(2) The Ombudsman may make such an investigation either on receipt of a complaint or on the Ombudsman's own initiative and, where a complaint is made, the Ombudsman may investigate an administrative act notwithstanding that, on the face of it, the complaint may not appear to relate to that administrative act.

(3) The Ombudsman must not investigate any administrative act where—

   (a) the complainant is provided in relation to that administrative act with a right of appeal, reference or review to a court, tribunal, person or body under any enactment or by virtue of Her Majesty's prerogative; or
   (b) the complainant had a remedy by way of legal proceedings, unless the Ombudsman is of the opinion that it is not reasonable, in the circumstances of the case, to expect that the complainant should resort or should have resorted to that appeal, reference, review or remedy.

(3a) The ability to lay a complaint for disciplinary action against a person is to be disregarded for the purposes of subsection (3).

(3b) Despite subsection (3), the Ombudsman may investigate a prescribed child protection complaint.

(c) is made under this Act.

(3d) Without limiting any other provision of this Act, the Ombudsman, in respect of an investigation under subsection (3b), has any additional powers that the Health and Community Services Complaints Commissioner would have under the Health and Community Services Complaints Act 2004 if the Commissioner were investigating such a complaint under that Act.

(3e) Without limiting any other provision of this Act, the Ombudsman must, in the course of an investigation under subsection (3b)—

(a) have regard, and seek to give effect, to the Health and Community Services Rights Charter under the Health and Community Services Complaints Act 2004, as in force from time to time;

(b) where appropriate, have regard to any code of conduct prescribed under section 56A of the Health and Community Services Complaints Act 2004.

(4) The Ombudsman may investigate any administrative act, notwithstanding any enactment that provides that that administrative act is final or not to be appealed against, challenged, reviewed, quashed or called into question.

(2) The Ombudsman must carry out an investigation into any matter referred to him or her under this section and, following that investigation, must submit a report on the matter to—

(b) if the matter was referred to the Ombudsman by the House of Assembly or a committee of the House of Assembly—the Speaker of the House of Assembly;

(c) if the matter was referred to the Ombudsman by a joint committee of both Houses of Parliament—the President of the Legislative Council and the Speaker of the House of Assembly.

(a) the person affected by an administrative act is provided in relation to that act with a right of appeal, reference or review to a court, tribunal, person or body under any enactment or by virtue of Her Majesty's prerogative; or

(b) the person affected by an administrative act had a remedy by way of legal proceedings; or

(c) 12 months have elapsed since the person affected by an administrative act had notice of the administrative act, the administrative act is not to be referred to the Ombudsman by a House of Parliament or committee under this section unless the House or committee resolves that, in all the circumstances of the case, the administrative act warrants investigation by the Ombudsman despite the availability of that appeal, reference, review or remedy or the passage of time since the person affected had notice of the administrative act.

14A—Administrative audits

(1) If the Ombudsman considers it to be in the public interest to do so, the Ombudsman may conduct a review of the administrative practices and procedures of an agency to which this Act applies.

(2) The provisions of this Act apply in relation to a review under subsection (1) as if it were an investigation of an administrative act under this Act, subject to such modifications as may be necessary, or as may be prescribed.

14B—Referral of matter by OPI or ICAC

(1) If a matter is referred to the Ombudsman under the ICAC Act, the matter—

(a) will be taken to relate to administrative acts for the purposes of this Act; and 10 Published under the Legislation Revision and Publication Act 2002

(b) must be dealt with under this Act as if a complaint had been made under this Act and—

(i) if the matter was the subject of a complaint or report under the ICAC Act—as if the person who made the complaint or report under that Act was the complainant under this Act; or

(ii) if the matter was assessed under that Act after being identified by the Commissioner acting on the Commissioner's own initiative or by the Commissioner or the Office in the course of performing functions under any Act—as if the Commissioner was the complainant under this Act.

(2) In this section—

(3) A complaint in respect of an administrative act that could, apart from this subsection, be made by a person or body of persons may, with the consent of that person or body, be made on behalf of that person or body by a member of either House of Parliament and with the consent of that person or body that member may act on behalf of that person or body in and in connection with all matters relating to the matter of complaint.

16—Time within which complaints may be made

(1) Subject to this section a complaint under this Act must not be entertained by the Ombudsman if it is made after 12 months from the day on which the complainant first had notice of the matters alleged in the complaint unless the Ombudsman is of the opinion that, in all the circumstances of the case, it is proper to entertain the complaint.

(2) For the purposes of this section a complainant will be presumed to have had notice of the matters alleged in the complaint at the time he or she might reasonably be expected to have had such notice.

(3) This section does not apply in relation to a complaint made by the Commissioner for Children and Young People or the Guardian for Children and Young People under the Children and Young People (Oversight and Advocacy Bodies) Act 2016.

(a) the person by or on whose behalf the complaint is made is an employee; and

(b) the complaint relates to an administrative act done by another in the capacity of an employer of that person.

(2) The Ombudsman may refuse to entertain a complaint, or, having commenced to investigate a matter raised in a complaint, may refuse to continue the investigation if of the opinion—

(a) that the matter raised in the complaint is trivial; or

(b) that the complaint is frivolous or vexatious or is not made in good faith; or

(c) that the complainant or the person on whose behalf the complaint was made has not a sufficient personal interest in the matter raised in the complaint; or

(d) that having regard to all the circumstances of the case, the investigation or the continuance of the investigation of the matter raised in the complaint, is unnecessary or unjustifiable.

(3) Where a complaint is made and the Ombudsman decides not to investigate the complaint, or to discontinue an investigation, the Ombudsman must inform the complainant of that decision and of the reasons for it.

17A—Conciliation

(1) The Ombudsman may, at any time, decide to attempt to deal with a complaint by conciliation.
(2) The Ombudsman may, in attempting conciliation under this section, act personally or through some other person.

(5) The Ombudsman must report any evidence of breach of duty or misconduct on the part of a member, officer or employee of an agency to which this Act applies to the principal officer of the agency.

(6) Subject to this Act, the procedure to be adopted in relation to an investigation will be as determined by the Ombudsman.

19—Ombudsman to have powers of a Royal Commission

(b) likely to cause serious hardship to a person,
the Ombudsman may, by notice in writing, direct an agency to which this Act applies to refrain from performing the administrative act as specified in the notice for any period specified in the notice.

(2) However—

(a) a notice must not be issued if compliance with the notice by the agency would result in the agency breaching a contract or other legal obligation or cause any third parties undue hardship; and

(b) a notice or notices issued under this section must not require an agency to refrain from performing an administrative act for more than 45 days in aggregate.

(3) The Ombudsman may, at any time, revoke a notice and must do so if of the opinion that the notice should not have been issued.

(5) If, following receipt of a notice under this section, the agency is of the opinion that, in the circumstances, failure to comply with the terms of the notice would be reasonable and justifiable, the agency may determine not to comply with the notice (in which case it must advise the Ombudsman of that determination, in writing, as soon as practicable).

(6) If an agency that has received a notice under this section fails to comply with the terms of the notice, the following provisions apply:

(a) the principal officer of the agency must, at the request of the Ombudsman, report to the Ombudsman within the time allowed in the request on the reasons for the agency's failure to comply with the notice;

(c) was in accordance with a rule of law or a provision of an enactment or a practice that is or may be unreasonable, unjust, oppressive or improperly discriminatory; or

(d) was done in the exercise of a power or discretion and was so done for an improper purpose or on irrelevant grounds or on the taking into account of irrelevant considerations; or

(e) was done in the exercise of a power or discretion and the reasons for the act were not but should have been given; or

(f) was based wholly or in part on a mistake of law or fact; or

(g) was wrong.

(1a) This section does not apply to an investigation conducted under section 14.

(b) that action can be, and should be, taken to rectify, or mitigate or alter the effects of, the administrative act to which the investigation related; or

(c) that the practice in accordance with which the administrative act was done should be varied; or

(d) that any law in accordance with which or on the basis of which the action was taken should be amended or repealed; or

(e) that the reason for any administrative act should be given; or

(f) that any other steps should be taken,

the Ombudsman must report that opinion and the reasons for it to the principal officer of the relevant agency and may make such recommendations as the Ombudsman thinks fit.

(3) The Ombudsman must send a copy of any report or recommendation made under subsection (2) to the responsible Minister and, in the case of a report or recommendation relating to the sheriff, to the State Courts Administration Council.

(4) The principal officer of an agency in relation to which a recommendation is made under subsection (2) must, at the request of the Ombudsman, report to the Ombudsman within a time allowed in the request on what steps have been taken to give effect to the recommendation and, if no such steps have been taken, the reason for the inaction.

(5) If it appears to the Ombudsman that appropriate steps have not been taken to give effect to a recommendation made under this section, the Ombudsman may make a report on the matter (containing a copy of the earlier report and the recommendation) to the Premier.

(6) Where the Ombudsman reports to the Premier under subsection (5), the Ombudsman may forward copies of the report to the Speaker of the House of Assembly and the President of the Legislative Council with a request that they be laid before their respective Houses.

26—Confidentiality, disclosure of information and publication of reports

(3) The Ombudsman may, if of the opinion that it is in the public interest to do so, cause a report on an investigation, or a statement about an investigation, or a decision not to investigate or to discontinue an investigation, to be published in such manner as the Ombudsman thinks fit.
