(2) When any will or codicil which has been partly revoked and afterwards wholly revoked is revived, the revival does not extend to so much of the will or codicil as was revoked before the revocation of the whole of it unless an intention to the contrary is shown.

Division 7—Rectification of wills

(3) Nothing in this section affects the operation of section 29 of the Trustee Act 1936.

Part 3—Validity of wills made outside the State

25A—Interpretation and application

(1) In this Part—

- country means any place or group of places having its own law of nationality (including the Commonwealth of Australia and its territories);
- internal law in relation to any country or place means the law which would apply in a case where no question of the law in force in any other country or place arose;
- place means any territory (including a State or Territory of the Commonwealth of Australia).

(2) Where under this Act the internal law in force in any country or place is to be applied in the case of a will, but there are in force in that country or place two or more systems of internal law relating to the formal validity of wills, the system to be applied must be ascertained as follows:

   (a) if there is in force throughout the country or place a rule indicating which of those systems can properly be applied in the case in question, that rule must be followed; or

   (b) if there is no such rule, the system will be that with which the testator was most closely connected at the relevant time and for this purpose the relevant time is the time of the testator's death where the matter is to be determined by reference to circumstances prevailing at his or her death and the time of execution of the will in any other case.

(3) In determining for the purposes of this Act whether or not the execution of a will conformed to a particular law, regard must be had to the formal requirements of that law at the time of execution, but this does not prevent account being taken of an alteration of law affecting wills executed at that time if the alteration enables the will to be treated as properly executed.

(4) This Part does not apply to a will of a testator who died before the commencement of the Wills Act Amendment Act 1966 and does apply to a will of a testator who dies after that commencement whether the will was executed before or after that commencement.

(5) Where (whether in pursuance of this Act or not) a law in force outside the State falls to be applied in relation to a will, any requirement of that law whereby special formalities are to be observed by testators answering a particular description, or witnesses to the execution of a will are to possess certain qualifications, will be treated, notwithstanding any rule of that law to the contrary, as a formal requirement only.
25B—General rule as to formal validity

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, a will is to be treated as properly executed for all purposes if its execution conformed to the internal law in force in the place where it was executed, or in the place where, at the time of its execution or of the testator's death, he or she was domiciled or had his or her habitual residence, or in a country of which, at either of those times, he or she was a national.

25C—Additional rules

Without limiting the generality of section 25B, the following wills are to be treated as properly executed for the purpose of being admitted in the State to probate:

(a) a will executed on board a vessel or aircraft of any description, if the execution of the will conformed to the internal law in force in the place with which, having regard to its registration (if any) and other relevant circumstances, the vessel or aircraft may be taken to have been most closely connected;

(b) a will so far as it disposes of immovable property if its execution conformed to the internal law in force in the country or place where the property was situated;

(c) a will so far as it revokes a will which under this Act would be treated as properly executed or revokes a provision which under this Act would be treated as comprised in a properly executed will if the execution of the later will conformed to any law by reference to which the revoked will or provision would be so treated;

(d) a will so far as it exercises a power or appointment if the execution of the will conformed to the law governing the essential validity of the power.

25D—Validity of statutory wills made outside the State

(1) A statutory will made according to the law of the place where the deceased was resident at the time of execution will be regarded as a valid will of the deceased.

(2) In this section—

statutory will means a will executed by virtue of a statutory provision on behalf of a person who, at the time of execution, lacked testamentary capacity.

25J—Application of Act to international wills

To avoid doubt, the provisions of this Act that apply to wills extend to international wills.

Part 4—Construction of wills

26—When a devise not to be rendered inoperative etc

No conveyance or other act made or done subsequently to the execution of a will of or relating to any real or personal estate comprised in the will except an act by which the will is revoked as aforesaid prevents the operation of the will with respect to such estate or interest in that real or personal estate as the testator had power to dispose of by will at the time of his or her death.

27—A will to speak from the death of the testator

Every will is to be construed with reference to the real estate and personal estate comprised in it to speak and take effect as if it had been executed immediately before the death of the testator unless a contrary intention appears by the will.
28—What a residuary devise includes

Unless a contrary intention appears by the will, any real estate or interest in real estate comprised or intended to be comprised in any devise in a will, which devise fails or is void by reason of the death of the devisee in the lifetime of the testator or by reason of the devise being contrary to law or otherwise incapable of taking effect, will be included in the residuary devise (if any) contained in the will.

29—What estates a general devise includes

A devise of the land of the testator or of the land of the testator in any place or in the occupation of any person mentioned in his or her will or otherwise described in a general manner, and any other general devise which would describe a leasehold estate if the testator had no freehold estate which could be described by it, is to be construed to include the leasehold estates of the testator or his or her leasehold estates or any of them to which such description extends, as the case may be, as well as freehold estates, unless a contrary intention appears by the will.

30—What property subject to a power of appointment a general gift includes

(1) A general devise of the real estate of the testator in any place or in the occupation of any person mentioned in the testator's will or otherwise described in a general manner is to be construed to include any real estate or any real estate to which the description extends (as the case may be) which the testator has power to appoint in any manner he or she may think proper and operates as an execution of that power unless a contrary intention appears by the will.

(2) In like manner a bequest of the personal estate of the testator or any bequest of personal property described in a general manner is to be construed to include any personal estate or any personal estate to which the description extends (as the case may be) which the testator has power to appoint in any manner he or she may think proper and operates as an execution of that power unless a contrary intention appears by the will.

31—How a devise without words of limitation is to be construed

Where any real estate is devised to any person without any words of limitation, that devise is to be construed to pass the whole estate or interest (whether the fee simple or any other estate or interest), which the testator had power to dispose of by will in that real estate unless a contrary intention appears by the will.

32—How the words "die without issue" or "die without leaving issue" are to be construed

(1) In any devise or bequest of real or personal estate the words "die without issue" or "die without leaving issue" or "have no issue" or any other words which may import either a want or failure of issue of any person in his or her lifetime or at the time of his or her death, or an indefinite failure of his or her issue are to be construed to mean a want or failure of issue in the lifetime or at the time of death of that person and not an indefinite failure of his or her issue unless a contrary intention appears by the will by reason of that person having a prior estate tail or of a preceding gift being without any implication arising from such words a limitation of an estate tail to that person or issue or otherwise.
(2) This section does not extend to cases where the words mentioned in subsection (1) import if no issue described in a preceding gift is born or if there is no issue who lives to attain the age or otherwise answer the description required for obtaining a vested estate by a preceding gift to such issue.

33—No devise to trustees or executors etc operates to pass a chattel interest

Where any real estate is devised to any trustee or executor that devise is to be construed to pass the whole estate or interest (whether the fee simple or any other estate or interest), which the testator had power to dispose of by will in that real estate unless a definite term of years absolute or determinable or an estate of freehold is thereby given to him or her expressly or by implication.

34—Trustees under an unlimited devise etc to take the fee

Where any real estate is devised to a trustee without any express limitation of the estate to be taken by the trustee and the beneficial interest in the real estate or in the surplus rents and profits of the real estate is not given to any person for life or that beneficial interest is given to any person for life but the purposes of the trust may continue beyond the life of that person, that devise is to be construed to vest in the trustee the whole legal estate (whether the fee simple or any other estate) which the testator had power to dispose of by will in that real estate and not an estate determinable when the purposes of the trust are satisfied.

35—Devises of estates tail do not lapse

Where any person to whom any real estate is devised for an estate tail or an estate in quasi entail, dies in the lifetime of the testator leaving issue who would be heritable under the entail and any such issue are living at the time of the death of the testator, the devise does not lapse but takes effect as if the death of that person had happened immediately after the death of the testator unless a contrary intention appears by the will.

36—Gifts to children or other issue who leave issue living at the testator's death do not lapse

Where any person being a child or other issue of the testator to whom any real or personal estate is devised or bequeathed for any estate or interest not determinable at or before the death of that person dies in the lifetime of the testator leaving issue and any such issue of that person is living at the time of the death of the testator, the devise or bequest does not lapse, but takes effect as if the death of that person had happened immediately after the death of the testator unless a contrary intention appears by the will.

37—Validity of certain wills

Nothing in section 13, 14 or 23 invalidates any will or other testamentary instrument as regards personal estate which would have been valid if those sections had not been passed, except as that will or other testamentary instrument may be revoked or altered by any subsequent will or testamentary instrument made valid by those sections.
38—References to valuations made or accepted for succession duty purposes etc to be construed, where appropriate, as references to valuations made by competent valuers

Where a will refers expressly or by implication to a valuation made or accepted for the purpose of assessing succession duty or any other form of death duty, that reference is, if the valuation contemplated by the reference is not required under the law of this State or of any other place, to be construed as if it were a reference to a valuation made by a competent valuer.

2 The invalidity of the will as an international will shall not affect its formal validity as a will of another kind.

Article 2

This law shall not apply to the form of testamentary dispositions made by two or more persons in one instrument.

Article 3

the authorized person. In addition, each sheet shall be numbered.

Article 7

1 The date of the will shall be the date of its signature by the authorized person.
2 This date shall be noted at the end of the will by the authorized person.

Article 8

In the absence of any mandatory rule pertaining to the safekeeping of the will, the authorized person shall ask the testator whether he wishes to make a declaration concerning the safekeeping of his will. If so and at the express request of the testator the place where he intends to have his will kept shall be mentioned in the certificate provided for in Article 9.
