property that has not been destroyed under subsection (2) may, if it thinks fit, make an order under subsection (7) for forfeiture of the property to the Crown.

(12) The operation of the provisions of the Criminal Assets Confiscation Act 1996 relating to forfeiture of property referred to in section 4(a), (b) or (c) of that Act or any other provisions of that Act is not affected by this section.
