12—Substitution of sections 12A and 13

Sections 12A and 13—delete the sections and substitute:

12A—Warning relating to uncorroborated evidence of child in criminal proceedings

- (1) In a criminal trial, a judge must not warn the jury that it is unsafe to convict on a child's uncorroborated evidence unless—
 - (a) the warning is warranted because there are, in the circumstances of the particular case, cogent reasons, apart from the fact that the witness is a child, to doubt the reliability of the child's evidence; and
 - (b) a party asks that the warning be given.
- (2) In giving any such warning, the judge is not to make any suggestion that the evidence of children is inherently less credible or reliable, or requires more careful scrutiny, than the evidence of adults.

13—Special arrangements for protecting witnesses from embarrassment, distress, etc when giving evidence

- (1) Subject to this section, if—
 - (a) it is desirable to make special arrangements for taking evidence from a witness in a trial in order to protect the witness from embarrassment or distress, to protect the witness from being intimidated by the atmosphere of the courtroom or for any other proper reason; and
 - (b) the facilities necessary for the special arrangements are readily available to the court and it is otherwise practicable to make the special arrangements; and
 - (c) the special arrangements can be made without prejudice to any party to the proceedings, the court should, on its own initiative, order that special arrangements be made for taking the evidence of the witness.

- (2) Without limiting the kind of order that may be made under this section, the court may make 1 or more of the following orders:
- (a) an order that the evidence be given outside the trial court and transmitted to the trial court by means of closed circuit television;
 - (b) an order that the evidence be taken outside the trial court, and that an audio visual record of the evidence be made and replayed in the trial court;
 - (c) an order that a screen, partition or one-way glass be placed to obscure the view of a party to whom the evidence relates or some other person;
 - (d) an order that a defendant be excluded from the place where the evidence is taken, or otherwise be prevented from directly seeing and hearing the witness while giving evidence;
 - (e) an order that the witness be accompanied by a relative or friend for the purpose of providing emotional support;
 - (f) if the witness suffers from a physical or mental disability—
an order that the evidence be taken in a particular way (to be specified by the court) that will, in the court's opinion, facilitate the taking of evidence from the witness or minimise the witness's embarrassment or distress.
- (3) The court may, if of the opinion that expert evidence would assist the court to determine the special arrangements that should be made for taking the evidence of the witness, receive such evidence and, if the native language of the witness is not English and the witness is not reasonably fluent in English, evidence about any additional difficulty that may be caused by the witness giving evidence through an interpreter.
- (4) Special arrangements made under this section may relate to the witness's evidence as a whole or to particular aspects of the witness's evidence, such as cross-examination and re-examination.
- (5) An order must not be made under this section if the effect of the order would be—
- (a) to relieve a witness from the obligation to give sworn evidence; or
 - (b) to relieve a witness from the obligation to submit to cross-examination; or
 - (c) to prevent the judge, jury or defendant from observing the witness's demeanour in giving evidence (but the observation may be direct or by live transmission of the witness's voice and image or by replay of a recording of the witness's voice and image); or

- (d) to prevent the defendant from instructing counsel while the witness is giving evidence.
- (6) If a witness is accompanied by a relative or friend for the purpose of providing emotional support, that person must be visible to the judge and jury (if any) while the witness is giving evidence and, if, in consequence of an order under this section, a party is prevented from seeing that person directly while the witness gives evidence, the court must ensure that the party is able to observe that person either—
 - (a) by direct transmission of images of the witness together with that person while the witness is giving evidence; or
 - (b) by the later replay of a recording of images of the witness together with that person made while the witness was giving evidence.
- (7) If, in a criminal trial, a court makes special arrangements for taking the evidence of a witness, the judge must warn the jury not to draw from that fact any inference adverse to the defendant, and not to allow the special arrangements to influence the weight to be given to the evidence.
- (8) An order under this section may be made, varied or revoked on the court's own initiative, or on the application of a party or witness.

13A—Special arrangements for protecting vulnerable witnesses when giving evidence in criminal proceedings

- (1) Subject to this section, if—
 - (a) a vulnerable witness is to give evidence in criminal proceedings; and
 - (b) the facilities necessary for the special arrangements are readily available to the court and it is otherwise practicable to make the special arrangements; and
 - (c) the special arrangements can be made without prejudice to any party to the proceedings,the court must, on application under this section, order that special arrangements be made for taking the evidence of the witness.
- (2) Without limiting the kind of order that may be made under this section, the court may make 1 or more of the following orders:
 - (a) an order that the evidence be given outside the trial court and transmitted to the trial court by means of closed circuit television;
 - (b) an order that the evidence be taken outside the trial court, and that an audio visual record of the evidence be made and replayed in the trial court;

- (c) an order that a screen, partition or one-way glass be placed to obscure the view of a party to whom the evidence relates or some other person;
 - (d) an order that a defendant be excluded from the place where the evidence is taken, or otherwise be prevented from directly seeing and hearing the vulnerable witness while giving evidence;
 - (e) an order that the vulnerable witness be accompanied by a relative or friend for the purpose of providing emotional support;
 - (f) if the vulnerable witness suffers from a physical or mental disability—an order that the evidence be taken in a particular way (to be specified by the court) that will, in the court's opinion, facilitate the taking of evidence from the witness or minimise the witness's embarrassment or distress.
- (3) Special arrangements made under this section may relate to the vulnerable witness's evidence as a whole or to particular aspects of the witness's evidence, such as cross-examination and re-examination.
- (4) An order must not be made under this section if the effect of the order would be—
- (a) to relieve a vulnerable witness from the obligation to give sworn evidence; or
 - (b) to relieve a vulnerable witness from the obligation to submit to cross-examination; or
 - (c) to prevent the judge, jury or defendant from observing the vulnerable witness's demeanour in giving evidence (but the observation may be direct or by live transmission of the witness's voice and image or by replay of a recording of the witness's voice and image); or
 - (d) to prevent the defendant from instructing counsel while the vulnerable witness is giving evidence.
- (5) If a vulnerable witness is accompanied by a relative or friend for the purpose of providing emotional support, that person must be visible to the judge and jury (if any) while the witness is giving evidence and, if, in consequence of an order under this section, a party is prevented from seeing that person directly while the witness gives evidence, the court must ensure that the party is able to observe that person either—
- (a) by direct transmission of images of the witness together with that person while the witness is giving evidence; or
 - (b) by the later replay of a recording of images of the witness together with that person made while the witness was giving evidence.

- (6) An application for an order under this section must—
 - (a) be made in writing by the party calling the vulnerable witness to give evidence; and
 - (b) be filed in the court before the commencement of the trial; and
 - (c) within 14 days of being filed in the court—be served on the other party to the proceedings (the respondent); and
 - (d) specify the nature of the vulnerability of the witness, the special arrangements sought and the reasons for the arrangements; and
 - (e) otherwise be made in accordance with the rules of court.
- (7) The respondent may, if of the opinion that the witness on whose behalf the application has been made is not in fact a vulnerable witness, within 14 days of being served with the application (the prescribed period), file an answering document in the court objecting to the application on that ground.
- (8) If an objection to the application is filed within the prescribed period, the court must determine the application before the commencement of the trial—
 - (a) in the absence of the applicant and respondent; or
 - (b) by conducting a hearing in a room closed to the public.
- (9) The court may, if of the opinion that expert evidence would assist the court to determine the special arrangements that should be made for taking the evidence of the vulnerable witness, receive such evidence and, if the native language of the witness is not English and the witness is not reasonably fluent in English, evidence about any additional difficulty that may be caused by the witness giving evidence through an interpreter.
- (10) If no objection to the application is filed within the prescribed period, the court may order that appropriate special arrangements be made for taking the evidence of the vulnerable witness at the trial.
- (11) The court—
 - (a) may dispense with special arrangements for taking the evidence of a vulnerable witness in criminal proceedings if—
 - (i) the witness is an adult; and
 - (ii) the court is satisfied that—
 - (A) the facilities necessary for the special arrangements are not readily available to the court; and
 - (B) taking into account the following matters, it is not reasonably practicable to make the facilities available:

- the cost, inconvenience and delay involved in procuring the necessary facilities or in adjourning to some other place where the necessary facilities are available;
 - the urgency of the proceedings; and
- (b) must give reasons for its decision.
- (12) If, in a criminal trial, a court makes special arrangements for taking the evidence of a vulnerable witness, the judge must warn the jury not to draw from that fact any inference adverse to the defendant, and not to allow the special arrangements to influence the weight to be given to the evidence.
- (13) An order under this section may be made, varied or revoked on the court's own initiative, or on the application of a party to the proceedings.

13B—Cross-examination of victims of certain offences

- (1) A defendant is not to be permitted to cross-examine a witness who is the alleged victim of an offence to which this section applies—
- (a) in a criminal trial unless the cross-examination is by counsel;
 - (b) in civil proceedings relating to the offence unless—
 - (i) the cross-examination is by counsel; or
 - (ii) if the defendant is not legally represented in the proceedings—the cross-examination is conducted in accordance with subsection (2).
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b)(ii)—
- (a) the defendant must submit to the judge in writing the questions the defendant intends to ask the witness in cross-examination; and
 - (b) the judge (or the judge's delegate) will ask the witness those of the questions submitted that are determined by the judge to be allowable in cross-examination.
- (3) If a defendant is not legally represented in a criminal trial that will involve the taking of evidence from any such witness, the court must ensure that the defendant—
- (a) has been warned of the limitation on the right of cross-examination imposed by this section; and
 - (b) has been informed—
 - (i) that he or she may be entitled to legal assistance under the Legal Services Commission Act 1977;

- (ii) in any case—of his or her rights under the Criminal Law (Legal Representation) Act 2001 to obtain the assistance of counsel for the purpose of cross-examining the witness; and
 - (c) has had a reasonable opportunity to obtain the assistance of counsel before the evidence is taken.
- (4) If, in a criminal trial, an unrepresented defendant obtains the assistance of counsel for the purpose of cross-examining such a witness, the judge must—
 - (a) explain to the jury the limitation imposed by this section on the defendant's right to personally cross-examine the witness; and
 - (b) warn the jury that no adverse inference may be drawn against the defendant from the requirement for the unrepresented defendant to obtain the assistance of counsel to cross-examine the witness.
- (5) In this section—

offence to which this section applies means—

 - (a) a serious offence against the person; or
 - (b) an offence of contravening or failing to comply with a domestic violence restraining order under the Domestic Violence Act 1994; or
 - (c) an offence of contravening or failing to comply with a restraining order under the Summary Procedure Act 1921.

13C—Court's power to make audio visual record of evidence of vulnerable witnesses in criminal proceedings

- (1) If a vulnerable witness is to give evidence in criminal proceedings, the following provisions apply:
 - (a) in the case of a vulnerable witness who is a child of or under the age of 16 years and who is the alleged victim of a sexual offence—the court must order that an audio visual record be made of the witness's evidence before the court (unless an order has already been made in respect of the witness's evidence under section 13A(2)(b));
 - (b) in the case of any other vulnerable witness—the court may, on application by the prosecution, order that an audio visual record be made of the witness's evidence before the court if—
 - (i) the facilities necessary for making an audio visual record of the evidence are readily available to the court; and
 - (ii) it is otherwise practicable to make such a record.

- (2) Subject to subsection (3), an audio visual record of evidence (whether made by order under this section or section 13A(2)(b)) is to be kept in the custody of the court and access to the record is to be restricted to court officials who are responsible for its custody.
- (3) The court (or a superior court) may authorise a person to take custody of the audio visual record of evidence, or to have some other form of access to it, if satisfied that the custody or access is reasonably necessary for the purposes of related proceedings that have been commenced or are in contemplation.
- (4) Despite any other law, access to an audio visual record of evidence is not to be allowed except as provided by this section.

13D—Court's power to admit evidence taken in earlier proceedings

- (1) If, on application by a party to civil or criminal proceedings before a court, the court is satisfied that—
 - (a) evidence given by a witness in earlier criminal proceedings is relevant to the proceedings before the court; and
 - (b) the witness—
 - (i) has died; or
 - (ii) has become too ill or infirm to give evidence; or
 - (iii) has not, after diligent search, been found; or
 - (iv) is a vulnerable witness, the court in the later proceedings has a discretion to admit an official record of the evidence.

- (2) An official record of evidence is a record made at the direction or with the approval of the court before which the evidence was taken and, if an audio or audio visual record of the evidence was taken at the direction or with the approval of the court, in addition to a written transcript, the official record of evidence includes the audio or audio visual record.
- (3) Before the court admits an official record into evidence in proceedings under this section, the record must be edited—
 - (a) as agreed between the parties to those proceedings so as to exclude material that is not relevant to those proceedings; and
 - (b) so as to exclude evidence that is inadmissible in those proceedings for any other reason.
- (4) If the court admits an official record into evidence under this section, it may relieve the witness, wholly or in part, from an obligation to give evidence in the later proceedings.

13—Amendment of section 21—Competence and compellability of witnesses

Section 21(7), definitions of domestic partner and spouse—delete the definitions

14—Substitution of section 25

Section 25—delete the section and substitute:

25—Disallowance of improper questions

- (1) A question is an improper question if—
 - (a) the question is misleading or confusing; or
 - (b) the question is apparently based on a stereotype, including a sexual, racial, ethnic or cultural stereotype or a stereotype based on age or physical or mental disability; or
 - (c) the question is unnecessarily repetitive, offensive or oppressive, or is 1 of a series of questions that is unnecessarily repetitive, offensive or oppressive; or
 - (d) the question is put in a humiliating, insulting or otherwise inappropriate manner or tone.
- (2) A question is not, however, improper only because—
 - (a) it challenges the truthfulness of the witness, or the consistency or accuracy of statements made by the witness; or
 - (b) it deals with matters the witness would find distasteful or intrudes on the witness's privacy.
- (3) If an improper question is put to a witness in cross-examination, the court must—
 - (a) disallow the question; and
 - (b) inform the witness that the question need not be answered.
- (4) In determining whether a question is improper, the court may take into account—
 - (a) the age, personality and educational level of the witness; and
 - (b) any mental or physical disabilities to which the witness is subject; and
 - (c) the witness's ethnic and cultural background; and
 - (d) any other characteristics of the witness that may be relevant; and
 - (e) the context in which the question is put, including—
 - (i) the nature of the proceedings and, if the proceedings are criminal proceedings, the nature of the offence to which they relate; and
 - (ii) the relationship (if any) between the witness and a party to the proceedings; and

- (f) any other relevant factor.
- (5) The failure to exercise the discretion in relation to a question does not affect the admissibility of any answer given in response to the question.

15—Insertion of heading to Part 3 Division 1

Before section 30 insert:

Division 1—Miscellaneous rules of evidence in general cases

16—Substitution of section 34CA

Section 34CA—delete the section and substitute:

34CA—Statement of protected witness

- (1) A court may admit evidence of the nature and contents of a statement made outside the court by a protected witness from the person to whom the statement was made if—
 - (a) the court, having regard to the circumstances in which the statement was made and any other relevant factors, is satisfied that the statement has sufficient probative value to justify its admission; and
 - (b) —
 - (i) the protected witness has been called, or is available to be called, as a witness in the proceedings; and
 - (ii) the court gives permission for the protected witness to be cross-examined on matters arising from the evidence.
- (2) A court may only give permission to allow a protected witness to be cross-examined on such matters if satisfied that the cross-examination is likely to elicit material of substantial probative value or material that would substantially reduce the credibility of the evidence.
- (3) Evidence that is admitted in a trial under this section of the nature and contents of a statement made outside the court by a protected witness may be used to prove the truth of the facts asserted in the statement.
- (4) In a criminal trial, the judge must, if evidence of the nature and contents of a statement made outside the court by a protected witness has been admitted but the protected person has not, for some reason, been cross-examined on matters arising from the evidence, warn the jury that the evidence should be scrutinised with particular care because it has not been tested in the usual way.
- (5) In this section—

protected witness means—

 - (a) a young child; or

- (b) a person who suffers from a mental disability that adversely affects the person's capacity to give a coherent account of the person's experiences or to respond rationally to questions.

34CB—Direction relating to delay where defendant forensically disadvantaged

- (1) A rule of law or practice obliging a judge in a trial of a charge of an offence to give a warning of a kind known as a Longman warning is abolished.

Note—

See Longman v The Queen (1989) 168 CLR 79

- (2) If, in a trial of a charge of an offence, the court is of the opinion that the period of time that has elapsed between the alleged offending and the trial has resulted in a significant forensic disadvantage to the defendant, the judge must—
 - (a) explain to the jury the nature of the forensic disadvantage; and
 - (b) direct that the jury must take the forensic disadvantage into account when scrutinising the evidence.
- (3) An explanation or direction under subsection (2) may not take the form of a warning and—
 - (a) must be specific to the circumstances of the particular case; and
 - (b) must not include the phrase "dangerous or unsafe to convict" or similar words or phrases.

17—Repeal of section 34I

Section 34I—Delete the section

18—Insertion of Part 3 Division 2

After section 34K insert:

Division 2—Miscellaneous rules of evidence in sexual cases

34L—Evidence in sexual cases generally

- (1) In proceedings in which a person is charged with a sexual offence, no question may be asked or evidence admitted—
 - (a) as to the sexual reputation of the alleged victim of the offence; or
 - (b) except with the permission of the judge—as to the alleged victim's sexual activities before or after the events of and surrounding the alleged offence (other than recent sexual activities with the accused).

- (2) In deciding whether permission should be granted under subsection (1)(b), the judge must give effect to the principle that alleged victims of sexual offences should not be subjected to unnecessary distress, humiliation or embarrassment through the asking of questions or admission of evidence of the kind referred to in that subsection, and must not grant permission unless satisfied that the evidence in respect of which permission is sought—
- (a) is of substantial probative value; or
 - (b) would, in the circumstances, be likely materially to impair confidence in the reliability of the evidence of the alleged victim, and that its admission is required in the interests of justice.

- (3) Permission must not be granted under subsection (1)(b) authorising the asking of questions or the admission of evidence the purpose of which is only to raise inferences from some general disposition of the alleged victim.
- (4) An application for permission under subsection (1)(b) must be heard and determined in the absence of the jury (if any).
- (5) In a trial of a charge of a sexual offence, the judge is not required by any rule of law or practice to warn the jury that it is unsafe to convict the accused on the uncorroborated evidence of the alleged victim of the offence.
- (6) Subsection (5) does not affect the operation of any provision of this or any other Act requiring that the evidence of a witness be corroborated.
- (7) In this section—

- (2) In a trial of a charge of a sexual offence, no suggestion or statement may be made to the jury that a failure to make, or a delay in making, a complaint of a sexual offence is of itself of probative value in relation to the alleged victim's credibility or consistency of conduct.
- (3) Despite any other rule of law or practice, evidence related to the making of an initial complaint of an alleged sexual offence is admissible in a trial of a charge of the sexual offence.

Examples—

- (i) to inform the jury as to how the allegation first came to light; and
- (ii) as evidence of the consistency of conduct of the alleged victim; and
- (b) it is not admitted as evidence of the truth of what was alleged; and
- (c) there may be varied reasons why the alleged victim of a sexual offence has made a complaint of the offence at a particular time or to a particular person, but that, otherwise, it is a matter for the jury to determine the significance (if any) of the evidence in the circumstances of the particular case.

- (5) It is not necessary that a particular form of words be used in giving the direction under subsection (4).
- (6) In this section—

complaint, in relation to a sexual offence, includes a report or any other disclosure (whether to a police officer or otherwise);

- (b) the person did not protest to or physically resist the sexual activity; or

 - (iii) the person had, on that or some other occasion, freely and voluntarily agreed to sexual activity (whether or not of the same kind) with another person.
- (2) The judge must, in a trial referred to in subsection (1), give each of the directions referred to in that subsection as may be applicable in the circumstances of the particular case.
- (3) In this section—
