- (2) The register must contain—
 - (a) such information as is required to be entered in the register by this Act; and

 - (b) the name and address of the holder of the security interest; and
 - (c) the type of security interest; and

8—Correction, amendment and cancellation of entries

- (1) The Registrar may correct any particulars that have been incorrectly entered in the register.
- (2) Where a change occurs in circumstances to which a particular entered in the register relates, the Registrar may amend the entry to accord with that change.
- (3) Where it appears to the Registrar that—
- (a) an entry in the register should not have been made either because the interest to which it relates does not exist, or is not registrable under this Act; or
 - (b) a security interest entered in the register has been discharged,
- the Registrar may, subject to this section, cancel the registration of the security interest.
- (4) Before the Registrar cancels the registration of a security interest under subsection (3), the Registrar must, by notice in writing sent by post to the person entered in the register as the holder of the security interest, require that person to show cause within 14 days after the date of the notice why registration of that security interest should not be cancelled.
- (5) Where a person fails to show cause as required by a notice under subsection (4), the Registrar may give that person notice that the Registrar proposes to cancel registration of the security interest.

- (2) The Registrar must enter in the register particulars of a security interest in goods registered under a corresponding law (whether the security interest came into existence on, after or before the commencement of this section) and the date and time of entry in the register.
- (3) The making of an entry in the register of a security interest registered under a corresponding law constitutes the registration of a security interest under this Act.
- (4) The Registrar must vary the register so as to reflect the cancellation, or variation of the particulars, of the registration of a security interest under a corresponding law.

8B—Time within which Registrar must register security interests, vary particulars or cancel registration

This Act is to be taken to require the Registrar to register a security interest, vary particulars of a registered security interest or cancel the registration of a security interest as soon as practicable after—

- (a) the receipt of a due application for such registration, variation or cancellation under this Act; or
- (b) the registration of the security interest, variation of particulars of the security interest or cancellation of the registration of the security interest, under a corresponding law, but no right arises to compensation or damages under this Act or at law in relation to that duty unless the security interest remains unregistered, or the particulars of the security interest are not varied or the registration of the security interest is not cancelled, beyond the end of the day after the day of the receipt of the application, or the registration, variation of particulars or cancellation of the security interest under the corresponding law.

9—Certificate of registered security interests

- (3) If, within 14 days after the discharge of a registered security interest held by an authorised person, the authorised person cancels the registration of the security interest pursuant to the person's authorisation under this section, the person is not required to make application to the Registrar for cancellation of the registration of the security interest.
- (4) A certificate produced by an authorised person under this section must be in the same form and contain the same information as it would if it were issued by the Registrar on application under this Act.
- (5) An authorised person or former authorised person has no right to compensation under Part 4 for loss or damage suffered in consequence of an act or omission of the person or an employee or agent of the person.

 - (a) any information in the register indicating that the goods have been reported as being stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained;
 - (b) any other information included in the register in relation to the goods.
- (2) Neither the inclusion of additional information in, nor its absence from, a certificate issued by the Registrar or produced by an authorised person under this Act gives rise to any right to compensation or damages under this Act or at law.

10C—Evidentiary provision

In any legal proceedings, an apparently genuine document purporting to be a certificate issued by the Registrar or produced by an authorised person under this Act will be admissible as evidence of the matters specified in the certificate other than matters as to which information is not required to be included in the certificate by this Act.

This Part—

- (a) applies only to prescribed goods that are for the time being situated in the State; and
- (b) extends in its application to security interests in motor vehicles that were not prescribed goods within the meaning of this Act when the security interests were created as if the meaning of prescribed goods had when this Act was enacted included any motor vehicles.

- (1) Subject to subsections (1a) and (4), where—
 - (a) prescribed goods are subject to a security interest; and
 - (b) a person (the third party) honestly, for value and without notice of the security interest purports to acquire title to the goods from the owner or apparent owner of the goods; and
 - (c) —
 - (i) the security interest is unregistered; or
 - (ii) the owner or apparent owner is a dealer in goods of that kind; or
 - (iii) after registration of the security interest and before the time of the purported acquisition of title, a certificate of registered security interests was obtained under this Act by or on behalf of the third party and the certificate did not disclose the security interest, the third party acquires a good title to the goods and the security interest is discharged in respect of the goods.

- (1a) The third party does not acquire a good title to the goods and the security interest is not discharged in respect of the goods under subsection (1) if—
- (a) the third party is a party to an agreement or understanding with another person under which the third party is acquiring or purporting to acquire the goods for the purpose of supplying the goods to the other person under a goods lease, hire-purchase agreement or other contract; and

 - (c) —
 - (i) the security interest is unregistered; or
 - (ii) the owner or apparent owner is a dealer in goods of that kind; or
 - (iii) after registration of the security interest and before the time of the purported acquisition of the interest, a certificate of registered security interests was obtained under this Act by or on behalf of the third party and the certificate did not disclose the security interest,

- (2a) Subject to subsection (4), where—
- (a) prescribed goods are subject to a registered security interest; and
 - (b) a person (the third party) honestly, for value and without notice of the security interest purports to acquire an interest in the goods under a short-term goods lease from the owner or apparent owner of the goods, the third party acquires an interest that is valid against the holder of the security interest and has priority over that security interest.

- (2b) Where—
- (a) a certificate is issued under section 9 stating that there are no registered security interests in the prescribed goods to which the certificate relates; and
 - (b) a security interest in those goods is then registered before the end of the day after the day on which the certificate was issued, the registration of that security interest will, for the purposes of this Act, be taken to come into effect only at the end of the day after the day on which the certificate was issued.

- (3) Where—
- (a) prescribed goods are subject to a registered security interest; and

- (b) a person purports to acquire title to or an interest in the goods from a dealer; and
- (c) the security interest is discharged under subsection (1), or its value is diminished under subsection (2), the dealer is liable to compensate the holder for the loss.

- (a) prescribed goods are subject to a security interest; and
- (b) a person (the third party) purports to acquire title to the goods from the owner or apparent owner of the goods; and
- (c) at the time of the purported acquisition the owner or apparent owner is not in receipt of the full purchase price or other consideration; and
- (d) the security interest is discharged under subsection (1), the holder of the security interest is, to the extent of the amount that was owed under the security interest, subrogated to the rights that, but for subrogation, the owner would have had to recover the purchase price or other consideration or the balance of the purchase price or other consideration from the third party.

- (3b) If the holder of a security interest is subrogated under subsection (3a) to rights of the owner of goods, the third party obtains a good discharge for any payment made or consideration given in respect of the goods by the third party before the third party receives notice from the holder of the security interest of rights of the holder under that subsection.
- (4) This section does not apply to the purported acquisition of title to or an interest in prescribed goods—
 - (a) where the parties to the transaction are related to each other; or
 - (b) where the transaction is subsequently rescinded.
- (5) For the purposes of this section a party is related to another if—
 - (a) one is a body corporate and the other is a related body corporate; or
 - (b) one is a body corporate and the other is a director or officer of the body corporate or a related body corporate.
- (6) The onus of proving that a security interest is discharged under this section is on the person who asserts that the interest is so discharged.

- (4) If the holder of a security interest in prescribed goods (whether or not registered) takes possession of the goods, that security interest has priority over any registered security interest in the same goods that was registered after possession of the goods was taken.
- (5) The holder of a registered security interest may, by application made in accordance with section 10, postpone that security interest to a security interest subsequently registered.
- (6) The Registrar must vary the particulars of registration of a security interest so as to record the postponement of the security interest under subsection (5).
