5—Act to bind Crown

The rights and liabilities of all persons are, by force of this Act, declared to be, and always to have been, the same as if—

- (a) each ineffective judgment of—

 - (a) the Federal Court of Australia, otherwise than as a Full Court of the Federal Court of Australia; or is taken to be a judgment of the Supreme Court constituted of a single Judge.

- (1) Any act or thing done or omitted to be done before or after the commencement of this section under or in relation to a right or liability conferred, imposed or affected by section 6—
 - (a) has the same effect, and gives rise to the same consequences, for the purposes of any written or other law; and
 - (b) is to be regarded as always having had the same effect, and given rise to the same consequences, for the purposes of any written or other law, as if it were done, or omitted to be done, to give effect to, or under the authority of, or in reliance on, a judgment of the Supreme Court.

- (2) For the purposes of an enforcement law, any act or thing done or omitted to be done before or after the commencement of this section gives rise to the same consequences, and is to be regarded as always having given rise to the same consequences, as if each ineffective judgment were a valid judgment of the Supreme Court given in or in relation to the proceeding in or in relation to which the ineffective judgment was given or recorded.
- (3) In this section—enforcement law means a provision of a law (other than a law relating to contempt of court) that sets out a consequence for a person if the person—

 - (b) purportedly affected rights or liabilities in a way similar to or different from the way in which they were purportedly affected by the earlier judgment.

- (1) The Supreme Court may vary, revoke, set aside, revive or suspend a right or liability conferred, imposed or affected by section 6 as if it were a right or liability conferred, imposed or affected by the Supreme Court in or in relation to proceedings of the kind in or in relation to which the ineffective judgment was given or recorded.
- (2) In addition to its powers under subsection (1), the Supreme Court also has power to give a judgment achieving any other result that could have been achieved if—
 - (a) the ineffective judgment had been a valid judgment of the Supreme Court given in or in relation to proceedings of the kind in or in relation to which the ineffective judgment was given or recorded; and
 - (b) the Supreme Court had been considering whether—
 - (i) to vary, revoke, set aside, revive or suspend that judgment; or

- (2) A person who was a party to a proceeding in which a relevant order is made may apply to the Supreme Court for an order that the proceeding be treated as a proceeding in the Supreme Court and the Supreme Court may make such an order.

- (3) If the Supreme Court makes an order under subsection (2), the proceeding, despite the relevant order—
- (a) becomes, and must be recorded by the Supreme Court as, a proceeding in the Supreme Court; and
 - (b) for the purposes of any limitation law and for all other purposes, is taken to have been brought in the Supreme Court on the day on which the proceeding was first recorded as a proceeding in the federal court.
- (4) The Supreme Court may make such ancillary orders in relation to an order under subsection (2) as it considers necessary for the purposes of the proceeding being treated as, becoming and being recorded as, a proceeding in the Supreme Court.

If, before or after the commencement of this section, a person has—

- (a) interfered with a right conferred or affected by section 6; or
- (b) failed to satisfy or comply with a liability imposed or affected by section 6, the interference or failure is, and is taken always to have been, a matter that can be dealt with in the same manner as if the interference or failure had been in relation to a right conferred or affected, or a liability imposed or affected, by an order of the Supreme Court.

13—Evidentiary

A federal court record, or a copy of a federal court record, of an ineffective judgment may be adduced in evidence to show the existence, nature and extent of each right or liability conferred, imposed or affected by section 6.
