(iii) Any amount included in the total amount payable to cover the expenses of delivering the goods or any of them to or to the order of the hirer (in the agreement to be described as "freight");

(iv) any amount included in the total amount payable to cover vehicle registration fees (in the agreement to be called "vehicle registration fees");

(v) any amount included in the total amount payable for insurance other than third party insurance (in this Act called and in the agreement to be described as "insurance");

(vi) the total of the amounts referred to in subparagraphs (i) to (v) inclusive of this paragraph;

(vii) the amount paid or provided by way of deposit (in this Act called and in the agreement to be described as "deposit") showing separately the amount paid in money and the amount provided by a consideration other than money;

(3) An owner who enters into a hire-purchase agreement that does not comply with subsection (2) of this section shall be guilty of an offence against this Act.

(4) Without affecting the liability of any person to be convicted of an offence against this section, where a provision of this section has not been complied with in relation to a hire-purchase agreement (not being a failure to comply with paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of this section), the liability of the hirer shall be reduced by the amount included in the hire-purchase agreement for terms charges and that amount may be set off by the hirer against the amount that would otherwise be due or which becomes due to the owner under the agreement.

(5) A hire-purchase agreement shall not be deemed not to comply with the said subsection (2) if the court before which any proceedings are brought is satisfied that any omission incorrect or insufficient description or misdescription therein was accidental or due to inadvertence or was not of such a nature as to mislead or deceive any person to his prejudice or disadvantage.

(6) A hire-purchase agreement that is not in writing shall not be enforceable by the owner.

Certain copy documents to be served on hirer.

4. The owner shall serve or cause to be served on the hirer contemporaneously with or within twenty-one days after the making of a hire-purchase agreement—but failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall not avoid the agreement. A copy of an agreement shall be deemed sufficient for the purposes of paragraph (a) of this section notwithstanding that any of the signatures of the parties do not appear therein.

PART III.

PROTECTION OF HIRERS.

DIVISION I.—WARRANTIES AND CONDITIONS.

Conditions and warranties to be implied in every hire-purchase agreement.

5. (1) In every hire-purchase agreement there shall be—

(a) an implied warranty that the hirer shall have and enjoy quiet possession of the goods;

(b) an implied condition on the part of the owner that he will have a right to sell the goods at the time when the property is to pass;

(c) an implied warranty that the goods will be free from any charge or encumbrance in favour of any third party (other than a charge or encumbrance created by or with the consent of the hirer) at the time when the property is to pass.

(2) In every hire-purchase agreement there shall be an implied condition that the goods shall be of merchantable quality but no such condition shall be implied—

(a) as regards defects of which the owner could not reasonably have been aware, or, if there is a dealer, neither the owner nor the dealer could reasonably have been aware, at the time the agreement was made; or

(b) where the hirer has examined the goods or a sample thereof, as regards defects which the examination ought to have revealed; or

(c) if the goods are second-hand goods and the agreement contains a statement to the effect that—

(i) the goods are second-hand; and

(ii) all conditions and warranties as to quality are expressly negatived, and the owner proves that the hirer has acknowledged in writing that that statement was brought to his notice.

(3) Where the hirer expressly or by implication makes known to the owner or to the dealer or to any servant or agent of the owner or the dealer the particular purpose for which the goods are required, there shall be implied in the hire-purchase agreement a condition that the goods shall be reasonably fit for that purpose but no such condition shall be implied if the goods are second-hand goods and the agreement contains a statement to the effect—

(a) that the goods are second-hand ; and

(b) that all conditions and warranties of fitness and suitability are expressly negatived,

and the owner proves that the hirer has acknowledged in writing that that statement was brought to his notice.

(4) Without prejudice to any other rights or remedies to which an owner may be entitled, where the hirer has made known expressly or by implication to the dealer or to any servant or agent of the dealer the particular purpose for which the goods are required, an owner shall be entitled to be indemnified by the dealer against any damage suffered by the owner through the operation of the provisions of subsection three of this section.

(5) Nothing in this section shall prejudice in any way any other enactment or rule of law whereby any condition or warranty is to be implied in any hire-purchase agreement.

As to the liability of the owner and the dealer for misrepresentation.

6. (1) Every representation, warranty, or statement made to the hirer or prospective hirer, whether orally or in writing, by the owner or dealer or any person acting on behalf of the owner or dealer in connection with or in the course of negotiations leading to the entering into of a hire-purchase agreement shall confer on the hirer—

(a) as against the owner—the same right to rescind the agreement as the hirer would have had if the representation, warranty, or statement had been made by an agent of the owner ; and

(b) as against the person who made the representation, warranty, or statement, and any person on whose behalf such person was acting in making it—the same right of action in damages as the hirer would have had against them or either of them if the hirer had purchased the goods from such first-mentioned person or the person on whose behalf he was acting (as the case requires) as a result of the negotiations.

(2) Every covenant, condition, or term in any hire-purchase agreement or other document purporting to exclude, limit, or modify the operation of this section or to preclude any right of action or any defence based on or arising out of any such representation, warranty, or statement shall be void and of no effect.

(3) Without prejudice to any other rights or remedies to which an owner may be entitled, an owner shall be entitled to be indemnified by the person who made the representation, warranty, or statement, and by any person on whose behalf the representation, warranty, or statement was made, against any damage suffered by the owner through the operation of the foregoing provisions of this section.

DIVISION II.—STATUTORY RIGHTS OF HIRERS.

Hirer to be entitled to copy of agreement and statement of his present position.

7. (1) At any time before the final payment has been made under a hire-purchase agreement the owner shall, within fourteen days after he has received a request in writing from the hirer, give to the hirer a statement in writing signed by the owner or his agent showing—

(a) the amount paid to the owner by or on behalf of the hirer ;

(b) the amount which has become due under the agreement but remains unpaid ; and

(c) the amount which is to become payable under the agreement, but an owner shall not be obliged to comply with such a request if he has sent the hirer a statement within the period of three months immediately preceding the receipt of the request.

(2) At any time before the final payment has been made under a hire-purchase agreement the owner shall, within fourteen days after he has received a request in writing from the hirer together with the sum of five shillings, give to the hirer a copy of the agreement.

(3) If an owner contravenes subsections (1) or (2) of this section by failing to comply with a request made pursuant to those subsections he shall be guilty of an offence against this Act and liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds and, until the default is remedied—

(a) the owner shall not be entitled to enforce—

(i) the agreement against the hirer ;

(ii) any right to recover the goods from the hirer ; or

(iii) any contract of guarantee relating to the agreement ; and

(b) any security given by the hirer in respect of money payable under the agreement or given by a guarantor shall not be enforceable against the hirer or the guarantor by any holder thereof.

As to appropriation of payments when more than one agreement.

8. A hirer who is liable to make payments in respect of two or more hire-purchase agreements to the same owner shall, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, be entitled, on making any payment in respect of the agreements which is not sufficient to discharge the total amount then due under all the agreements, to require the owner to appropriate the sum so paid by him in or towards the satisfaction of the sum due under any one of the agreements, or in or towards the satisfaction of the sums due under any two or more of the agreements in such proportions as he thinks fit, and, if he fails to make any such appropriation as aforesaid, the payment shall by virtue of this section be appropriated in or towards the satisfaction of the sums due under the respective agreements in the order in which the agreements were entered into.

As to assignments of rights under hire-purchase agreements.

9. (1) The right, title, and interest of a hirer under a hire-purchase agreement may be assigned with the consent of the owner or, subject to subsection (3) of this section, if his consent is unreasonably withheld, without his consent.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, no payment or other consideration shall be required by an owner for his consent to such an assignment as is mentioned in subsection (1) of this section, and where an owner requires any such payment or other consideration for his consent, that consent shall be deemed to be unreasonably withheld.

(3) Where, on a request for his consent thereto being made by a hirer, the owner fails or refuses to give his consent to such an assignment as is mentioned in subsection (1) of this section within fourteen days from the date of such request, the hirer may apply to the court for an order declaring that the consent of the owner to that assignment has unreasonably been withheld, and where such an order is made that consent shall be deemed to be unreasonably withheld.

(4) As a condition of granting such consent the owner may stipulate that all defaults under the hire-purchase agreement shall be made good and may require the hirer and assignee—

(a) to execute and deliver to the owner an assignment agreement in a form approved by the owner whereby without prejudicing or affecting the continuing personal liability of the hirer in such respects the assignee agrees with the owner to be personally liable to pay the instalments of hire remaining unpaid and to perform and observe all other stipulations and conditions of the hire-purchase agreement during the residue of the term thereof and whereby the assignee indemnifies the hirer in respect of such liabilities; and

(b) to pay the reasonable costs (if any) incurred by the owner in stamping the assignment agreement or counterparts.

(5) The right, title and interest of a hirer under a hire-purchase agreement shall be capable of passing by operation of law to the personal representative of the hirer and if the hirer is a company the liquidator may exercise the same rights under the agreement as the company, but nothing in this subsection shall relieve any such personal representative or liquidator from compliance with the provisions of the agreement.

Power to court to allow goods to be removed.

10. Where, by virtue of a hire-purchase agreement, it is the duty of a hirer to keep the goods comprised in the agreement in his possession or control at a particular place or not to remove the goods from a particular place, a court may, on the application of the hirer, and subject to such terms and conditions as it shall deem just, make an order approving the removal of the goods to some other place, which place shall thereafter, for the purposes of the agreement, be substituted for the firstmentioned place.

DIVISION III.—EARLY COMPLETION OF AGREEMENTS.

Hirer to be entitled to finalise agreement at any time.

11. (1) The hirer under a hire-purchase agreement may, if he has given notice in writing to the owner of his intention so to do, on or before the day specified for that purpose in the notice, complete the purchase of the goods by paying or tendering to the owner the net balance due to the owner under the agreement.

(2) For the purposes of this section the net balance due shall be the balance payable under the agreement after deducting any amounts (other than the deposit) paid or provided, whether by cash or other consideration, by or on behalf of the hirer under the agreement, and less—

(a) the statutory rebate for terms charges;

(b) if the hirer requires any contract for insurance to be cancelled, the statutory rebate for insurance; and

(3) The rights conferred on the hirer by this section may be exercised by him—

(a) at any time during the continuance of the agreement; or

(b) where the owner has taken possession of the goods, on paying or tendering to the owner (before or within twenty-one days after the owner has served a notice in the form of the Fourth Schedule on the hirer) in addition to the net balance due—

(i) the reasonable costs incurred by the owner of and incidental to his taking possession of the goods; and

(ii) any amount properly expended by the owner on the storage, repair, or maintenance of the goods.

DIVISION IV.

(2) Where the nature of the goods comprised in a hire-purchase agreement is, or the facilities available at the place or places of business of the owner or at the place specified in the agreement are, such that it would be impracticable to return the goods to any such place, the hirer may terminate the hiring by returning the goods—

(a) to any place agreed to by the parties to the agreement; or

(b) if the parties fail to agree, to a place that is reasonable, having regard to all the circumstances surrounding the transaction.

(3) A hirer who proposes to return goods to the owner under this section may apply to the court for an order fixing the place to which the goods may be returned under paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section.

(4) The court may in any order made pursuant to this section order that, subject to the goods being returned to the owner, the hiring shall be determined on such date as is specified in the order not being a date before the hirer required the owner to nominate a reasonable place for the return of the goods.

(5) Notice of any application under this section shall be given to the owner by the hirer.

(6) Where the hiring under a hire-purchase agreement is terminated pursuant to this section the owner shall be entitled to recover from the hirer—

(a) the amount (if any) required to be paid in such circumstances under the agreement; or

(b) the amount (if any) which the owner would have been entitled to recover if he had taken possession of the goods at the date of termination of the hiring, whichever is the less.

DIVISION V.—REPOSSESSIONS.

Notice to be given to hirer when goods re-possessed.

13. (1) An owner shall not exercise any power of taking possession of goods comprised in a hire-purchase agreement arising out of any breach of the agreement relating to the payment of instalments until he has served on the hirer a notice, in writing, in the form of the Third Schedule and the period fixed by the notice (being not less than seven days after the service of the notice) has expired.

(2) An owner shall not be required to comply with subsection (1) of this section if there are reasonable grounds for believing that the goods comprised in the hire-purchase agreement will be or have been removed or concealed by the hirer contrary to the provisions of the agreement, but the onus of proving the existence of such grounds shall lie upon the owner.

(3) Within twenty-one days of the owner having taken possession of goods which were comprised in a hire-purchase agreement he shall serve on the hirer and every guarantor of the hirer a notice, in writing, in the form of the Fourth Schedule.

(4) If the notice required by subsection (3) of this section is not served, the rights of the owner under the hire-purchase agreement shall thereupon cease and determine, but, if the hirer exercises his rights under this Act to recover the goods of which possession has been so taken, the agreement shall have the same force and effect in relation to the rights and

(ii) require the owner to sell the goods to any person introduced by the hirer who is prepared to purchase the goods for cash at a price not less than the estimated value of the goods set out in the notice in the form of the Fourth Schedule served upon the hirer ;

(b) the hirer may recover from the owner the amount by which the value of the goods at the time of the owner so taking possession thereof exceeds the net balance due and the owner shall be entitled to recover from the hirer the amount by which the said value of the goods is less than the net balance due. In this subsection "net balance due" means the net amount payable less the amount paid or provided, whether by cash or other consideration, by or on behalf of the hirer under the agreement ;

(c) the owner shall not be entitled to recover any sum (whether under a judgment or order or otherwise) which would together with—

(i) the value of the goods at the time of the owner so taking possession thereof; and

(3) Where the owner has sold goods of which he has taken possession, the onus of proving that the price obtained by him for the goods was the best price which could be reasonably obtained by him at the time when he took possession of the goods shall be on the owner.

(4) Except where the owner has failed to serve on the hirer a notice as required by subsection (3) of section 13, no amount shall be recoverable by the hirer under this section unless—

(a) the hirer, within twenty-one days after the owner has served such a notice, gives to the owner notice in writing—

(i) setting out the amount claimed under the provisions of this section and the amount which is claimed by the hirer to be the value of such goods at the time of the owner taking possession thereof; and

(ii) signed by the hirer or his solicitor or agent; and

(b) proceedings for the recovery of the amount so claimed under the provisions of this section are commenced not earlier than seven days and, except where the goods have been sold at the request of the hirer to a person introduced by the hirer, not later than three months after the giving by the hirer to the owner of the notice referred to in paragraph (a) of this subsection.

(5) If, before any such proceedings are commenced by the hirer, the owner serves an offer in writing on the hirer to pay any amount in satisfaction of the claim by the hirer under this section, the owner in any such proceedings shall be entitled to pay into court the amount so offered and, upon so doing, shall be entitled to the same rights as if that amount had been tendered to the hirer before the proceedings were commenced:

Provided that no such right shall be available to the owner in any proceedings by the hirer to recover the amount so offered or any lesser amount, if the hirer, before commencing the proceedings, notifies the owner in writing of the acceptance by the hirer of the amount so offered.

16. If, within fourteen days after giving notice as aforesaid pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (i) of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section 15 of this Act, the hirer—

(a) pays or tenders to the owner all amounts due by the hirer under the hire-purchase agreement in respect of the period of hiring up to the date of such payment or tender (and for the purposes of this paragraph the hiring shall be deemed to have continued up to such date); and

(b) remedies every breach of the agreement (and where he is unable to remedy any breach by reason of the fact that the owner has taken possession of the goods pays or tenders to the owner the costs and expenses reasonably and actually incurred by the owner in doing any act, matter, or thing necessary to remedy that breach); and

(c) pays or tenders to the owner the reasonable costs and expenses of the owner of and incidental to his taking possession of the goods and of his returning them to or to the order of the hirer, the owner shall forthwith return the goods to the hirer and the goods shall be received and held by the hirer pursuant to the terms of the hire-purchase agreement as if no breach had occurred and the owner had not taken possession thereof: Provided that where the goods are returned to the hirer as aforesaid and any breach has not been remedied, the owner shall not have any right arising out of that breach to take possession of such goods unless—

(i) by notice in writing given to the hirer at the time of return as aforesaid he specifies the breach and requires it to be remedied; and

GUARANTEES.

Provisions as to guarantors.

18. (1) Except as provided in this Act a guarantor shall not by reason of the operation of this Act be discharged from liability under his guarantee.

(2) The liability of a guarantor shall continue notwithstanding that the owner has, pursuant to the provisions of a hire-purchase agreement, taken possession of the goods comprised therein (and whether or not the goods have been re-delivered to or to the order of the hirer pursuant to this Act); but nothing in this subsection shall operate to preserve the liability of a guarantor where the owner and the hirer have entered into a new agreement in respect of the goods comprised in any hire-purchase agreement

(3) No guarantor shall be liable to any further or other extent than the hirer the performance of whose obligations he has guaranteed; but, subject to section 19 of this Act, nothing in this Act shall affect any agreement by the guarantor binding him to the performance of any obligation which is not one of the obligations imposed on the hirer under the hire-purchase agreement in respect of which the guarantee is given.

(4) Where goods have been delivered to or to the order of the hirer pursuant to a hire-purchase agreement and the owner subsequently takes possession thereof, any guarantor who has paid any moneys to the owner in accordance with his guarantee shall have the like right in like manner to recover such moneys as he would have had if he had been the hirer of the goods, but for the purpose of calculating the amount received by the owner all moneys paid and the value of any other consideration (not already allowed for in cash) provided by or on behalf of the hirer shall be deemed to have been paid or provided by the guarantor: Provided that no moneys shall be recovered by the guarantor in excess of the moneys actually paid by him.

the agreement so entered into by the guarantor shall be void (and the owner under the hire-purchase agreement concerned shall be guilty of an offence against this Act) unless the agreement is executed by the guarantor in the presence of the clerk of a court or a legal practitioner instructed and employed independently of the owner and the clerk or the legal practitioner, as the case may be, certifies in writing upon the agreement—

(e) that he is satisfied that the guarantor understands the true purport and effect of the agreement; and

(f) that the guarantor has executed the agreement in his presence.

(2) A clerk or a legal practitioner shall not give a certificate in respect of an agreement under subsection (1) of this section unless—

(a) he has read over and explained the agreement to the guarantor or has caused the agreement to be read over and explained to the guarantor in his presence;

(3) An owner shall not refuse to enter into a hire-purchase agreement with a person who effects insurance of the goods for the period of the agreement against such risks and subject to such reasonable terms, conditions, and exceptions as are required by the owner in the names of the owner and the hirer with a reputable insurer if the owner has no other grounds upon which the owner could reasonably refuse to enter into the agreement.

(4) An owner shall not require a hirer to obtain insurance against risks or subject to terms, conditions, and exceptions which the owner does not require if he arranges the insurance.

Hirer to be entitled to insurance rebates.

(5) Where, in respect of the insurance of goods comprised in a hire-purchase agreement, the insurer allows a no-claim rebate or a rebate of a similar nature, the hirer under the agreement shall be entitled to the benefit of the rebate and any person who knowingly pays or allows any such rebate to an owner shall be guilty of an offence against this Act.

Powers of court in relation to insurance contracts associated with hire-purchase agreements.

21. (1) In any proceedings taken in any court in respect of any difference or dispute arising out of a contract of insurance, if it appears to the court that a failure by the insured or the hirer to observe or perform a term or condition of the contract of insurance may reasonably be excused on the ground that the insurer was not prejudiced by the failure, the court may, unless an order excusing the failure has already been made under subsection (2) of this section, order that the failure be excused.

(2) Where a difference or dispute has arisen out of a contract of insurance, the insured or the hirer or any guarantor in respect of the hire-purchase agreement to which the contract of insurance relates may, unless an order excusing the failure concerned has already been made under subsection (1) of this section, apply to the court for an order that the failure to observe or perform a term or condition of the contract of insurance be excused; and if it appears to the court that the failure may reasonably be excused on the ground that the insurer was not prejudiced by the failure, the court may order that the failure be excused.

(3) Where an order of the nature referred to in subsections (1) and (2) of this section has been made under either of those subsections, the rights and liabilities of all persons in respect of the contract of insurance concerned shall be determined as if the failure the subject of the order had not occurred.

As to contents of contracts of insurance.

22. (1) Every contract of insurance (not being a contract of third party insurance) and statement served upon a hirer pursuant to section 4 of this Act shall—

(a) identify the goods or the part of the goods to be insured; and

(b) contain a statement of the amount and period for which the goods are insured or are to be insured; and

(c) if the amount for which the goods are or are to be insured will vary during the period of the agreement, contain a statement showing the varying amounts.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) of this section, any provision in any agreement or other document—

(a) requiring differences or disputes arising out of a contract of insurance to be referred to arbitration;

(b) providing that no action or suit shall be maintainable upon such a contract or against the insurer in respect of any claim under, or difference or dispute arising out of, such a contract unless the claim, difference, or dispute has been referred to arbitration, or an award pursuant to arbitration proceedings has been first obtained;

(c) providing that arbitration or an award pursuant to arbitration proceedings is a condition precedent to any right of action or suit upon such a contract; or

(d) otherwise imposing by reference to arbitration or to an award made in arbitration proceedings any limitation on the right of any person to bring or maintain any action or suit upon such a contract, shall not bind the hirer or the owner.

(3) An agreement made by the parties to a contract of insurance after a difference or dispute has arisen out of the contract of insurance to submit that difference or dispute to arbitration shall have effect as if subsection (2) of this section had not been enacted.

Application of Part V.

23. (1) The provisions of sections 21 and 22 of this Act shall apply only to or in respect of a contract of insurance of goods (whether or not the contract includes any other class of insurance) where the premium or other sum payable for the cover given by the contract of insurance, or any part of that premium or sum, was included as part of the total amount payable for the goods comprised in a hire-purchase agreement.

(2) The provisions of this Part shall have effect notwithstanding anything contained in any other Act.

PART VI.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Power to court to re-open certain hire-purchase transactions.

24. (1) In any proceedings under this Act or arising out of a hire-purchase agreement or instituted pursuant to subsection (4) of this section, where it appears to the court that the transaction is harsh and unconscionable or is otherwise such that a Court of Equity would give relief, the court may re-open the transaction and take an account between the parties thereto.

(2) The court re-opening any transaction under this section may, notwithstanding any statement or settlement of accounts or any agreement purporting to close previous dealings and create a new obligation—

(a) re-open any account already taken between the parties ;

(b) relieve the hirer and any guarantor from payment of any sum in excess of such sum in respect of the cash price, terms charges, and other charges, as the court adjudges to be fairly and reasonably payable ;

AND

POLICE OFFENCES ACT AMENDMENT ACT (No. 3), 1960, No. 62 OF 1960
[ASSENTED TO 24TH NOVEMBER, 1960.]

An Act to consolidate and amend certain enactments relating to offences against public order and other offences punishable in courts of summary jurisdiction, and certain enactments relating to the powers of members of the Police Force, to repeal certain provisions of the Police Act, 1936-1951, and for other purposes incidental thereto.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the State of South Australia, with the advice and consent of the Parliament thereof, as follows:

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the "Police Offences Act, 1953-1960".

Commencement of Act.

2. This Act shall commence on a day to be fixed by proclamation.

Repeals.

3. The following sections of the Police Act, 1936-1951, are repealed, namely sections 21, 56 to 134 (inclusive), and 139 to 151 (inclusive).

Interpretation. cf. 2280, 1936, s. 4.

4. (1) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires or some other meaning is clearly intended—

"the Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Police or the person for the time being acting in the office of Commissioner of Police:

"public place" includes—

(a) every place to which free access is permitted to the public, with the express or tacit consent of the owner or occupier of that place; and

(b) every place to which the public are admitted on payment of money, the test of admittance being the payment of money only; and

(c) every road, street, footway, court, alley or thoroughfare which the public are allowed to use, notwithstanding that that road, street, footway, court, alley, or thoroughfare, is on private property.

(2) In any proceedings for an offence, in which the court is authorized by this Act to award damages or compensation or to order the forfeiture of any property or the doing of any act, such damages or compensation may be awarded, or such order made in addition to the penalty (if any) imposed by the court.

Proof of lawful authority and other matters.

5. Where this Act declares that any act done without lawful authority, or without reasonable cause, or without reasonable excuse, or without lawful excuse, or without consent, shall be an offence, the prosecution need not prove the absence of such lawful authority, reasonable cause, reasonable excuse, lawful excuse or consent, and the onus shall be upon the defendant to prove any such authority, cause, excuse or consent upon which he relies: Provided that the foregoing provision shall not apply to the offence of being in or on any premises or part of premises without lawful excuse.

Assaulting and Hindering Members of the Police Force.

Assaulting and hindering police. cf. 2280, 1936, s. 21.

6. (1) Any person who assaults any member of the police force in the execution of his duty shall be guilty of an offence.

s. 6. MILLER v. NOBLET (1927) S.A.S.R. 385. Where police constables, whilst carrying out their duty, unlawfully seized certain bottles (which might have been used as evidence of the commission of an offence) and were assaulted by a person endeavouring to seize and break the bottles, and had not abandoned their general duties at the time of the assault, held that the constables were assaulted while acting in the execution of their duty.

Penalty: One hundred pounds, or imprisonment for twelve months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

(2) Any person who hinders or resists any member of the police force in the execution of his duty shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds, or imprisonment for six months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

(3) Upon convicting a person for an offence against this section the court may order him to pay to the member of the police force against whom the offence was committed such sum as the court deems just as compensation for—

(a) damage caused by the defendant to any property belonging to the said member or to the Crown:

(b) bodily injury caused by the defendant to the said member.

(4) Any compensation so awarded in respect of damage to property of the Crown shall be paid by the member of the police force to the Treasurer in aid of the general revenue of the State.

(5) In this section—

"hinder" includes "disturb":

"member of the police force" includes a special constable.

(6) Where in the hearing of a member of the police force engaged in the execution of his duty a person uses offensive or abusive language to or concerning such member, he shall be deemed to have hindered such member in the execution of his duty.

---

s. 6. (contd.) LENTHALL v. CURRAN (1933) S.A.S.R. 248. To warn persons, suspected of being engaged in illegal betting, of the approach of the police amounts to the offence of hindering the police in the execution of their duty; and it is not necessary to show that any offence (of illegal betting) had been committed.

PLUNKETT v. KROEMER (1934) S.A.S.R. 124. A constable is hindered by any obstruction or interference making his duty more difficult of performance.

SYMONS v. KOEHNE (1946) S.A.S.R. 77. In relation to charges under the section, a court of summary jurisdiction is given a wide discretion as to the nature and quantum of the punishment to be awarded and, in exercising such a discretion, is justified in taking into account the menace inherent in the incident, and in such circumstances to award imprisonment rather than a fine, and to make terms of imprisonment cumulative.

BALFOUR v. WESCOMBE (1960) S.A.S.R. 165. Where a police officer went to the door of a dwelling to inquire about the ownership of a motor vehicle parked nearby so as to obstruct a right of way and after being ordered off by the occupant of the dwelling was assaulted by him, held that the police officer was acting in the execution of his duty at the time of the assault and that the occupant was guilty of an offence under section 6 (1).

Offences Against Public Order.

Disorderly and offensive conduct and language.
cf. 2280,1936, ss. 75, 76, 83 (c).

7. (1) Any person who in a public place or a police station—

(a) behaves in a disorderly or offensive manner; or

(b) fights with any other person; or

(c) uses offensive language,

shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds or imprisonment for three months.

(2) Any person who disturbs the public peace shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds or imprisonment for three months.

(3) In this section—

"disorderly" includes riotous:

"offensive" includes threatening abusive or insulting:

"public place" includes, in addition to the places mentioned in section 4 of this Act, any ship or other vessel (not being a ship or vessel of the navy of any country) in any harbour port dock or river, and any premises licensed under the Licensing Act, 1932-1949, or any part of such premises.

s. 7. BRADY v. LENTHALL (1930) S.A.S.R. 314. Offensive words spoken in a public place, frequented by a large number of people, may without any other act be offensive behaviour.

CARROLL v. WOODS (1922) S.A.S.R. 458. Held, on the particular facts, that the office of a district council was not a public place within the meaning of section 63 of the Police Act, 1916.

BARRINGTON v. AUSTIN AND OTHERS (1939) S.A.S.R. 130. The words "disorderly behaviour" in section 75 of the Police Act, 1936, refer to any substantial breach of decorum which tends to disturb the peace or to interfere with the comfort of other people who may be in or in the vicinity of a street or public place. It is a question of fact and degree whether the conduct amounts to a nuisance. Where disorderly behaviour consists in the use of obscene language it is not necessary to prove that the individual defendant used any of the words to which the witnesses depose. It is sufficient if the defendant were present and encouraging others to use such language.

RICE v. HUDSON (1940) S.A.S.R. 290. On a charge of disorderly behaviour the evidence showed that the appellant was one of a group of young men in a public street, one of whom used obscene language; apparently he was with the party only when it was on the point of breaking up, but previously had been in the vicinity. There was no evidence that the appellant had taken part in any disorderly conduct or, otherwise than by his presence, encouraged such conduct, nor was there any evidence of any common object or design. Held, on the evidence, that the defendant could not be convicted.

DENSLEY v. MERTIN (1943) S.A.S.R. 144. To turn off the lights as a practical joke in a public hall where a dance is being held is offensive behaviour.

GEBERT v. INNOCENZI (1947) S.A.S.R. 172. Held that the words "If you keep on going like this you will end up in Yatala" used in an acrimonious dispute over rent were in the circumstances not insulting words within the meaning of the section.

O'SULLIVAN v. BRADY (1954) S.A.S.R. 140. Held that a women's lavatory in a city office building and provided for use by the female staff of tenants of the building was not a "public place" within the meaning of section 75 of the Police Act, 1936.

Challenges to fight, and prize fights. cf. 2280. 1936, s. 84.

8. (1) Any person who—

(a) sends or accepts, whether by oral or written words, any challenge to fight for money; or

(b) engages in any prize fight,

shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds or imprisonment for three months.

(2) Nothing in subsection (1) of this section shall apply to—

(a) any challenge to engage in a boxing contest to be conducted in accordance with any rules commonly accepted in Australia as being rules of boxing:

(b) any boxing contest conducted in accordance with such rules.

(3) The court before which a person is convicted of an offence against this section may, in addition to imposing a penalty, order that person to find sureties for keeping the peace.

Being drunk in public place. cf. 2280. 1936, s. 74.

9. (1) Any person who is drunk in any public place shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: For a first or second offence, five pounds or imprisonment for fourteen days:

For a third or subsequent offence, ten pounds or imprisonment for three months.

(2) The court by which a person is convicted of an offence against this section on the complaint of a member of the police force may, on the application of the complainant, order that the defendant pay to the complainant a reasonable sum to cover the expenses of doing all or any of the following things:

(a) apprehending the defendant:

(b) conveying him to a police station:

(c) keeping him in custody until trial:

s. 9. RICHTER v. O'SULLIVAN (1947) S.A.S.R. 160. In sentencing a defendant for the offence of being drunk in a public place, circumstances of aggravation of the drunkenness (such as violence or bad language) may be taken into account, but the court must be careful to punish the defendant for aggravated drunkenness, and not for some other offence which it may be possible to attribute to the aggravating circumstances and with which he has not been charged.

O'SULLIVAN v. FISHER (1954) S.A.S.R. 33. Upon a charge of being drunk in a public place, contrary to section 74 (1) of the Police Act, 1936, it is not necessary for the prosecution to prove that the defendant intended to get drunk, or that he intended to be in the public place, or that he knew where he was; nor is the defence of honest and reasonable mistake open to the defendant. Effect of duress as a defence considered.

(d) medically examining him.

(3) Any amount received by a complainant under subsection (2) of this section shall, unless the court otherwise orders, be paid by him to the Treasurer in aid of the general revenue of the State.

Sale and consumption of methylated spirits. Inserted by 61, 1960, s. 3.

9a. (1) Any person who is found drinking or to have been drinking methylated spirits or any liquid containing methylated spirits shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: For a first or second offence, five pounds or imprisonment for fourteen days:

For a third or subsequent offence, ten pounds or imprisonment for three months.

(2) The court by which a person is convicted of an offence against subsection (1) of this section on the complaint of a member of the police force may, on the application of the complainant, order that the defendant pay to the complainant a reasonable sum to cover the expenses of doing all or any of the following things:—

(a) apprehending the defendant;

(b) conveying him to a police station;

(c) keeping him in custody until trial;

(d) medically examining him.

(3) Any amount received by a complainant under subsection (2) of this section shall, unless the court otherwise orders, be paid by him to the Treasurer in aid of the general revenue of the State.

(4) Any person knowing or having reason to suspect that methylated spirits or any liquid containing methylated spirits is intended to be drunk who supplies or permits to be supplied to any person any such methylated spirits or liquid containing methylated spirits shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: For a first offence, twenty pounds:

For a second or subsequent offence, fifty pounds or imprisonment for three months.

(5) A person shall not sell or supply methylated spirits or any liquid containing methylated spirits at any time between six o'clock in the afternoon on any Saturday and the hour of 9 o'clock in the morning on the following Monday or at any time on a public holiday: Provided, however, that a registered pharmaceutical chemist shall be deemed not to commit an offence against this section if he believes on reasonable grounds that the said methylated spirits or liquid containing methylated spirits is required for external medicinal use.

Penalty: Ten pounds.

(6) In this section "methylated spirits" means industrial spirit or commercial methylated spirit, that is to say ethyl alcohol which has been denatured by the addition thereto of methyl alcohol, benzene, pyridine or any other methylating or denaturing substance or agent.

Insufficient or no lawful means of support.
cf. 2280, 1936, s. 85 (1) (a).

10. (1) Any person who has no lawful means of support, or insufficient lawful means of support shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Imprisonment for twelve months.

(2) If it is proved that the defendant had no visible lawful means of support that fact shall be prima facie evidence that he had no lawful means of support.

(3) If it is proved that the defendant had insufficient visible lawful means of support that fact shall be prima facie evidence that he had insufficient lawful means of support.

(4) The fact that the defendant possessed money or other property at the time of the alleged offence shall be no defence to a charge under subsection (1) of this section unless it is also proved that he obtained that money or property lawfully.

s. 10. CLENDINNEN v. MITCHELL (1910) S.A.L.R. 96; 5 Austn. Digest 951; 12 Austn. Digest 1096. Held that a police constable was justified in arresting as an idle and disorderly person a minor who for 18 months had made a living by investing on the totalizator (such investments being illegal).

VALLENDER v. SLATER (1926) S.A.S.R. 28. The onus of proving insufficient lawful means of support under section 66 (a) of the Police Act, 1916, was on the prosecutor. Section 66 of the Police Act, 1916, only applied after the prosecution had made out a prima facie case and did not aid the prosecution to make out a prima facie case. Money obtained by betting and card-playing should not be presumed in the absence of evidence to have been dishonestly obtained.

TAYLOR v. LENTHALL (1930) S.A.S.R. 413. To make out a prima facie case of an offence against section 66 (a) of the Police Act, 1916, the prosecution must show that the defendant had insufficient lawful means of support. This need not be proved beyond reasonable doubt in the first instance, since the defendant's failure to give a good account may convert a prima facie case into proof beyond reasonable doubt. The defendant may escape if, by reason of the failure of the case for the prosecution it appears on the preponderance of evidence that he had sufficient lawful means of support, or if he proves his means of support and that they were lawful.

LENTHALL v. CAVENDER (1931) S.A.S.R. 164; affirming LENTHALL v. CAVENDER (1930) S.A.S.R. 432. Money owned by the defendant, being savings derived from an illegal business which has been discontinued, is money honestly obtained within the meaning of section 66 of the Police Act, 1916; semble, money earned in a current illegal business is not; semble, also, money may be honestly obtained if it is intentionally and voluntarily paid to a man even though the payment for the consideration be illegal.

Refusal to pay for meals or accommodation.

11. (1) If a person is supplied—

(a) by the holder of a publican's or wine licence with liquor, meals, or accommodation on licensed premises; or

(b) by the proprietor of a guest house, private hotel, or restaurant with meals or accommodation, and refuses on demand made by the holder of such licence, or by such proprietor, or by the servant or agent of such holder or proprietor, to pay a reasonable sum for the liquor, meals, or accommodation, he shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds or imprisonment for not more than three months.

(2) In this section "a publican's licence" and "a wine licence" refer respectively to a publican's licence and a wine licence granted under the Licensing Act, 1932-1949.

Begging alms. cf. 2280, 1936, ss. 85 (1) (c), 86 (1) (b).

12. (1) Any person who—

(a) in any public place begs or gathers alms; or

(b) is in any public place for the purpose of begging or gathering alms; or

(c) goes from house to house begging or gathering alms; or

(d) causes or encourages any child to beg or gather alms in any public place or to be in any public place for the purpose of begging or gathering alms; or (e) exposes wounds or deformities with the object of obtaining alms, shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Twenty-five pounds or imprisonment for not more than three months.

(2) In this section the word "house" includes building of any kind, and any separately occupied part of a building.

Consorting. cf. 2280, 1936, s. 85 (1) (j).

13. Any person who habitually consorts with reputed thieves, prostitutes, or persons having no lawful visible means of support shall be guilty of an offence.

s. 13. GABRIEL v. LENTHALL (1930) S.A.S.R. 318; 5 Austn. Digest 172. On a charge under section 13 it must be shown that the thieves in question are thieves with the reputation of being thieves. The evidence necessary to establish the reputation of being thieves, and the nature of the mens rea required to establish an offence discussed. Imprisonment is more appropriate than a fine as the penalty for an offence under the section.

Penalty: One hundred pounds, or imprisonment for six months.

* * * * * * * * * * *

s. 14 repealed by 22, 1958, s. 3.

15. (1) Any person who, without lawful excuse—

Offensive weapons, drugs and articles of disguise.

Cf. 2280, 1936, ss. 85 (1) (d) and (e), and (2), 86 (1) (e).

(a) carries any offensive weapon; or

(b) has in his custody or possession any implement of housebreaking; or (c) carries any deleterious drug or article of disguise, shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds or imprisonment for three months.

(2) Upon convicting a person for an offence against this section the court may order that any weapon, implement, drug, or article of disguise, proved to have been carried by, or in the custody or possession of, the defendant, shall be forfeited to Her Majesty.

(3) In this section—

"carry" includes to have on or about one's person:

"offensive weapon" includes any rifle, gun, pistol, sword, dagger, knife, club, bludgeon, truncheon or other offensive or lethal weapon or instrument:

"implement of housebreaking" includes any picklock-key, crow, jack, bit or other implement of housebreaking.

16. (1) Any person who, in any public place, without lawful excuse, has in his possession any instrument for gaming or any instrument constructed as a means of cheating shall be guilty of an offence.

Possession of instruments for gaming or cheating.

c. 2280, 1936, s. 86 (1) (k) pt. and (2).

Penalty: One hundred pounds.

s. 13. (contd.) DIAS v. O'SULLIVAN (1949) S.A.S.R. 195. On a charge of habitually consorting with reputed thieves, it is not necessary for the prosecution to prove that the reputed thieves were actual thieves. It is sufficient to prove that at the material times they bore the reputation, in the locality where they resided or were known, of being thieves. Observations as to the meaning of "habitually consorts."

REARDON v. O'SULLIVAN (1950) S.A.S.R. 77. On a charge of habitually consorting with reputed thieves, it is not necessary for the prosecution to prove that the reputed thieves were actual thieves. Meaning of "habitually consorts" considered.

s. 15. CARLING v. O'SULLIVAN (1956) S.A.S.R. 203. Held that the evidence as to housebreaking implements found in a woman's motor car was not sufficient to establish that they were in the woman's possession or custody within the meaning of section 15.

(2) Upon the conviction of a person for an offence against subsection (1) of this section the court may order that the instrument in respect of which the person was convicted shall be forfeited to Her Majesty.

(3) In this section the word "instrument" includes machine, device or contrivance of any kind.

Being unlawfully on premises.

cf. 2280, 1936, s. 86 (1) (n).

17. (1) Any person who is in or on any premises or part of any premises for an unlawful purpose or without lawful excuse shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds or imprisonment for six months.

(2) In this section "premises" means—

(a) any dwelling, hotel, lodging-house, shop, factory, office, store, clubhouse, shed or other building or structure of any kind;

(b) any tent, marquee or caravan;

(c) any wharf, quay or jetty;

(d) any ship or boat;

(e) any enclosed or fenced area of land;

Inserted by 39, 1957, s. 3.

(f) any area of land (whether enclosed or fenced or not) forming the yard, garden, or curtilage of any building.

---

s. 17. CRAFTER v. O'REILLY (1934) S.A.S.R. 20. The following circumstances may be a lawful excuse:—(a) A licence from the occupier, or if there is no occupier, the owner of the premises. (b) A lawful authority such as a search warrant, warrant of execution or a warrant to distrain. (c) Honest and reasonable belief that facts existed which if true would make the act charged an innocent one.

FERGUSON v. DAYMAN (1935) S.A.S.R. 4. A person on premises by leave of the recognized tenant cannot be convicted of being found on the premises without lawful excuse.

DROGEMULLER v. JAMES (1936) S.A.S.R. 12. Held that a partially-enclosed rubble pit was not an "area" within the meaning of this provision.

WILKINS v. CONDELL (1940) S.A.S.R. 139. Held on the facts that the appellant had been found on premises without lawful excuse.

ABBOTT v. PULBROOK (1947) S.A.S.R 57. The onus is on the complainant of showing, when the evidence has been completed, that the defendant is "without lawful excuse." The words "without lawful excuse" imply more than a mere trespass or civil wrong. The defendant's presence will be "without lawful excuse" only if his wrongful act is in being there was of sufficient gravity to merit not merely a fine but imprisonment.

CAMPBELL v. O'SULLIVAN (1947) S.A.S.R. 195. Held on the facts that the appellant had a lawful excuse for being in the premises.

POZNANSKI v. STOSIC (1953) S.A.S.R. 132. Semble, the fact that a husband and inquiry agents were searching a dwellinghouse for evidence for divorce proceedings of adultery by the wife of the husband did not constitute a lawful excuse for entering the dwellinghouse without permission and remaining there for half an hour.

Lying or loitering in a public place.
cf. 2280, 1936, s. 89.

18. Any person who lies or loiters in any public place and who, upon request by a member of the police force, does not give a satisfactory reason for so lying or loitering shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Twenty-five pounds or imprisonment for three months.

Being in a place with intent to commit offence.
cf. 2280, 1936, s. 86 (1) (l).

19. (1) Any person who, being a suspected person or reputed thief, is in a public place or in a place adjacent to a public place with intent to commit any offence triable on information in the Supreme Court shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Imprisonment for six months.

(2) In proving under subsection (1) of this section the intent to commit an offence, it shall not be necessary to show that the person charged was guilty of any particular acts tending to show his intent, but he may be convicted if from the circumstances of the case and his known character as proved to the court, the court is satisfied that his intention was to commit that offence.

Permitting drunkenness and disorderly conduct.
cf. 2280, 1936, s. 117.

20. (1) Any person who keeps any premises where provisions or refreshments are sold or consumed and who knowingly permits drunkenness or disorderly conduct to take place on such premises shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Twenty pounds.

(2) In this section "premises" includes any shop, any restaurant, or any other premises to which the public are admitted.

---

s. 18. RYAN v. DINAN (1954) S.A.S.R. 67. Extent in which loitering and the request to give a satisfactory account must be contemporaneous, considered.

O'SULLIVAN v. HORMANN (1956) S.A.S.R. 198. The lying or loitering in a public place, and the failure upon request to give a satisfactory reason for so doing, must be concomitant in point of time and occur as a continuing transaction or on a single occasion.

s. 19. WILKINS v. LENTHALL (1931) S.A.S.R. 90. Evidence by a police officer that he suspected the defendant and had been told by other police officers that defendant was a reputed thief is sufficient to prove defendant was a suspected person. Prior to the enactment of subsection (2) no inference of guilt could be drawn from the bad character of the accused.

MURPHY v. LENTHALL (1931) S.A.S.R. 260; 5 Austn. Digest 335. The defendant may be properly convicted under section 19, although the evidence also discloses that he was guilty of assault with intent to rob.

CARLING v. O'SULLIVAN (1956) S.A.S.R. 203. Upon a charge against a person under section 19 for that, being a suspected person or a reputed thief, he was in a public place to commit an offence triable on information in the Supreme Court, it is sufficient for the prosecution to prove that the person had a general intention of committing such an offence, and it is not necessary for the prosecution to allege or prove an intention to commit any specified offence.

Permitting premises to be frequented by thieves, etc.
cf. 2280, 1936, ss. 85 (1) (g), 117 (1) (d).

21. (1) Any person who—

(a) is the occupier of premises frequented by reputed thieves, or prostitutes, or persons without lawful means of support, or persons of notoriously bad character; or

(b) is without reasonable excuse in any premises frequented by any such persons,

shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds or imprisonment for three months.

(2) In a prosecution under this section it shall not be necessary for the prosecutor to prove that the defendant knew that the persons frequenting the premises were reputed thieves, prostitutes, persons without lawful means of support or persons of notoriously bad character; but it shall be a defence that the defendant did not know and could not by the exercise of reasonable diligence have ascertained that the persons frequenting the premises were such persons as aforesaid.

Offences Against Decency and Morality.

Indecent language.
cf. 2280, 1936, ss. 75 (a) and (c) pt., 83 (a).

22. (1) Any person who uses indecent or profane language or sings any indecent or profane song or ballad—

(a) in a public place; or

(b) in a police station; or

(c) which is audible from a public place; or

(d) which is audible in any neighbouring or adjoining occupied premises; or

s. 22. MITCHELL v. FRANKHAM (1889) 23 S.A.L.R. 114. Held that the words "you went down the country to get a kid," were not indecent.

RICHARDS v. WEBSTER (1919) S.A.L.R. 298. Held that a licensed billiard saloon was not a public place within the meaning of section 63 (a) of the Police Act, 1916. (But see NICHOLSON v. MORGAN, infra.)

NICHOLSON v. MORGAN (1920) S.A.L.R. 142. The definition of public place in section 4 of the Police Act, 1916, applied in the construction of section 63 (a) of the Police Act, 1916.

THOMPSON v. HIGGS (1924) S.A.S.R. 243; 12 Austn. Digest 320. Before the amending Act 2186 of 1934, it was necessary, in order to constitute an offence under section 63 (a) of the Police Act, 1916, that some person should have been passing in the street and should have heard what was said.

NORLEY v. MALTHOUSE (1924) S.A.S.R. 268. "Indecent" is not equivalent to lewd or obscene, but means "highly offensive to the recognized standards of common propriety."

LINEHAN v. SCHROETER (1949) S.A.S.R. 205. Upon a complaint under section 83 of the Police Act, 1936, held that where profane, indecent or obscene language is used within the hearing of any person, it is not necessary that it should also be in a public place. Held that evidence that during a period of about nine months prior to the offence charged defendant on various occasions had used indecent language towards the complainant was relevant and admissible, as tending to prove the offence charged.

s. 23. ROBERTS v. O'SULLIVAN (1950) S.A.S.R. 245. Held that a sand pit used as a rubbish dump and by children as a playground was a public place within the meaning of the section.

O'SULLIVAN v. DE YOUNG (1956) S.A.S.R. 211. The offence of indecent exposure contrary to section 23 is not an "offence of a sexual nature" within the meaning of sections 77 and 77a of the Criminal Law Consolidation Act.

Penalty: One hundred pounds or imprisonment for six months.

(2) The fact that a male person lives with or is habitually in the company of a prostitute and has no visible lawful means of support shall be prima facie proof that he is knowingly living on the earnings of prostitution.

Definition of brothel.
cf. 2280, 1936, s. 101.

27. In the next five succeeding sections of this Act—

For a subsequent offence, two hundred pounds or imprisonment for six months.

s. 28. SCIEGHI v. HOMES (1923) S.A.S.R. 464; 12 Austn. Digest 265. Held, that a woman kept a brothel although her husband resided in and owned the premises.

Prosecutions.
cf. 2280, 1936, s. 102 (2).

30. (1) A prosecution shall not be instituted under either of the two preceding sections without the written consent of the Commissioner of Police or a superintendent or inspector of police.

(2) An apparently genuine document produced by the prosecutor and purporting to authorize a prosecution under either of the said two preceding sections and purporting to be signed by the Commissioner of Police or a superintendent or inspector of police shall be accepted without proof as prima facie evidence of the consent of the Commissioner, superintendent or inspector to the prosecution.

Determination of tenancy of brothels.
cf. 2280, 1936, s. 105.

31. (1) Upon the conviction of the tenant, lessee, or occupier of any premises for permitting the premises, or any part thereof, to be used as a brothel, the landlord or lessor may require the person so convicted to assign the lease or other contract under which the premises are held by him to some person approved by the landlord or lessor, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(2) If a person so convicted fails within one month to assign the lease or contract as aforesaid, the landlord or lessor may determine the lease or other contract, but without prejudice to any rights or remedies of any party to such lease or contract in respect of anything done or omitted before such determination.

(3) If the landlord or lessor after such a conviction has been brought to his notice fails to exercise his rights under subsection (1) of this section, and subsequently during the subsistence of the lease or contract the premises are again used as a brothel, the landlord or lessor shall be deemed to have permitted the premises to be used as a brothel.

(4) Where a landlord or lessor determines a lease or other contract under the powers conferred by this section and subsequently grants another lease or enters into another contract of tenancy to, with, or for the benefit of the same person without causing to be inserted in such lease or contract reasonable and adequate provisions for preventing the premises from being used as a brothel, he shall, if the premises are subsequently used as a brothel, be deemed to have permitted the premises to be used as a brothel.

s. 30. SCIEGHI v. HOMES (1923) S.A.S.R. 464; 12 Austn. Digest 265. An authority to prosecute may relate to more than one offence, and need not specify any particular offence with the detail required in a complaint.

Power of police to enter suspected brothel.
cf. 2280, 1936, s. 106.

32. The Commissioner of Police, or any superintendent or inspector of police, or any member of the police force authorized in writing by the Commissioner or a superintendent or inspector of police may at any time enter and search any premises which he suspects on reasonable grounds to be a brothel.

Publication of Indecent Matter.

Publication of indecent matter.
cf. 2280, 1936, ss. 86 (1) (f), 108.

33. (1) In this section—

"indecent matter" includes any printing, writing, painting, drawing, picture, statue, figure, carving, sculpture, or other representation or matter of an indecent immoral or obscene nature but does not include books and other matter of artistic or literary merit or books and other matter published in good faith for the advancement or dissemination of medical science.

(2) Any person who—

(a) prints, publishes, sells, offers for sale, or has in his possession for sale any indecent matter; or

(c) affixes or inscribes any indecent matter on anything whatsoever so that the matter so affixed or inscribed is visible to persons in any public place; or

(d) delivers or exhibits any indecent matter to any person who is in any public place; or

(e) delivers any indecent matter in or at any building or yard, garden, or enclosure of any building; or

(f) exhibits any indecent matter to any person in a place other than a public place, so as to offend or insult that person, shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: One hundred pounds or imprisonment for six months.

(3) In determining whether any matter is indecent, immoral, or obscene the Court shall have regard to—

(a) the nature of the matter; and

(b) the persons, classes of persons and age groups to or amongst whom it was or was intended or was likely to be published, distributed, sold, exhibited, given or delivered; and

(c) the tendency of the matter to deprave or corrupt any such persons, class of persons or age group, to the intent that matter shall be held to be indecent, immoral, or obscene when it is likely in any manner to deprave or corrupt any such persons, or the persons in any such class or age group, notwithstanding that persons in other classes or age groups may not be similarly affected.

(4) A prosecution for an offence against this section shall not be instituted without the written consent of the Attorney-General.

An apparently genuine document produced by the prosecutor and purporting to consent to a prosecution under this section and to be signed by the Attorney-General shall, without proof, be accepted by a court as prima facie evidence of such consent.

(5) Notwithstanding anything in subsection (1) of this section, the court shall not hold that books or other matter do not fall within the definition of indecent matter because of their literary or artistic merit, if such books or matter describe with undue detail, or emphasize, coition, unnatural vice, or other sexual, immoral, or lascivious behaviour, or the organs of generation or excretion.

Restriction on reports of judicial proceedings.
cf. 2280, 1936, s. 109.

34. (1) No person shall—

(a) print or cause to be printed; or

(b) offer for sale, sell, or cause to be offered for sale or sold to any person; or

(c) have in his possession for sale or distribution,

any book, paper, or document containing any particulars relating to any judicial proceedings for divorce or dissolution of marriage, nullity of marriage, judicial separation, relief from the obligation to cohabit with a husband, or restitution of conjugal rights, other than the following particulars, that is to say—

(i) the names, addresses, and occupations of the parties and witnesses:

(ii) a concise statement of the charges, defences, and countercharges in support of which evidence has been given:

(iii) submissions on any point of law arising in the course of proceedings, and the decision of the court thereon:

(iv) the summing-up of the judge or magistrate and the finding of the jury (if any) and the judgment of the court and observations made by the judge or magistrate in giving judgment.

Penalty: For a first offence, two hundred pounds.

For a second or subsequent offence, five hundred pounds or imprisonment for six months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Restriction on reports of immorality, etc.
cf. 2280, 1936, s. 110.

35. (1) No person shall—

(a) print or cause to be printed; or

(b) offer for sale, sell, or cause to be offered for sale or sold to any person; or

(c) have in his possession for sale or distribution,

any newspaper in which any one report—

(i) relating to any legal proceedings involving questions of sexual immorality, unnatural vice, or indecent conduct; or

(ii) containing any other news, account, or story descriptive of or relative to sexual immorality, unnatural vice, or indecent conduct, occupies more than fifty lines of thirteen ems wide or the equivalent thereof, in any kind of type, or carries a heading composed of type larger than ten point capitals.

Penalty: For a first offence, two hundred pounds.

For a second or subsequent offence, five hundred pounds or imprisonment for six months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

(2) In this section—

"legal proceedings" includes coroner's inquests and sittings of Royal and other commissions of inquiry and of select committees of Parliament:

s. 35. O'SULLIVAN v. TRUTH AND SPORTSMAN LIMITED (1956-1957) 96 C.L.R. 220; 31 A.L.J. 97 affirming O'SULLIVAN v. TRUTH AND SPORTSMAN LIMITED (1955) S.A.S.R. 58. Held that section 35 does not make the inclusion, in the one issue of a newspaper, of every report that is sufficient in itself to satisfy the prescribed description, a distinct and separate offence. Quaere, whether the separate sale of a copy is an offence distinct from any other sale of a copy. Held, further, that one person does not within the meaning of the provision "cause" another to do the prohibited act except where he contemplates or desires that it will ensue and it is done on his actual authority, express or implied, or in consequence of him exerting some capacity which he possesses in fact or law to control or influence the acts of the other.

"newspaper" means a copy of a periodical publication which is published at intervals not exceeding three months or any part of such a copy.

(3) for the purpose of this section separate articles in the same newspaper relating to the same matter shall be deemed to form one report, and all photographs illustrative of or connected with any report shall be deemed to form part thereof.

(4) Paragraphs (b) and (c) of subsection (1) of this section shall be construed as prohibiting within the State the sale, offering for sale, causing to be offered for sale or sold, or having in possession for sale or distribution of any newspaper containing a report contrary to subsection (1), whether the newspaper was printed or published within or outside the State, and whether the reports therein relate to legal proceedings and other matters taking place within or outside the State.

Exemptions and consent to prosecutions. cf. 2280, 1936, s. 111.

36. (1) Nothing in the last two preceding sections shall apply to the printing, offering, selling, or having in possession of—

(a) any pleading, transcript of evidence or other document for use in connection with any legal proceedings; or

(b) any notice or report published in pursuance of the directions of the court or other body conducting legal proceedings; or

(c) any separate volume or part of any bona fide series of law reports which does not form part of any other publication and consists solely of reports of proceedings in courts of law; or

(d) any publication of a technical character bona fide intended for circulation among members of the legal or medical professions:

Provided that in any proceedings under this Act it shall lie on the defendant to prove that the matter complained of falls within the provisions of this section.

(2) A prosecution for an offence against either of the two preceding sections shall not be instituted without the written consent of the Commissioner of Police.

s. 36. O'SULLIVAN v. TRUTH AND SPORTSMAN LIMITED (1955) S.A.S.R. 85. Where a prosecution had been instituted for an offence against section 35 without the written consent of the Commissioner of Police, held that the court of summary jurisdiction had no jurisdiction to deal with the complaint.

An apparently genuine document produced by the prosecutor and purporting to authorize a prosecution under either of the said two preceding sections and purporting to be signed by the Commissioner of Police shall without proof be accepted by a court as prima facie evidence of the consent of the Commissioner of Police to the prosecution.

Fraud, Unlawful Possession, etc.

Frauds upon charitable institutions. cf. 2280, 1936, s. 86 (1) (c).

37. Any person who by any false pretence obtains from any charitable institution or organization any chattel, money, valuable security, credit, benefit, or advantage shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: One hundred pounds or imprisonment for twelve months.

Fraud other than false pretences. cf. 2280, 1936, s. 91.

38. Any person who by fraud other than false pretences obtains any chattel, money, valuable security, credit, benefit or advantage, shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: One hundred pounds or imprisonment for twelve months.

Valueless cheques. cf. 2280, 1936, s. 90.

39. (1) Any person who obtains any chattel, money, valuable security, credit, benefit, or advantage by passing any cheque which is not paid on presentation shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: One hundred pounds or imprisonment for twelve months.

(2) It shall be a defence to a charge for an offence against subsection (1) of this section to prove that the defendant—

(a) had reasonable grounds for believing that the cheque would be paid in full on presentation; and

(b) had no intent to defraud.

(3) The fact that at the time when the cheque was passed there were some funds to the credit of the account on which the cheque was drawn, shall not of itself be a defence.

s. 37. NORRIS v. CRAFTER (1935) S.A.S.R. 170. Section 86 (1) (c) of the Police Act, 1936, was not limited to frauds on charity and benevolence, but applied to any case where money is obtained by fraudulent representation. It did not apply where money is paid under a contract procured by fraud. Held, on the facts, that money was obtained as the direct result of fraud, and not under a contract procured by fraud.

s. 39. BRAUER v. O'SULLIVAN (1957) S.A.S.R. 185. Held on the facts that the defendant had not obtained a valuable security by "passing" a cheque.

40. Every person who for personal gain— Fortune telling, palmistry, etc. cf. 2280, 1936, s. 86 (1) (d).

(a) pretends to tell fortunes; or

(b) uses palmistry or other subtle craft, means or device to deceive any person, shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Twenty pounds or imprisonment for one month.

41. (1) Any person who has in his possession any personal property which either at the time of such possession, or at any subsequent time before the making of a complaint under Unlawful possession of personal property. cf 2280, 1936, s. 93.

s. 40. SMITH v. O'SULLIVAN (1921) S.A.S.R. 349. An intention to deceive is not an essential ingredient in the offence of pretending to tell fortunes.

ARRIOLA v. HARRIS (1943) S.A.S.R. 175. Where as part of a service held in a Spiritual Church there was a demonstration of the appellant's purported spiritualistic powers, held that the appellant was guilty of pretending to tell fortunes.

s. 41. ORR v. FRAZER (1921) S.A.S.R. 176. Held (before the enactment of 1577, 1923, section 4) that reasonable suspicion and possession must co-exist. A conviction under section 71 of the Police Act, 1916, should recite that the defendant failed to give a satisfactory account of how he came into possession of the goods.

HOWIE v. NOBLET (1923) S.A.S.R. 277. Held (before the enactment of 1577, 1923, section 4) that reasonable suspicion and possession must co-exist. Possession means complete personal physical control either by manual custody, or by having the property where the "possessor" alone has the exclusive right or power to place his hands on it.

MOORE v. ALLCHURCH (1924) S.A.S.R. 111. Section 71 of the Police Act, 1916, required the prosecution to prove an actual suspicion reasonably entertained before the making of the charge. Suspicion and possession need not co-exist. "Stolen" includes "embezzled."

R. v. SCOTT; Ex parte CHURCH (1924) S.A.S.R. 220; 5 Austn. Digest 1086. A dismissal of a complaint for unlawful possession will not support a plea of autrefois acquit on a charge of larceny.

HOMES v. THORPE (1925) S.A.S.R. 286. Held that section 71 of the Police Act, 1916, did not apply where the property in question was not suspected, but believed to have been stolen.

HENDERSON v. SURFIELD AND CARTER (1927) S.A.S.R. 192; 12 Austn. Digest 369; affirming HENDERSON v. SURFIELD (1927) S.A.S.R. 31. Held that section 71 of the Police Act, 1916, did not apply where the evidence of the supposed suspecter shows he had such a knowledge of events as more probably to convince him that he saw actual stealing, than to lead him to suspect stealing.

CORSTEN v. NOBLET (1927) S.A.S.R. 421. Where no witness swore that he had entertained a suspicion, and the evidence merely made it probable that such a suspicion existed, held that the defendant could not be convicted.

ALMOND v. LENTHALL (1929) S.A.S.R. 267. On proof by the prosecution of the possession of property by the defendant, and of an actual and reasonable suspicion in the mind of some person that the property was stolen or unlawfully obtained, the defendant must show that he came by the property lawfully; it is not enough for the defence to prove that the property was not stolen on one occasion if the witnesses might have suspected, had they known all the facts, that it was stolen on another occasion.

DEANE v. TELFORD (1930) S.A.S.R. 86. Where one witness suspected and another believed goods to have been stolen, held that the court should examine what the witnesses knew of the facts and if their knowledge most probably led to the conclusion of actual larceny the section would not apply.

MURPHY v. LENTHALL (1931) S.A.S.R. 260. Decisions in HOMES v. THORPE (1925) S.A.S.R. 286; NOBLET v. JOHNSON (1929) S.A.S.R. 385; HENDERSON v. SURFIELD AND CARTER (1927) S.A.S.R. 192 discussed.

LENTHALL v. C. A. NEWMAN (1932) S.A.S.R. 126; LENTHALL v. M. J. NEWMAN (1932) S.A.S.R. 126. Where a witness can testify of his own knowledge to a specific larceny of the property in question he cannot be said to "suspect" and the this section in respect of such possession, is reasonably suspected of having been stolen or unlawfully obtained shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: One hundred pounds or imprisonment for two years.

(2) It shall be a defence to a charge of an offence against this section to prove that the defendant obtained possession of the property honestly.

(3) If any personal property is proved to have been in the possession of a person, whether in a building or otherwise,

s. 41. (contd.) section does not apply. But a witness may be held to "suspect" if he "thinks" or "believes" the property was stolen. In straightforward cases of larceny the section should not be used.

LENTHALL v. FIMERI (1933) S.A.S.R. 22; 5 Austn. Digest 1088. An acquittal for larceny is no bar to a prosecution for unlawful possession of the same goods. Semble that while the section should not be used "as a cloak for the exercise of summary jurisdiction over cases of larceny generally" the court should not assume that the prosecution is so using the section.

LE POIDEVIN v. HUDSON (1935) S.A.S.R. 223. It is not necessary for anyone to depose expressly to suspicion. It is sufficient if circumstances reasonably justify suspicion, and a person acts as if he suspected.

BROAD v. MOORE (1935) S.A.S.R. 297. Where the evidence does not clearly show larceny, unlawful possession may properly be charged. A betting ticket is personal property within the meaning of the section.

HARRISON v. TROTTER (1937) S.A.S.R. 7. On a charge of unlawful possession the burden is on the defendant to convince the court beyond reasonable doubt that his explanation of his possession of the goods is true. A belief that the defendant had stolen the goods in his possession and may be convicted of larceny does not exclude the possibility that the defendant had unlawfully obtained the goods. An acquittal on a charge of larceny of goods is not a bar to prosecution for unlawful possession of them.

SAMPSON v. CRAFTER (1940) S.A.S.R. 427. On a charge of joint unlawful possession of goods separate trials were ordered and the evidence showed that there was no joint possession but it was shown that there had been reasonable grounds of suspicion before the making of the charge that the defendant who was first tried had been in unlawful possession of the goods. Held that he had been rightly convicted of the offence of unlawful possession.

CRAFTER v. BRUCE (1941) S.A.S.R. 269. Where two defendants were charged with unlawful possession of petrol, held that although it could be said of each defendant that he had the petrol in his possession, the complaint alleged a single possession exercised by or on behalf of both defendants, and it could not be said that either had a single possession so exercised.

KITCHIN v. TUIT (1945) S.A.S.R. 16. There is no inflexible rule that goods entrusted to a common carrier are in his possession.

BUTTON v. COOPER (1947) S.A.S.R. 286. Held on the facts that goods were in the possession of the defendant within the meaning of the section.

HEWITT v. O'SULLIVAN (1947) S.A.S.R. 384. Leave to appeal to the High Court refused 75 C.L.R. 632 (note); (1947) S.A.S.R. XIX (note). Anything short of knowledge of all the ingredients essential to the charge of a specific offence is suspicion for the purposes of the section.

O'SULLIVAN v. TREGASKIS (1948) S.A.S.R. 12. The reasonable suspicion must attach to the property and not merely to the person in possession of it; and the fact that the person in possession has given a false account as to how he came by the property does not, of itself, justify a reasonable suspicion that the property was stolen or unlawfully obtained. It is not necessary, however, before a reasonable suspicion can be formed that the person suspecting should have a belief that the property answered to the description of property reported as stolen. Other circumstances (including the nature of the property, the circumstances in which it has been found and the behaviour of the possessor with respect to it) may reasonably attract suspicion to the property.

O'SULLIVAN v. REEDY 27 A.L.J. 290 affirming REEDY v. O'SULLIVAN (1953) S.A.S.R. 114. It is a necessary ingredient of an offence under section 93 (1) of the Police Act, 1936, of being in possession of property which "may . . . have and whether the possession had been parted with before the hearing or not, it shall for the purpose of this section be deemed to have been in the possession of that person.

Larceny of things attached to land.
cf. 2280, 1936, s. 98 (1) (a) and (b).

42. (1) Any person who—

(a) steals, or with intent to steal, severs removes damages or destroys any article fixed to or in or forming part of any land or building, or growing in any land; or

(b) receives any such article knowing it to have been stolen or unlawfully obtained, shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds, or imprisonment for six months.

(2) Upon convicting a person for an offence against this section the court may order him to pay to the owner of the land or building or the article such amount as the court deems just by way of compensation for the loss caused to such owner by the defendant.

(3) In this section "article" includes any wood, metal, mineral, or other substance, any article or structure fabricated from wood, metal, mineral, or other substance, and any tree, sapling, shrub, seedling, plant or other vegetable growth.

s. 41. (contd.) been" reasonably suspected of having been stolen or unlawfully obtained, that a concrete suspicion must have been actually entertained on reasonable grounds by some particular person at some particular time prior to the making of the charge. Accordingly, a complaint alleging that the defendant had goods in his possession which "might have been" suspected of having been stolen did not disclose an offence under section 93 (1) of the Police Act, 1936.

O'SULLIVAN v. REEDY (1952) 87 C.L.R. 291; 27 A.L.J. 290, affirming REEDY v. O'SULLIVAN (1955) S.A.S.R. 114. Held that it was a necessary ingredient of an offence under section 93 (1) of the Police Act, 1936, that a concrete suspicion must have been actually entertained on reasonable grounds by some particular person at some particular time prior to the making of the charge; and, accordingly, a complaint alleging that the defendant had goods in his possession which "might have been" reasonably suspected of having been stolen did not disclose an offence under section 93 (1).

PALUMBO v. O'SULLIVAN (1955) S.A.S.R. 315. Meaning of the word "possession" in section 41 and the nature of the onus of proof under the section, considered.

WALLACE v. HANSBERRY (1959) S.A.S.R. 20. Upon a charge under section 41, the prosecution is required to prove, beyond reasonable doubt, (1) possession by the defendant of personal property: (2) a suspicion entertained by some person (either at the time of the possession or at some subsequent time prior to the making of the complaint) that the property had been stolen or unlawfully obtained: and (3) that the suspicion was entertained upon reasonable grounds. The prosecution is not required to establish mens rea on the part of the defendant; and if the three elements of the charge have been found, the defendant is liable to be convicted of the offence unless he proves, on the balance of probabilities, that he obtained possession of the property honestly. It is not necessary that any witness for the prosecution should expressly depose in evidence that he actually entertained a suspicion that the property had been stolen or unlawfully obtained; but it is sufficient if the evidence shows that the witness did in fact entertain such a suspicion.

Offences with Respect to Property.

Wilful damage to property. cf. 2280, 1936, s. 97 (1).

43. (1) Any person who wilfully and without lawful authority destroys or damages any property shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds or imprisonment for three months.

(2) Upon convicting a person for an offence against this section the court may order him to pay to the owner of the property destroyed or damaged such sum as the court deems just by way of compensation for the loss caused to the owner by the defendant.

Arrest of persons pawning or selling stolen goods. 2280, 1936, s. 69.

77. Any person to whom any property is offered to be sold, pawned, or delivered, if he has reasonable cause to suspect that the person so offering the property has committed any offence with respect to that property, may apprehend the person so offering the property, and detain him until he can be delivered into the custody of a member of the police force, to be dealt with according to law.

Proceedings on arrest without warrant. 2280, 1936, s. 70. Amended by 39, 1957, s. 5, and by 1, 1960, s. 3.

78. (1) Any person apprehended without a warrant under any of the preceding sections of this Act shall be forthwith delivered into the custody of the member of the police force who is in charge of the nearest police station, in order that that person may be secured until he can be brought before a justice to be dealt with according to law, or, if such member deems it prudent to take bail, until he has given bail for his appearance before a justice:

Provided that where a person has been so apprehended at a place not more than fifteen miles in a direct line from the General Post Office at Adelaide upon suspicion of having committed an offence against section 48 or section 121a of the Road Traffic Act, 1934-1956, he may be delivered as aforesaid into the custody of the member of police force who is in charge of—

(a) the police station at Adelaide, known as the City Watch House; or

(b) the police station at Port Adelaide; or

(c) the police station nearest to the place where the person was apprehended.

(2) When any person apprehended under this Act without a warrant is deliverd into the custody of any member of the police force in charge of any police station, that member may, if he deems it prudent, take bail by recognizance, with or without sureties, as he thinks fit, without any fee or reward, from that person, the condition of the recognizance being that that person shall appear for examination before a justice at the place specified in the recognizance at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon next after the recognizance is taken, unless that hour falls on a Sunday or Christmas Day or Good Friday, or any public holiday, and in that case at the like hour on the succeeding day.

(3) Every recognizance so taken shall be of equal obligation on the parties entering into it, and the same proceedings shall lie for enforcing it as if it had been taken before a justice.

(4) The member of the police force taking any such recognizance shall keep the original recognizance in the police station of which he is in charge and shall lay it before the justice who is present at the time and place when and where the party is required to appear.

(5) An apparently genuine document purporting to be a recognizance under this section shall upon production and without proof of any signature be admitted before any court or justice as prima facie evidence of all matters recorded or stated therein.

(6) If the party fails to appear, but applies by any person on his behalf to postpone the hearing of the charge against him, and the justice consents thereto, the justice may enlarge the recognizance to such further time as he appoints.

(7) When the matter has been heard and determined, either by the dismissal of the case or by binding the party over to answer the matter thereof or otherwise, the recognizance for the appearance of the party before a justice shall be discharged without fee or reward.

Arrest without warrant where warrant has been issued. 2280, 1936, s. 71.

79. (1) Any member of the police force may, without a warrant, take into custody any person whom he has reasonable cause for believing or suspecting to be a person for whose apprehension or commitment a warrant has been issued by any justice.

s. 79. BULL v. LAING (1929) S.A.S.R. 65; 12 Austn. Digest 450. Prior to the amendment made by Act 1936 of 1929, section 50 of the Police Act, 1916, did not affect the rule that when an officer executes a warrant of commitment for non-payment of a fine imposed by a court of summary jurisdiction he must have the warrant in his possession.

(2) If any member of the police force, without a warrant, takes into custody any person whom he has reasonable cause for believing or suspecting to be a person for whose committal a warrant has been issued by a justice, that member shall forthwith deliver that person into the custody of the member of the police force in charge of the nearest police station, and shall as soon as conveniently may be, produce or cause to be produced to the person taken in custody the warrant of commitment (if any); whereupon the said person shall be dealt with as required by the warrant.

Right of arrested person to appear before justice to apply for bail.

80. (1) When a person arrested without a warrant is delivered into the custody of a member of the police force at a police station, and that member does not on application admit the arrested person to bail, the member shall, if so requested by the arrested person, forthwith bring him before a justice if there is one present in order that an application for bail may be made to and dealt with by that justice.

(2) Subsection (1) of this section does not apply where the person in custody was arrested upon suspicion of being a person in respect of whom a warrant of commitment has been issued.

Power to search, examine, and take particulars of persons in custody. 2280, 1936, s. 72.

81. (1) When a person is in lawful custody upon a charge of committing any offence, any member of the police force may search his person and take from him anything found upon his person, and may use such force as is reasonably necessary for those purposes.

(2) When a person is in lawful custody upon a charge of committing any offence and there are reasonable grounds for believing that an examination of his person will afford evidence as to the commission of the offence, any legally qualified medical practitioner acting at the request of any member of the police force in charge of a police station, or of or above the rank of sergeant, and any person acting in good faith in his aid and under his direction, may make such an examination of the person so in custody as is reasonable in order to ascertain the facts which may afford such evidence, and may use such force as is reasonably necessary for that purpose.

(3) Where a member of the police force intends to request a medical practitioner to examine a person in custody—

(a) such member shall before communicating with the medical practitioner for the purpose of making such request inform the person in custody of his said intention and inquire from such person whether he desires to be examined also by another medical practitioner named by him:

(b) if such person states that he does so desire, and names a medical practitioner such member shall promptly take all reasonable steps to inform that practitioner by telephone message that the person in custody desires him to attend at the police station and examine such person.

A person in custody shall be liable for the cost of any medical examination conducted at his request under this subsection, and neither the Crown nor any member of the police force shall be liable for that cost.

Failure to comply with this subsection shall not affect the legality of the detention of any person in custody, or of any medical examination conducted at the request of a member of the force.

(4) When a person is in lawful custody upon a charge of committing any offence any member of the police force in charge of a police station or of or above the rank of sergeant, may take or cause to be taken all such particulars as he deems necessary for the identification of that person, including his photograph and finger-prints, and may use or cause to be used such reasonable force as may be necessary to secure those particulars.

(5) The powers given by this section are in addition to and shall not derogate from any other powers of members of the police force.

General powers, privileges, duties, etc., of police.

82. Every member of the police force shall have, in addition to the powers, privileges, duties, and responsibilities conferred or imposed by this or any other Act, all such powers, privileges, duties, and responsibilities as any constable has by the common law.

Escape from custody. 2280, 1936, s. 72a. 44, 1946, s. 10.

83. Any person who being lawfully in the custody of a member of the police force, or lawfully confined in a police prison or police cell escapes or attempts to escape from that custody, prison, or cell, shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: One hundred pounds or imprisonment for twelve months.

Miscellaneous Provisions.

Proceedings for offences.

84. Proceedings for offences against this Act shall be heard and determined summarily.

Proceedings against persons acting under the Act. 2280, 1936, s. 150.

85. (1) No action shall be brought against any person for any act done in pursuance or execution or intended execution of this Act or in respect of any act or default in the execution of this Act unless it is commenced before the expiration of six months from the date on which the cause of action accrued.

(2) Where the act, neglect, or default is a continuing one the cause of action shall be deemed to accrue at the time when the act, neglect, or default ceases.

(3) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and (2) of this section the court may hear and determine an action brought after the time mentioned in this section if satisfied that failure to commence the action within that time was due to legal disability, absence from the State, or other reasonable cause, but in no case shall an action be maintained if commenced after the period fixed by the Limitation of Actions Act, 1936-1948.

(4) In any such action the defendant may plead the general issue, and give this Act and the special matter in evidence, at any trial to be had thereon.

(5) No plaintiff shall succeed in any such action if tender of sufficient amends has been made before action brought, or if a sufficient sum of money has been paid into court after action brought by or on behalf of the defendant, together with the costs incurred up to that time.
