Part 3—Certain matters to be resolved by management resolution

 - (b) management resolution of matters under this Part is to be conducted as expeditiously as possible and without undue formality.

18—Dealing with matters by way of management resolution

20—Monitoring of management resolutions under Part

The Commissioner must cause all matters dealt with under this Part to be monitored and reviewed with a view to maintaining proper and consistent practices.

Part 4—Formal proceedings for breach of discipline

21—Investigations of complaints and reports by IIS

- (1) Subject to this Act, each complaint or report referred to the IIS under this Act must be investigated by the IIS.

 - (a) the complaint or report is dealt with, or is to be dealt with, under Part 3; or
 - (b) the complaint or report is, or is to be, referred to the ICAC under section 29; or
 - (c) the conduct that is the subject of the complaint or report is being, or has previously been, assessed by the IIS, the OPI or the ICAC; or

 - (e) the matter raised in the complaint or report is, in the opinion of the officer in charge of the IIS, trivial; or
 - (f) the complaint or report is, in the opinion of the officer in charge of the IIS, frivolous or vexatious or not made in good faith; or

- (g) in the case of a complaint—having regard to all the circumstances of the case, the officer in charge of the IIS is of the opinion that an investigation of the complaint or report is unnecessary or unjustifiable (including, to avoid doubt, where the alleged conduct of the designated officer concerned is not sufficiently related to the exercise, performance or discharge (or purported exercise, performance or discharge) of his or her official powers, functions or duties).
- (3) Subject to this Act, an investigation may be conducted in such manner as the officer in charge of the IIS thinks fit.
- (4) A member of the IIS may, for the purposes of an investigation, make inquiries and obtain information, property, documents or other records relevant to the investigation, as he or she thinks fit.
- (5) A member of the IIS may, for the purposes of the investigation, direct a designated officer to furnish information, produce property, a document or other record, or answer a question, that is relevant to the investigation.
- (6) For the purposes of this Act and the Police Act 1998, a direction given by a member of the IIS under subsection (5) has effect as if it had been given by the Commissioner.
- (7) A member of the IIS must, before giving any direction under subsection (5) to the designated officer whose conduct is under investigation, inform the officer of—
- (a) the time and place at which the conduct is alleged to have occurred; and
 - (b) the nature of the alleged conduct.
- (8) Subsection (7)(a) does not apply if the time and place at which the conduct is alleged to have occurred is not known.
- (9) Subsection (7) does not apply if the member of IIS believes on reasonable grounds that so informing the designated officer may prejudice the investigation.
- (10) Without limiting any other provision of this or any other Act, a designated officer who—
- (a) without reasonable excuse, refuses or fails to furnish information, produce property, a document or other record or answer a question when so required under this section; or
 - (b) furnishes information or makes a statement to a member of the IIS knowing that it is false or misleading in a material particular,
- may be dealt with under this Act for a breach of discipline.
- (11) If a designated officer is directed under subsection (5) to furnish information, produce property, a document or record or answer a question, the officer is not excused from complying with the direction on the ground—
- (a) that the furnishing of the information, the production of the property, the document or record or the answering of the question—
 - (i) would be contrary to the public interest; or
 - (ii) would contravene the provisions of any other enactment; or

- (b) that the information, the property, the document or record or the answer to the question might tend to show that he or she has committed a breach of discipline.
- (12) A designated officer may refuse to furnish information, produce property, a document or record or answer a question if the information, the property, the document or record or the answer to the question might tend to incriminate him or her or a close relative of his or hers, but a designated officer who does so refuse may be dealt with under this Act for a breach of discipline.
- (13) A designated officer who furnishes information, produces property, a document or record or answers a question is not liable to a penalty under the provisions of any other law prohibiting such an act if the act is done in compliance with a direction given by a member of the IIS under this section.
- (14) The officer in charge of the IIS may, subject to any directions of the Commissioner, require a police officer not serving in the IIS to assist the IIS in conducting investigations under this section or to conduct investigations on behalf of the IIS, and, in that event, the provisions of this section apply as if the police officer were a member of the IIS.
- (15) This section does not limit or affect the powers or duties that a police officer would have apart from this Act in connection with the investigation of an offence.

22—Notice of allegation to be issued in respect of breaches of discipline

- (1) For the purposes of this Act, the Commissioner commences proceedings for a breach of discipline by presenting a notice of allegation to the Tribunal.
- (2) However, the Commissioner must not present a notice of allegation to the Tribunal unless he or she has advised the OPI that he or she intends to present the notice of allegation and has had regard to any submission made by the OPI relating to the matter (however a failure to comply with this subsection will not, of itself, invalidate a notice of allegation).
- (3) The Commissioner need not comply with subsection (2) where the Commissioner is satisfied that to do so would unduly delay any action to be taken in respect of the matter.
- (4) The Commissioner must, on commencing proceedings for a breach of discipline, provide to the designated officer concerned a written notice indicating the punishment that the Commissioner would be likely to impose if the breach of discipline were proved on the basis of the facts as known to the Commissioner at the time the notice of allegation is presented.
- (5) The notice referred to in subsection (4) must not be provided to the Tribunal in any proceedings under this Part.
- (6) A notice of allegation must comply with any requirements set out in the regulations.
- (7) A notice of allegation must be served on the designated officer in accordance with the regulations.

23—Suspension where charge of offence or alleged breach of discipline

- (1) If—
 - (a) a designated officer is charged with an offence (whether under the law of this State, the Commonwealth or another State or Territory); or
 - (b) a notice of allegation is, or is to be, served on a designated officer under this Act,the Commissioner may suspend the designated officer's appointment.
- (2) Subject to subsection (3), a suspension will be with remuneration.
- (3) The Commissioner may determine that a suspension will be without remuneration if the Commissioner believes on reasonable grounds that a failure to do so would bring SA Police into disrepute.
- (4) A suspension in relation to a notice of allegation that has yet to be served on a designated officer will be taken to have been revoked by the Commissioner if the notice of allegation is not so served within 24 hours (excluding a Saturday, Sunday or a public holiday falling on a Monday or Friday).
- (5) A suspension under this section must be revoked by the Commissioner if—
 - (a) the designated officer is found not guilty of the offence, or is found not to have committed the alleged breach of discipline, or the charge or allegation is dismissed, lapses or is withdrawn; and
 - (b) the designated officer does not stand charged of any other offence and no other breach of discipline is alleged.
- (6) If the suspension under this section of a designated officer's appointment is revoked by the Commissioner, then, subject to any determination of the Commissioner under the regulations, he or she is entitled to any remuneration or accrual of rights withheld in consequence of the suspension and the period of the suspension will count as service.

24—Designated officer may admit or deny allegations

On a notice of allegation being served on a designated officer, he or she may, within the period and in the manner prescribed by the regulations, admit or deny the allegation or allegations.

25—Allegations to be heard and determined by Tribunal

- (1) If an allegation contained in a notice of allegation is not admitted in accordance with section 24, the allegation is to be heard and determined by the Tribunal.
- (2) If the Tribunal is satisfied, on the balance of probabilities, that a designated officer committed a breach of discipline, the Tribunal must—
 - (a) make a finding that the designated officer committed the breach of discipline; and
 - (b) remit the proceedings to the Commissioner for the imposition of sanctions in accordance with section 26; and
 - (c) as soon as is reasonably practicable, notify the IIS of the matters referred to in a preceding paragraph.
