- (4) Unless otherwise specified, ordinary weekly pay will be determined as at the end of the last completed return period under this Act.

4A—Determination of ordinary weekly pay in certain circumstances

- (1) If at any time it appears to the Board that a construction worker's ordinary weekly pay calculated in accordance with this Act is—
 - (a) excessive; or
 - (b) insufficient,by reason of—
 - (c) the nature of the work performed by the construction worker at any time material to the calculation; or

- (2) A notice under subsection (1) must specify a time within which the construction worker (or his or her representative) and the employer may make written submissions to the Board that the construction worker's ordinary weekly pay should be an amount different to the amount proposed by the Board.
- (3) In making a determination under this section the Board must take into account any written submission received within the time specified under subsection (2) and may otherwise inform itself in such manner as it thinks fit, but except as provided by this section the Board is not required to give to any person notice of or an opportunity to answer or to be heard in relation to any matter taken into account by the Board in making the determination.
- (4) The Board must cause notice of its determination to be served on the construction worker (or his or her personal representative) and on the construction worker's employer (if any).
- (5) The notice must include a statement of the grounds upon which the determination has been made.

- (6) If the Board makes a determination of a construction worker's ordinary weekly pay under this section, that determination will prevail over any amount that would otherwise constitute the construction worker's ordinary weekly pay under this Act.

5—Application of this Act

- (1aa) Subject to this section, this Act applies to a person's employment if the person is within the ambit of subsections (1), (1a) or (1b).

- (1) A person is within the ambit of this subsection if—
- (a) the person works under a contract of service in the construction industry; and
 - (b) —
 - (i) an award referred to in Schedule 1 or the regulations prescribes a weekly rate of pay for work of that kind; or
 - (ii) the person works on site as a foreman and within 12 months before commencing work as a foreman the person worked in some other capacity as a construction worker under an award referred to in Schedule 1 or the regulations; and
 - (c) —
 - (i) the employment involves on site work that makes up the whole, or a proportion of at least one-half, of the period of employment over—
 - (A) the whole period of employment; or
 - (B) the first month of employment; or
 - (C) any three—month period of employment; or
 - (ii) in the case of a foreman, the on site employment involves supervising other employees who work on the site, but without affecting any accrued effective service entitlement, this subsection ceases to apply to the employment if the employee has not worked on site for the last three months or, in the case of a foreman, has not gone on site in the performance of his or her functions as a foreman for the last three months (disregarding any period during which the employee is absent from work as a result of an allowable absence).

- (1a) A person is within the ambit of this subsection if—
- (a) the person works under a contract of service in the construction industry; and
 - (b) an award referred to in Schedule 1A, or the regulations, prescribe a weekly rate of pay for work of that kind (subject to any limitation as to classifications referred to in that Schedule or the regulations); and

- (a) the person has been employed as a construction worker within the ambit of subsections (1) or (1a); and

- (b) the person is seconded to a relevant association to act as an officer or employee of the association after being granted leave without pay by an employer in the construction industry; and
- (c) the relevant association is registered with the Board for the purposes of this provision; and
- (d) the person is not (and does not become) a member of the governing body of the relevant association, but without affecting an accrued effective service entitlement, this subsection ceases to apply to the person if the person attains an effective service entitlement of 2 600 days.

- (2) Where this Act applies to employment by virtue of subsection (1)(c)(i)(C), it will be taken to have commenced to apply from the commencement of the three-month period referred to in that subsection.
- (2a) Where this Act applies to employment by virtue of subsection (1b), the relevant association will be taken to be the employer of the person (as a construction worker) for the purposes of this Act.
- (2b) Despite subsection (1aa), Parts 3 and 5 do not apply to a person's employment (and consequently the person is not a construction worker for the purposes of those Parts) if the person's employer is a body corporate and the person is a director of that body corporate.
- (3) Where—
 - (a) a person carries out construction work on premises owned or occupied by his or her employer (not being premises intended for subsequent sale or lease); and
 - (b) that is the sole construction work in which the person is engaged by that employer,this Act does not apply to that employment.

 - (a) the Crown;
 - (b) an agency or instrumentality of the Crown;
 - (c) a council;

The Board may, by arrangement with a department of the Public Service of the State, a public authority or a public instrumentality, make use of the services, facilities or staff of the department, authority or instrumentality.

Part 3—Long service leave entitlements

14—Effective service entitlement

- (1) Subject to this Act, a construction worker's entitlement to long service leave, or payment on account of long service leave, is determined according to his or her aggregate effective service entitlement.
- (2) A person will be credited with one day of effective service—
 - (a) for each day that he or she works as a construction worker; and
 - (b) for each day of a period of allowable absence,(and the aggregate of those days of effective service will be the worker's aggregate effective service entitlement).
- (2a) However, a person cannot be credited with more than five days of effective service in any week (and accordingly cannot be credited with more than 260 days of effective service in a financial year).
- (3) Where—
 - (a) a construction worker who has an effective service entitlement of less than 2 600 days is dismissed from employment as a construction worker; and

- (b) the Board is satisfied, after affording the former construction worker and his or her former employer an opportunity to be heard, that the construction worker was properly dismissed on the ground of serious and wilful misconduct, any effective service entitlement of the worker accrued in that employment is cancelled.

(4) Where—

- (a) a construction worker has an effective service entitlement of less than 1 820 days; and
- (b) the construction worker has not previously had an effective service entitlement of 2 600 days or more; and
- (c) the construction worker ceases to be employed as such for a continuous period that is equal to, or longer than, the prescribed period for some reason other than physical or mental disability and no right to preservation of the effective service entitlement arises under this Act, the effective service entitlement will be cancelled (but the subsection does not apply where the construction worker continues in employment by the person in whose employment the entitlement accrued (either wholly or in part) or where the construction worker continues to be employed by an employer within the construction industry).

- (5) Where a person takes long service leave, or receives a payment on account of long service leave, the person's effective service entitlement is reduced accordingly.

15—Crediting effective service under this Act and the Long Service Leave Act

- (1) If a person employed as a construction worker commences work in a different capacity in the service of the same employer, the person's continuity of service is preserved and any period of effective service credited under this Act will be credited to the person under the Long Service Leave Act 1987 (on the basis that five days of effective service under this Act is equivalent to seven days of service under the other Act) (and an effective service so credited will then be cancelled under this Act).
- (2) If a person employed in a capacity other than as a construction worker commences work as a construction worker in the service of the same employer, the person's continuity of service is preserved and the period of that person's service calculated in accordance with the Long Service Leave Act 1987 up to the point of change in the nature of employment will be credited as effective service for the purposes of this Act (on the basis that seven days of service under the other Act is equivalent to five days of effective service under this Act).
- (3) If—
 - (a) a person's service under the Long Service Leave Act 1987 includes a period of effective service credited under subsection (1); and
 - (b) the person becomes entitled to long service leave, or to a payment in lieu of long service leave, under that Act, the Board must pay to the person's employer an amount calculated as follows:

$$A = \frac{OWP \times D \times 1.3}{260}$$

where—

A is the amount payable

OWP is the person's ordinary weekly pay applicable under the Long Service Leave Act 1987

D is the effective service entitlement of the person as a construction worker under this Act (expressed in days).

- (4) If—
- (a) a person's effective service entitlement under this Act includes a period of service credited under subsection (2); and
 - (b) the person becomes entitled to long service leave, or to a payment on account of long service leave, under this Act, the Board may recover from the person's employer (being the employer referred to in subsection (2)) an amount calculated as follows:

$$A = \frac{OWP \times D \times 1.3}{365}$$

where—

A is the amount payable

OWP is the person's ordinary weekly pay applicable under this Act

D is the person's period of continuous service accrued under the Long Service Leave Act 1987 at the time that the person commenced work as a construction worker (expressed in days).

16—Long service leave entitlement

- (1) Subject to this Act, a construction worker who has an effective service entitlement of 2 600 days is entitled to 13 weeks long service leave.
- (2) Long service leave must be granted by the employer by whom the construction worker is employed when the entitlement arises as soon as practicable (taking into account the needs of the employer) after the person becomes entitled to the leave.
- (3) Notwithstanding subsection (2), an employer and a construction worker may agree that the construction worker take leave in separate periods subject to the following qualifications:
 - (a) a construction worker's first long service leave entitlement cannot be taken in more than three separate periods; and
 - (b) each such period must be constituted by whole weeks of leave and be of at least two weeks duration; and
 - (c) any subsequent period of long service leave to which the construction worker becomes entitled must be taken in periods of at least two weeks duration.

- (4) Where—
- (a) a construction worker takes long service leave; or
 - (b) the construction worker's employment by the employer referred to in subsection (2) comes to an end before he or she takes accrued long service leave and the worker, in a manner and form approved by the Board, makes an election under this provision, the Board must pay to the person an amount calculated by multiplying his or her ordinary weekly pay by the period of leave referred to in paragraph (a) or (b) (as the case may be).

- (5) If a person dies, any entitlement of the person under this section vests in his or her personal representative.

17—Cessation of employment

- (1) Where, on application to the Board in a form approved by the Board, the Board is satisfied that—
- (a) —
 - (i) a construction worker has attained an effective service entitlement of 1 820 days or more (but less than 2 600 days); or
 - (ii) a construction worker has attained an effective service entitlement of less than 1 820 days and has previously had an effective service entitlement of 2 600 days or more; or
 - (iii) a construction worker has attained an effective service entitlement of 2 600 days but has not taken all of the long service leave to which he or she is entitled; and
 - (b) the construction worker has—
 - (i) died; or
 - (iii) ceased to work as a construction worker because of a physical or mental disability that will prevent him or her from working as a construction worker for a continuous period of 12 months or more; or
 - (iv) ceased to work as a construction worker and will not be working as a construction worker for a continuous period of 12 months or more (from the time when he or she ceased to work as a construction worker), the Board must pay to the person (or his or her personal representative) an amount calculated as follows:

$$A = \frac{OWP \times D \times 1.3}{260}$$

where—

A is the amount payable

OWP is the person's ordinary weekly pay applicable under this Act as at—

- if the worker has died—the day of death;

- in any other case—the day on which the person ceased work as a construction worker

D is the effective service entitlement (expressed in days).

- (2) If the Board rejects an application under subsection (1), the Board must give the applicant written notice of its decision (setting out a brief statement of the Board's reasons for making its decision).

18—Preservation of entitlements in certain cases

- (1) If—
 - (a) a person who has an effective service entitlement ceases to be employed as a construction worker; and
 - (b) the person is not entitled to long service leave or a payment for pro rata long service leave; and
 - (c) the person commences work as a supervisor in the construction industry within the prescribed period after cessation of his or her employment as a construction worker; and
 - (d) the person provides notice of his or her work as a supervisor to the Board in accordance with the regulations within six months after the person commences work as a supervisor in the construction industry (or within such longer period as the Board may, in its absolute discretion, allow), the effective service entitlement is preserved.

- (2) If the person (or his or her personal representative) satisfies the Board that the aggregate period of work in the construction industry (as a construction worker and subsequently as a supervisor) totals 1 820 working days or more, the Board must pay to the person (or his or her personal representative) an amount calculated as follows:

$$A = \frac{OWP \times D \times 1.3}{260}$$

where—

A is the amount payable

OWP is the person's ordinary weekly pay applicable under this Act

D is the effective service entitlement preserved under subsection (1) (expressed in days).

- (3) In this section—

supervisor means a person (other than a person within the ambit of section 5(1)) who is responsible for the daily on site supervision of works.

19—Employment during leave

- (1) A construction worker must not, while on long service leave, engage in any other employment in place of his or her employment as a construction worker.

Maximum penalty: $1 000.

Expiation fee: $100.

- (2) An employer must not, knowing that a construction worker is on long service leave, engage him or her in employment so that a breach of subsection (1) is committed.

Maximum penalty: $1 000.

- (2) The Construction Industry Fund will be administered by the Board.
- (3) The Construction Industry Fund will consist of—
 - (a) money standing to the credit of the Construction Industry Fund and the Electrical and Metal Trades Fund immediately before the commencement of this section; and
 - (b) levies received by the Board from employers; and
 - (c) income and accretions produced by the investment of money from the Fund; and
 - (d) money advanced to the Board for the purposes of the Fund; and
 - (e) penalties and fines recovered by the Board under this Act; and
 - (f) other money payable to the Fund under this Act.
- (4) There will be paid from the Construction Industry Fund—
 - (a) any long service leave benefits that the Board is liable to pay under this Act; and

 - (c) other money authorised to be paid from the Fund under this Act.

20C—Exemption from taxes and charges

The Fund, and all transactions relating to the Fund, are exempt from all taxes and other charges imposed under the law of the State.

If—

- (a) a person was, immediately before the commencement of the 1995 Act—
- (i) in employment that qualified the person as a construction worker under this Act; and
 - (ii) registered with the Board; and
- (b) this Act would, but for this subsection, cease to apply to work in that form of employment on the commencement of the 1995 Act, then this Act will, despite the enactment of the 1995 Act (and without limiting the application of this Act to a person who subsequently works as a construction worker in any other form of employment), continue to apply to the person while he or she remains in that form of employment with the same employer (as if the person continued to be a construction worker within the meaning of this Act).

4—Special rates—Self-employed contractors

The Board may, on the commencement of the 1995 Act, for the purposes of section 37A of this Act—

- (a) set a contribution rate; and
- (b) set an interest rate, for the 1994/1995 financial year (despite the commencement of that financial year).

Schedule 4—Transitional provisions—1975 Act

1—Interpretation

In this Schedule—

1987 transitional provisions means the provisions that constituted Schedule 3 of this Act at the time that this Act came into operation (1 April 1988).

2—Effective service entitlements not previously recognised

The Board may, on its own initiative or on application under this Schedule, credit to a person under this Act any effective service entitlement that accrued to the person under the repealed Act in respect of any period of service occurring after the commencement of that Act (and that has not been previously credited to the person under this Act).

3—Employer contributions

- (1) If—
 - (a) a person is credited with an effective service entitlement under the 1987 transitional provisions or under this Schedule; and
 - (b) contributions have not been paid by the person who was the employer in respect of the period of service to which the entitlement relates, the Board is entitled to recover from the person referred to in paragraph (b), in respect of any period of service occurring after the commencement of the repealed Act, an amount assessed or estimated by the Board as being equal to the total contributions that would have been payable by the person as an employer under the repealed Act in respect of that period of service, together with interest on each such contribution at a rate equal to the rate that applies under section 29(1)(a) for each full financial year from the date on which the contribution would have been so payable.

- (2) An amount that the Board is entitled to recover from a person under subclause (1) will be taken to be unpaid levy assessed by the Board as being payable by the person as an employer under section 28(2) (and may be recovered by the Board as such).

- (3) The Board may—
- (a) allow an amount payable under subclause (1) to be paid by instalments over a period not exceeding 12 months;
 - (b) for any proper reason remit interest payable under subclause (1) wholly or in part.

4—Leave previously granted

Long service leave granted, or a payment made on account of long service leave, before the commencement of this Act will, in respect of the period or entitlement to which it related, be presumed to have been granted or made under this Act.
