Part 2—Objects, principles and interaction with other Acts

4—Objects of Act

- (1) The objects of the Act are—
 - (a) to promote health and well being of individuals and communities and to prevent disease, medical conditions, injury and disability through a public health approach; and
 - (b) to protect individuals and communities from risks to public health and to ensure, so far as is reasonably practicable, a healthy environment for all South Australians and particularly those who live within disadvantaged communities; and
 - (c) to provide for the development of effective measures for the early detection, management and amelioration of risks to public health; and
 - (d) to promote the provision of information to individuals and communities about risks to public health; and

- (e) to encourage individuals and communities to plan for, create and maintain a healthy environment; and
 - (f) to provide for or support policies, strategies, programs and campaigns designed to improve the public health of communities and special or vulnerable groups (especially Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders) within communities; and
 - (g) to provide for the prevention, or early detection, management and control, of diseases, medical conditions and injuries of public health significance; and
 - (h) to provide for the monitoring of any disease or medical condition of public health significance in order to provide for the prevention or early detection of any such disease or medical condition and for the protection of individuals and the community from the threat of any such disease or medical condition and from public health threats more generally; and
 - (i) to provide for the collection of information about incidence and prevalence of diseases and other risks to health in South Australia for research or public health purposes; and
 - (j) to establish a scheme for the performance of functions relating to public health by the State and local governments.
- (2) The Minister and other persons or bodies involved in the administration of this Act must have regard to, and seek to further, the objects of this Act.

5—Principles to be recognised under Act

In the administration of this Act and in seeking to further the objects of this Act, regard should be given to the principles set out in the following sections (insofar as may be relevant in the circumstances).

6—Precautionary principle

- (1) If there is a perceived material risk to public health, lack of full scientific certainty should not be used as a reason for postponing measures to prevent, control or abate that risk.
- (2) In the application of this principle, decision-making and action should be proportionate to the degree of public health risk and should be guided by—
 - (a) a careful evaluation of what steps need to be taken to avoid, where practicable, serious harm to public health; and
 - (b) an assessment of the risk-weighted consequences of options; and
 - (c) an aim to ensure minimum disruption to an individual's activities, a community's functioning and commercial activity consistent with providing any necessary protection from identified public health risks.

7—Proportionate regulation principle

Regulatory measures should take into account and, to the extent that is appropriate, minimise adverse impacts on business and members of the community while ensuring consistency with requirements to protect the community and to promote public health.

8—Sustainability principle

Public health, social, economic and environmental factors should be considered in decision-making with the objective of maintaining and improving community well-being and taking into account the interests of future generations.

9—Principle of prevention

Administrative decisions and actions should be taken after considering (insofar as is relevant) the means by which public health risks can be prevented and avoided.

10—Population focus principle

Administrative decisions and actions should focus on the health of populations and the actions necessary to protect and improve the health of the community and, in so doing, the protection and promotion of the health of individuals should be considered.

11—Participation principle

Individuals and communities should be encouraged to take responsibility for their own health and, to that end, to participate in decisions about how to protect and promote their own health and the health of their communities.

12—Partnership principle

- (1) The protection and promotion of public health requires collaboration and, in many cases, joint action across various sectors and levels of government and the community.
- (2) People acting in the administration of this Act should seek ways to develop and strengthen partnerships aimed at achieving identified public health goals consistent with the objects of this Act.

13—Equity principle

Decisions and actions should not, as far as is reasonably practicable, unduly or unfairly disadvantage individuals or communities and, as relevant, consideration should be given to health disparities between population groups and to strategies that can minimise or alleviate such disparities.

14—Specific principles—Parts 10 and 11

- (1) The principles set out in this section apply for the purposes of Part 10 and Part 11.
- (2) The overriding principle is that members of the community have a right to be protected from a person whose infectious state or whose behaviour may present a risk, or an increased risk, of the transmission of a controlled notifiable condition.
- (3) A person who has a controlled notifiable condition that is capable of being transmitted to 1 or more other persons has a responsibility to take reasonable steps or precautions to avoid placing others at risk on account of the controlled notifiable condition.
- (4) A person must not, insofar as is reasonably practicable, act in a manner that will place himself or herself at risk of contracting a controlled notifiable condition that is capable of being transmitted.

- (5) Subject to the overriding principle and any steps reasonably necessary to protect, or to minimise risks to, public health, and without limiting any power under Part 10 or Part 11, a person who may be the subject of an order, direction or requirement under either Part is entitled to expect—
- (a) to have his or her privacy respected and to have the benefit of patient confidentiality; and
 - (b) to be afforded appropriate care and treatment, and to have his or her dignity respected, without any discrimination other than that reasonably necessary to protect public health; and
 - (c) insofar as is reasonably practicable and appropriate, to be given a reasonable opportunity to participate in decision-making processes that relate to the person on an individual basis, and to be given reasons for any decisions made on such a basis; and
 - (d) to be allowed to decide freely for himself or herself on an informed basis whether or not to undergo medical treatment or, in a case involving a child under the age of 16 years, to have his or her parent or guardian allowed to decide freely on an informed basis whether or not the child should undergo medical treatment; and
 - (e) to be subject to restrictions (if any) that are proportionate to any risks presented to others (taking into account the nature of the disease or medical condition, the person's state of health, the person's behaviour or proposed or threatened behaviours, and any other relevant factor); and
 - (f) that the least restrictive means necessary to prevent the spread of disease be adopted when isolating or quarantining a person at the person's home or on other premises under this Act; and
 - (g) that his or her needs, including, but not limited to the provision of—
 - (i) adequate food, clothing, shelter and medical care; and
 - (ii) a telephone or other appropriate method by which the person may communicate with others,will be addressed in a reasonable and competent manner to the extent that the person is unable or restricted in his or her own capacity to meet such needs; and
 - (h) that any premises at which the person must reside as a result of an order, direction or requirement (other than the person's home), are—
 - (i) maintained according to safe and hygienic standards; and
 - (ii) to the extent possible, maintained in a way that is respectful to the person's cultural and religious beliefs; and
 - (iii) designed or managed to minimise the likelihood that—
 - (A) infection may be transmitted; and
 - (B) the person may be subjected to harm or further harm.
- (6) Any requirement restricting the liberty of a person should not be imposed unless it is the only effective way remaining to ensure that the health of the public is not endangered or likely to be endangered.

- (7) Without limiting subsection (6), if a power is to be exercised under Part 10 or Part 11, so far as is reasonably practicable, the power that least infringes on the rights of individuals must be the power that is exercised, unless to do so would involve the use of measures that are likely to be less effective in protecting or minimising risk to public health.
- (8) Any requirement restricting the liberty of 2 or more members of the 1 family should ensure, so far as is desirable and reasonably practicable and so far as is appropriate to the requirements for the protection of public health, that the family members reside at the same place.
- (9) If a requirement restricting the liberty of a person is imposed, all reasonably practicable steps must be taken to ensure that the person's next of kin, or a nominated person, is informed (unless the person to whom the requirement relates instructs otherwise).

15—Guidelines

- (1) The Minister may, from time to time, prepare or adopt guidelines that relate to the application of these principles.
- (2) The Minister should take reasonable steps to consult with SAPHC and the LGA in the preparation of any guidelines, or before adopting any guidelines, under subsection (1).
- (3) SAPHC may, as it thinks fit, request the Minister to develop guidelines with respect to a particular matter or matters.
- (4) A person or body involved in the administration of this Act must have regard to any relevant guidelines under this section.

16—Interaction with other Acts

- (1) Except as specifically provided by this Act, the provisions of this Act are in addition to, and do not limit, the provisions of any other law of the State.
- (2) Without limiting the generality of subsection (1), this Act is not intended to be construed so as to prevent any person from being prosecuted under any other enactment for an offence that is also punishable by this Act, or from being liable under any other law of the State to any penalty or punishment that is higher than a penalty or punishment provided by this Act.

 - (21) A council or council subsidiary must, when performing functions or exercising powers under this or any other Act, insofar as may be relevant and reasonable, have regard to the State Public Health Plan, any regional public health plan that applies within the relevant area and any other requirement of the Minister, and in particular must give consideration to the question whether it should implement changes to the manner in which, or the means by which, it performs a function or exercises a power or undertakes any other activity that has been identified in the State Public Health Plan as requiring change.
 - (22) A public health partner authority must, when performing a function that is relevant to the State Public Health Plan or a regional public health plan, insofar as is relevant and reasonable, have regard to the provision of the plans.

- (2) A policy may do 1 or more of the following:
 - (a) specify matters that are to be taken to constitute risks to public health for the purposes of this Act;
 - (b) specify the scope of the duty under Part 6 in specified cases or circumstances (including so as to specify that a breach of the policy will be taken to be a breach of that duty);
 - (c) set out or establish standards that are to apply to any activity, condition, equipment or circumstance in order to prevent or manage a risk to public health;
 - (d) provide for other measures or matters that are relevant to promoting or achieving an improvement in public health in the State.
- (3) A policy may adopt, wholly or partially and with or without modification, a standard or other document prepared or published by another person or body, either as in force at the time that the policy is made or as in force from time to time.
- (4) A policy may—
 - (a) be of general or limited application (including so as to apply only to a specified part of the State); or

 - (c) by public notice, give notice of the place or places at which copies of the draft are available (without charge) and purchase and invite interested persons to make written representations on the proposal within a period specified by the Minister.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if the Minister considers that urgent action is required in the circumstances but, in such a case, the Minister must, within 3 months after the publication of the policy or any amendment, initiate the consultation requirements of subsection (1) as if the policy or amendment were a draft proposal.
- (3) An amendment to a policy arising from consultation under subsection (2) may be given effect by the Minister without the need for further consultation.
- (4) A policy, or an amendment to a policy, will take effect when published by the Minister in accordance with the regulations.

- (2) If either House of Parliament—
 - (a) passes a resolution disallowing a policy laid before it under subsection (1), then the policy ceases to have effect;
 - (b) passes a resolution disallowing an amendment laid before it under subsection (1), then the amendment ceases to have effect (and the relevant policy will, from that time, apply as if it had not been amended by that amendment).
- (3) A resolution is not effective for the purposes of subsection (2) unless passed in pursuance of a notice of motion given within 14 sitting days (which need not fall within the same session of Parliament) after the day on which the policy or amendment (as the case may be) is laid before the House.
- (4) If a resolution is passed under subsection (2), notice of that resolution must forthwith be published in the Gazette.

 - (b) any environmental, social, economic or practicable implications; and
 - (c) any degrees of risk that may be involved; and
 - (d) the nature, extent and duration of any harm; and

- (4) Subject to subsections (5) and (6), a person who breaches subsection (1) is not, on account of the breach alone, liable to any civil or criminal action.
- (5) If a person breaches subsection (1), compliance with the subsection may be enforced by the issuing of a notice under Part 12.
- (6) Subsection (4) does not limit or derogate from any other provision of this Act.

Part 7—General public health offences

57—Material risk to public health

- (1) A person who causes a material risk to public health intentionally or recklessly and with the knowledge that harm to public health will result is guilty of an offence.
Maximum penalty: $250 000 or imprisonment for 5 years or both.

58—Serious risk to public health

- (1) A person who causes a serious risk to public health intentionally or recklessly and with the knowledge that harm to public health will result is guilty of an offence.
Maximum penalty: $1 000 000 or imprisonment for 10 years or both.

- (3) A person who causes a serious risk to public health is guilty of an offence.
Maximum penalty: $120 000.
- (4) For the purposes of this section, a serious risk to public health occurs if there is a material risk that substantial injury or harm to the health of 1 or more persons has occurred, or might reasonably be expected to have occurred, taking into account—
 - (a) the nature, scale and effects of the harm, and any associated illness, injury or disability, that may arise; and
 - (b) the location, immediacy and seriousness of the threat to human health; and
 - (c) whether the harm extends to 2 or more persons and, if so, the total number of persons affected or likely to be affected; and
 - (d) the availability and effectiveness of any precaution, safeguard, treatment or other measure that may be used to eliminate or reduce the harm.

59—Defence of due diligence

- (1) In any proceedings against a person for an offence under this Part, it is a defence to prove that the person took all reasonable precautions and exercised all due diligence to prevent the commission of the offence.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), it is not proved that a person took all reasonable precautions and exercised all due diligence to prevent the commission of the offence under this Part unless it is proved that the person—

 - (b) complied with the requirements of any notice or order under this Act that related to the risk to public health; and

- (3) This section does not apply in relation to a person who is charged with an offence under section 106.

60—Alternative finding

If in proceedings for an offence against this Part the court is not satisfied that the defendant is guilty of the offence charged but is satisfied that the defendant is guilty of an offence against this Part that carries a lower maximum penalty (determined according to relative maximum monetary penalties), the court may find the defendant guilty of the latter offence.

Part 8—Prevention of non-communicable conditions

 - (a) does not prevent the disease or medical condition the subject of the declaration being declared to be a notifiable condition by the regulations; and
 - (b) does not prevent the disease or medical condition being the subject of a further declaration of the Minister if the Minister considers that urgent circumstances again warrant the declaration of the disease or medical condition to be a notifiable condition.

Part 10—Controlled notifiable conditions

Division 1—Preliminary

69—Principles

The principles set out in section 14 have particular application to this Part.

70—Declaration of controlled notifiable conditions

- (1) The regulations may declare a disease or medical condition to be a controlled notifiable condition.
- (2) The Minister may, if he or she considers it to be necessary in the interests of public health because of urgent circumstances, by notice in the Gazette, declare a disease or medical condition to be a controlled notifiable condition.
- (3) A regulation or declaration under subsection (1) or (2) may be varied from time to time, or may be revoked, but a declaration of the Minister under subsection (2) will, unless revoked sooner, expire 6 months after publication in the Gazette.
- (4) The revocation or expiry of a declaration of the Minister—
 - (a) does not prevent the disease or medical condition the subject of the declaration being declared to be a controlled notifiable condition by the regulations; and

- (b) does not prevent the disease or medical condition being the subject of a further declaration of the Minister if the Minister considers that urgent circumstances again warrant the declaration of the disease or medical condition to be a controlled notifiable condition.

71—Chief Public Health Officer to be able to act in other serious cases

- (1) In this section—
 - serious disease*, in relation to a particular person, means a disease—
 - (a) which is, or may be, infectious; and
 - (b) which the Chief Public Health Officer reasonably believes to present a serious risk to public health.
- (2) This section applies to a person if—
 - (a) the Chief Public Health Officer has reason to believe that the person (the relevant person) has, or has been exposed to, a serious disease; and
 - (b) the disease is not a controlled notifiable condition; and
 - (c) the Chief Public Health Officer determines that it is appropriate for action to be taken under this section; and
 - (d) the Chief Public Health Officer serves notice of the determination on the relevant person.
- (3) In a case where this section applies—
 - (a) the serious disease will, in relation to the relevant person, be taken to be a controlled notifiable condition; and
 - (b) the Chief Public Health Officer may take action under this Part in relation to the relevant person as if the person had a controlled notifiable condition.
- (4) This section will cease to apply to a relevant person—
 - (a) if the Chief Public Health Officer revokes his or her determination under subsection (2)(c); or
 - (b) at the expiration of 28 days from service of the notice under subsection (2)(d); or
 - (c) if the serious disease is declared to be a controlled notifiable condition under this Part,whichever first occurs.
- (5) The fact that this section ceases to apply to a person—
 - (a) does not effect any order, requirement or direction that applies in relation to the person immediately before the time that this section ceases to apply if the serious disease that gave rise to the application of this section has been declared to be a controlled notifiable condition under this Division (and is a controlled notifiable condition at the time that the section ceases to apply); and

- (b) does not prevent the section applying to the person again if the Chief Public Health Officer has a reason to believe that the person is again suffering from, or has been exposed to, another serious disease (and the other requirements of subsection (2) are satisfied).

72—Children

- (1) If a requirement is imposed under this Part in relation to a child—
 - (a) a parent or guardian of the child who is aware of the requirement must take such steps as are reasonably necessary and available to achieve compliance with the requirement; and
 - (b) any requirement to serve any notice or other document will be satisfied if service is effected on a parent or guardian of the child.
- (2) The regulations may make other modifications to the operation of this Part in relation to its application to children (and those modifications will have effect according to their terms).
- (3) A person who fails to comply with subsection (1)(a) is guilty of an offence.
Maximum penalty: $25 000.
- (4) In this section—
 - child* means a person under 16 years of age;
 - parent* includes a person in loco parentis.

Division 2—Controls

73—Power to require a person to undergo an examination or test

- (1) The Chief Public Health Officer may impose a requirement under this section if subsection (2) or (3) applies.
- (2) This subsection applies if the Chief Public Health Officer has reasonable grounds to believe—
 - (a) that a person has a controlled notifiable condition and the person presents, has presented, or is likely to present, a risk to health through the transmission of a disease constituting that condition; or
 - (b) that an incident has occurred or a circumstance has arisen in which a person could have been exposed to, or could have contracted, a controlled notifiable condition.
- (3) This subsection applies if—
 - (a) an incident has occurred or a circumstance has arisen, while a caregiver or custodian is acting in that capacity, in which, if any of those involved were infected by a disease constituting a controlled notifiable condition, the disease could be transmitted to the caregiver or custodian; and

- (b) the Chief Public Health Officer has reasonable grounds to believe that the imposition of a requirement under this section is necessary in the interests of a rapid diagnosis and, if appropriate, treatment of any person involved in the incident or connected with the circumstance (whether or not as a caregiver or custodian).
- (4) However, the Chief Public Health Officer should not act under this section unless the Chief Public Health Officer considers—
- (a) that the person has been given a reasonable opportunity to undertake an examination or testing of the kind that will be subject to a requirement under this section but has failed to do so; or
- (b) that the imposition of a requirement under this section is reasonably necessary for the purposes of a rapid diagnosis and, if appropriate, treatment of the relevant person.
- (5) A requirement that may be imposed on a person under this section is that the person—
- (a) present himself or herself at such place and time as may be specified by the Chief Public Health Officer in order to undergo a clinical examination or to undertake (or be the subject of) tests, or both; and
- (b) comply with any requirement imposed by a person who may conduct the examination or carry out the tests.
- (6) Subsection (4)(a) does not apply if the person is unconscious or the Chief Public Health Officer considers that the person does not have the capacity to consent to an examination or testing of the relevant kind.
- (7) If the person is unconscious, subsection (5) is modified so as to allow the Chief Public Health Officer to arrange a clinical examination or tests (or both) for the person.
- (8) A requirement will be imposed by service of an order on the person (unless the person is unconscious).
- (9) The testing that may be undertaken under this section may include the provision or taking of a sample of blood, urine or other biological specimen.
- (10) If—
- (a) a person is examined or subject to any test under this section; and
- (b) the examination and any test disclose that the person does not have a controlled notifiable condition,
- the person is entitled to reasonable reimbursement from the Department for costs and expenses directly incurred by the person in attending for the examination and any test.
- (11) An amount payable under subsection (10) may be recovered as a debt.
- (12) The Chief Public Health Officer is entitled to be provided with a report on the outcome of any examination or test conducted under this section (and a person who conducted the examination or test must, at the request of the Chief Public Health Officer, furnish the Chief Public Health Officer with such a report).
- (13) In this section—
- caregiver or custodian means—
- (a) a person who is employed by, or performs work at, a health service; or

- (b) a person who provides, or who is associated with the provision of, any medical service or other form of service designed to benefit human health; or repealed Act means the Public and Environmental Health Act 1987.

In this Part—

13—Appeals

- (1) An appeal under section 25 of the repealed Act will, after the commencement of this clause—
 - (a) lie to the South Australian Public Health Council constituted under this Act rather than the Public and Environmental Health Council constituted under the repealed Act; and
 - (b) be heard and determined by the Public Health Review Panel constituted under this Act (with 3 members constituting the Review Panel and 2 members constituting a quorum) rather than a review committee constituted by the Council under the repealed Act.
- (2) A reference in Part 3 Division 5 of the repealed Act to the Council will be taken to include a reference to SAPHC acting under subclause (1)(a) and a reference in that Division to a review committee will be taken to include a reference to the Review Panel acting under subclause (1)(b).

To avoid doubt, nothing in this Act affects the operation of a direction under section 33 of the repealed Act in force immediately before the commencement of this clause (and that section will continue to apply to and in relation to a person who is subject to a direction under that section until the direction no longer has effect under that section).
