- (3) If a government authority reasonably incurs costs or expenses as a result of taking action to which this section applies or causing such action to be taken, the costs or expenses are recoverable as a debt in a court of competent jurisdiction.

- (a) that the dangerous situation was due to the act or default of another person, or to some cause beyond the person's control; and
- (b) that the person could not by the exercise of reasonable diligence have prevented the occurrence of the dangerous situation; and
- 40

(c) that the dangerous situation was not attributable to an act or omission of an employee or agent of the person at the time.

5 (9) This section does not exclude or derogate from any right to recover an amount in respect of costs or expenses that exists apart from this section but the Crown or a government authority is not entitled to recover, in respect of the same costs or expenses, an amount under this section and an amount in proceedings founded on rights that exist apart from this section.

10 (10) For the purposes of this section, a body that forms part, or is established for the purposes, of an agency or instrumentality of the Crown is not to be regarded as itself constituting a separate agency or instrumentality.

15 (11) In proceedings under this section, a document apparently signed by the principal officer of the relevant government authority certifying as to the incurring of costs or expenses as a result of action to which this section applies, and as to the amount of those costs or expenses, constitutes proof, in the absence of proof to the contrary, of the matters so certified.
