- (iii) an offence under section 99I of the Criminal Procedure Act 1921;
- (iv) an offence prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this paragraph; or
- 20
- (c) a serious sexual offender who is serving a sentence of imprisonment imposed in respect of any other offence to be served concurrently or consecutively with a sentence of imprisonment in respect of a serious sexual offence; or
- (d) a serious violent offender who is serving a sentence of imprisonment imposed in respect of a serious offence of violence; or
- 25
- (e) a serious violent offender who is serving a sentence of imprisonment imposed in respect of any other offence to be served concurrently or consecutively with a sentence of imprisonment in respect of a serious offence of violence; or
- 30
- (f) a terror suspect who is serving a sentence of imprisonment; or
- (g) a person who is subject to an extended supervision order; or
- (h) a person who is detained pursuant to a preventative detention order; or
- 35
- (i) a person who is serving a sentence of imprisonment during the course of which an extended supervision order applying to the person expires.

6—Application of Act

- 40
- (1) Subject to subsection (2), an application for a supervision order under this Act may not be made in respect of a person who is under the age of 18 years.

(2) An application for a supervision order under this Act (which applies with any modifications prescribed by the regulations) may be made in respect of a person who—

- (a) is of or above the age of 16 years; and
(b) is a terror suspect.

18—Amendment of section 7—Proceedings

(1) Section 7(2)—delete "extended supervision order may only be made within 12 months of" and substitute:

order under this section may only be made within the 12 months preceding

(2) Section 7—after subsection (6) insert:

(7) In determining whether to make an order under this section in respect of the respondent, the Court must not take into consideration any intention of the respondent to leave this State (whether permanently or temporarily).

19—Amendment of section 9—Interim supervision orders

Section 9—after subsection (2) insert:

(3) The obligations of a person subject to an interim supervision order are suspended during any period that the person is in government custody.

20—Amendment of section 10—Supervision orders—terms and conditions

(1) Section 10(1)—after paragraph (d) insert:

(da) a condition that the person subject to the order is prohibited from leaving the State without the permission of the Supreme Court or the Parole Board, which may be subject to the terms and conditions that the Court or the Parole Board (as the case requires) thinks fit;

(2) Section 10(1)(e)—after "order" insert:

(including any condition the Parole Board is able to impose under section 11(1))

(3) Section 10—after subsection (4) insert:

(5) The Supreme Court or the Parole Board (as the case requires) may only give permission under subsection (1)(da) if the person provides information about their proposed travel out of the State, including any particulars prescribed by the regulations, to the Court, the Parole Board or any other person specified by the Court or the Board.

21—Amendment of section 11—Conditions of extended supervision orders imposed by Parole Board

Section 11(1)(a)—after subparagraph (i) insert:

(ia) remain at the person's residence during a specified period and not leave the residence at any time during that period except for a specified purpose, or in specified circumstances; or

22—Amendment of section 13—Variation and revocation of supervision order by Supreme Court

Section 13—after subsection (3) insert:

- 5
- (4) If the Supreme Court is of the opinion that an application under subsection (1) for the variation of a condition of an order should be determined by the Parole Board, the Court may refer the application to the Board for determination.
- (5) The Supreme Court may make rules in respect of the transfer of specified classes of applications to the Parole Board.
- 10
- (6) If an application is transferred or referred to the Parole Board under this section, the application will proceed as if it had been made to the Parole Board and a reference to the Supreme Court in this section will be taken to be a reference to the Board (as the case requires).

23—Amendment of section 14—Consequential and ancillary orders

Section 14—after subsection (2) insert:

- (2a) The Parole Board may, on varying a supervision order, make any consequential or ancillary order it thinks fit in the circumstances of the particular case.

24—Insertion of section 14A

20

After section 14 insert:

14A—Variation or revocation of supervision order by Parole Board

- 25
- (1) The Parole Board may, on application made by the Attorney-General or a person subject to a supervision order, vary or revoke a condition of the order (including a condition imposed by the Supreme Court) or impose further conditions on the order.
- (2) A person subject to a supervision order may only apply under subsection (1) with the permission of the Parole Board.
- 30
- (3) The Parole Board must give notice of each application under this section to the Supreme Court.
- (4) The Parole Board may only grant permission under subsection (2) if satisfied that—
- (a) there has been a material change in circumstances relating to the person or supervision order; and
- 35
- (b) it is in the interests of justice to grant permission.
- (5) The Parole Board must not determine an application under this section unless the person subject to the order and the Attorney-General have been afforded a reasonable opportunity to make submissions to the Parole Board on the matter, and the Board has considered any submissions so made.
- 40

- (6) The Parole Board may only vary or revoke the condition imposed by section 10(1)(b) if satisfied that—
- (a) there are cogent reasons to do so; and
  - (b) the possession of the firearm, ammunition or part of a firearm by the person does not represent an undue risk to the safety of the public.
- (7) The Parole Board must, on varying a supervision order or imposing a further condition on an order—
- (a) take all reasonable steps to explain to the person the subject of the order the terms and conditions of the order and, in particular—
    - (i) the person's obligations under the order; and
    - (ii) the consequences that may follow from a failure to comply with the order; and
  - (b) forward a copy of the order as varied to the Supreme Court and to the Commissioner of Police.
- (8) If the Parole Board is of the opinion that an application under subsection (1) for the variation of a condition of an order (including the question of permission under subsection (2)) should be determined by the Supreme Court, the Parole Board may refer the application to the Court.
- (9) If the Supreme Court is of the opinion that an application made under subsection (1) should be determined by the Court, the Court may order that the application be heard and determined by the Court.
- (10) The Supreme Court may make rules in respect of the transfer of specified classes of applications to the Court.
- (11) If an application is transferred or referred to the Supreme Court under this section, the application will proceed as if it had been made to the Court and a reference to the Parole Board in this section will be taken to be a reference to the Court (as the case requires).

25—Amendment of section 17—Proceedings before Parole Board under this Part

Section 17(1)(b)—after subparagraph (i) insert:

- (ia) direct that the person be detained in custody pending circumstances necessary for the purposes of ensuring the person's compliance with a condition of the order being in place; or

26—Amendment of section 18—Continuing detention order

- (1) Section 18(2)—delete "until the expiration of the supervision order, or for such lesser period as may be specified by the Court" and substitute:

- (c) until the expiration of the breached supervision order; or

(d) if a further supervision order is made in respect of the person—until the expiration of that further supervision order; or

(e) for such lesser period as may be specified by the Court.

(2) Section 18—after subsection (4) insert:

(4a) If the Supreme Court declines to make a continuing detention order in respect of a person the subject of proceedings under this section the Court may—

(a) vary or revoke a condition of the supervision order applying in respect of the person or impose further conditions on the supervision order; and

(b) order that the person be detained in custody beyond the determination of the proceedings—

(i) pending circumstances reasonably necessary for the purposes of ensuring the person's compliance with a condition of the supervision order being in place; or

(ii) in exceptional circumstances, for a period necessary in the circumstances of the case.

(4b) If the Supreme Court makes a continuing detention order in respect of a person the subject of proceedings under this section and the continuing detention order will expire before the supervision order applying to the person expires, the Court may vary or revoke a condition of the supervision order or impose further conditions on the supervision order.

27—Insertion of Part 3A

After Part 3 insert:

Part 3A—Inter-agency cooperation

19AA—Interpretation

In this Part, unless the contrary intention appears—

corresponding law means a law of the Commonwealth or of another State or a Territory of the Commonwealth, that substantially corresponds to this Act;
