DIVISION II—SUPERANNUATION BENEFITS

Retirement

27. (1) A contributor may retire from employment at any time after reaching the age of 55 years.

(2) Upon retirement a contributor is entitled to a lump sum but may elect to convert 50 per cent or more of the lump sum to a pension.

(3) The lump sum is calculated as follows:

$$LS = M \times FS \times A$$

Where

LS is the lump sum

M is the retirement age multiple

FS is the contributor's actual or attributed salary immediately before retirement (expressed as an annual amount)

A is the lesser of the following:

(a) unity;

or

(b) the numerical value obtained by dividing the number of the contributor's accrued contribution points by the number of months between the date of the contributor's acceptance as a member of the STA scheme and the date on which the contributor retires or the date on which the contributor reaches the age of retirement whichever is the earlier.

(4) A contributor who elects to convert part of the lump sum to a pension is entitled to—

(a) the balance (if any) of the lump sum not converted to a pension;

and 7.

(b) a pension calculated as follows:

$$P = \frac{LS}{9}$$

Where

P is the amount of the pension (expressed as an annual amount)

LS is the amount of the lump sum to be converted to pension.

(5) For the purposes of this section, a contributor retires from employment if—

(a) the contributor has attained the age of 55 years;

and

(b) the contributor's employment terminates or is terminated for any reason (except the contributor's death).

(6) A pension payable under this section will be indexed.

Resignation and preservation

28. (1) A contributor who resigns from employment before reaching the age of 55 years may elect—

(a) to take immediately the amount referred to in subsection (5);

(b) to preserve his or her accrued superannuation benefits;

or

(c) to carry over his or her accrued superannuation benefits to some other superannuation fund or scheme approved by the Board, in accordance with criteria prescribed by the regulations, for the purposes of this paragraph.

(2) A contributor who fails to inform the Board in writing of his or her election under subsection (1) within three months after resignation will be taken to have elected to preserve his or her accrued superannuation benefits.

(3) If the Board is of the opinion that the limitation period referred to in subsection (2) would unfairly prejudice a contributor, the Board may extend the period as it applies to the contributor.

(3a) Where a contributor resigns and elects to take the amount referred to in subsection (5) the contributor is also entitled to a superannuation payment in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) if the amount of the superannuation payment is less than $500, the contributor is entitled to the payment upon resignation;

(b) in any other case—

- (i) the contributor may at any time after reaching the age of retirement require the Board to make the payment and, if no such requirement has been made on or before the date on which the contributor reaches 65 years of age, the Board will make the payment;
- (ii) if the contributor has reached the age of 55 years and is not employed by an employer within the meaning of the Commonwealth Act, the contributor may require the Board to make the payment to the contributor;
- (iii) if the contributor satisfies the Board that he or she has become totally and permanently incapacitated for work, the Board will make the payment to the contributor;
- (iv) if the contributor dies, the payment will be made to the spouse of the deceased contributor or, if he or she left no surviving spouse, to the contributor's estate,

(and a payment under any of the above subparagraphs excludes further rights so that a claim cannot be subsequently made under some other subparagraph).

(3b) The amount of the superannuation payment referred to in subsection (3a) is the amount of the minimum contribution required to avoid payment of the superannuation guarantee charge in respect of the contributor under the Commonwealth Act together with interest from the date of resignation.

(3c) The amount of interest will be calculated and credited to the contributor at the end of each financial year and will be calculated on the amount referred to in subsection (3b) at the end of the first financial year and on the aggregate of that amount and the interest previously credited at the end of each subsequent financial year.

(3d) The rate of interest will be determined in respect of each financial year and—

(a) in respect of a completed financial year, will be determined by taking the average of the 10 year bond rates declared by the South Australian Government Financing Authority in respect of investments made on the first day of each calendar month of that year;

and

(b) in respect of the financial year in which the superannuation payment is made, will be determined in accordance with paragraph (a) on the basis of the 10 year bond rates declared on the first days of the calendar months of the financial year being days occurring before the superannuation payment is made and, if the payment is made on the first day of a month, including that day.

(4) Where the contributor elects to preserve his or her accrued superannuation benefits, the following provisions apply—

- (a) the contributor may at any time after reaching 55 years of age require the Board to pay superannuation benefits to the contributor and, if no such requirement has been made on or before the date on which the contributor reaches 65 years of age, the Board will pay such benefits to the contributor;
- (b) if the contributor satisfies the Board that he or she has become totally and permanently incapacitated for work, the Board will pay superannuation benefits to the contributor;
- (c) if the contributor dies, benefits will be paid to the spouse of the deceased contributor or, if he or she left no surviving spouse, to the contributor's estate,

(and a payment under any of the above paragraphs excludes further rights so that a claim cannot be subsequently made under some other paragraph).

(5) A contributor who does not elect to preserve his or her accrued superannuation benefits is entitled to an amount (to be charged against the contributor's contribution account) equivalent to the amount standing to the credit of the contributor's contribution account.

(6) Subject to subsection (7) superannuation benefits payable under subsection (4) will be calculated as follows:

$$LS = \frac{M \times AFS \times A}{PCP}$$

Where

- LS is the superannuation benefit
- M is the multiple opposite the contributor's name in the schedule
- AFS is the contributor's actual or attributed salary as at the date of resignation (expressed as an annual amount) adjusted to reflect changes in the Consumer Price Index since the date of resignation
- A is the number of the contributor's accrued contribution points
- PCP is the number of months between the date of the contributor's acceptance as a member of the STA scheme and the age of retirement.

(7) A contributor may elect to take 50 per cent or more of the superannuation benefits calculated under subsection (6) as a pension and in that event the contributor is entitled to—

- (a) the balance (if any) of the lump sum not converted to pension;

and

(b) a pension calculated as follows:

$$P = \frac{LS}{9}$$

Where

P is the amount of the pension (expressed as an annual amount)

LS is the amount of the lump sum to be converted to pension.

(8) Where the contributor elects to carry over his or her accrued superannuation benefits to an approved superannuation fund or scheme, the following provisions apply—

(a) the contributor must satisfy the Board by such evidence as it may require that he or she has been admitted to membership of the fund or scheme;

and

(b) on being so satisfied the Board will make a payment on behalf of the contributor to the fund or scheme made up of two components—

(i) an employee component (to be charged against the contributor's contribution account) equivalent to the amount standing to the credit of the contributor's contribution account;

and

(ii) an employer component which will be equal to twice the amount of the employee component.

(9) For the purposes of this section, a contributor will be taken to resign if the contributor's employment terminates or is terminated for any reason (except invalidity or death).

(10) A pension payable under this section will be indexed.

Resignation pursuant to a voluntary separation package

28A. (1) This section applies to a contributor who resigns from his or her employment before reaching the age of 55 years pursuant to a voluntary separation package—

(a) that includes a term that this section is to apply to the contributor;

and

(b) that has been approved by the Treasurer.

(2) Section 28 does not apply to a contributor to whom this section applies.

(3) A contributor to whom this section applies is entitled to the following benefits:

(a) the benefits to which the contributor would have been entitled under section 28 if that section had applied and the contributor had elected to take immediately an amount equivalent to the amount standing to the credit of his or her contribution account;

(b) —

(i) where the contributor was employed on a full-time basis during that part of his or her contribution period occurring before 1 July 1992, a lump sum calculated as follows:

$$LS = FS \times \frac{M}{12} \times \frac{12}{100}$$

Where—

LS is the lump sum

FS is the contributor's actual or attributed salary immediately before resignation (expressed as an annual amount)

M is the number of months of the contributor's contribution period occurring before 1 July 1992;

or

(ii) where the contributor was employed on a part-time basis during the whole or part of the contribution period occurring before 1 July 1992—the lump sum calculated under subparagraph (i) reduced to reflect the proportion of the contributor's hours of employment during that period to full-time employment during that period.

(4) In this section—

"voluntary separation package" means an agreement between a contributor and his or her employer pursuant to which the contributor resigns from employment.

Retrenchment

28B. (1) Where a contributor's employment is terminated by retrenchment, the contributor may elect—

12.

(a) to take a lump sum payment;

or

(b) to preserve his or her superannuation benefits.

(2) A lump sum payment under this section will be calculated as follows:

$$LS = \frac{M \times FS \times A}{PCP}$$

Where

LS is the lump sum

M is the multiple opposite the contributor's name in the schedule

FS is the contributor's actual or attributed salary immediately before retrenchment (expressed as an annual amount)

A is the number of the contributor's accrued contribution points

PCP is the number of months between the date of the contributor's acceptance as a member of the STA scheme and the age of retirement.

(3) Where a contributor elects to preserve his or her superannuation benefits, this Act applies in the same way as if the contributor had made that election on resignation.

(4) Where a contributor's employment is to be terminated by retrenchment, the employing authority must give the Board notice of that fact in accordance with the regulations at least one month before the termination takes effect.

Termination of employment on invalidity

29. (1) A contributor whose employment terminates on account of invalidity and who has not then reached the age of 55 years is entitled to a lump sum but may elect to convert 50 per cent or more of the lump sum to a pension.

(2) The lump sum is calculated as follows:

$$LS = M \times FS \times A$$

Where

LS is the lump sum

M is the multiple opposite the contributor's name in the schedule

FS is the contributor's actual or attributed salary immediately before termination of the contributor's employment (expressed as an annual amount)

A is the lesser of the following:

(a) unity;

(b) —

(i) if the contributor was an active contributor immediately before termination of the employment—the numerical value obtained by dividing the number of the contributor's extrapolated contribution points by the number of months between the date of the contributor's acceptance as a member of the STA scheme and the contributor's age of retirement;

(ii) if the contributor was not an active contributor immediately before termination of the employment—the numerical value obtained by dividing the number of the contributor's accrued contribution points by the number of months between the date of the contributor's acceptance as a member of the STA scheme and the contributor's age of retirement.

(3) A contributor who elects to convert part of the lump sum to a pension is entitled to—

(a) the balance (if any) of the lump sum not converted to a pension;

and

(b) a pension calculated as follows:

$$P = \frac{LS}{9}$$

Where

P is the amount of the pension (expressed as an annual amount)

LS is the amount of the lump sum to be converted to pension.

(4) A contributor's employment will be taken to have terminated on account of invalidity if and only if—

(a) the employer (acting with the written approval of the Board) terminates the employment on the ground of the contributor's invalidity;

(b) —

- (i) the employer or the contributor satisfies the Board (before termination of employment) that the contributor is incapacitated for work in the contributor's present position and that there is no other position, carrying a salary of at least 80 per cent of the salary applicable to the contributor's present position, which the contributor could reasonably be expected to take, available to the contributor;

and

- (ii) after notice has been given to the Board as required by the regulations, the employer terminates the employment or the contributor resigns from employment.

(5) Notwithstanding any other Act or law to the contrary an employer cannot terminate the employment of a contributor on the ground of invalidity unless the requirements of subsection (4)(a) or (b) have been satisfied.

(6) A pension payable under this section will be indexed.

Death of contributor while in employment

30. (1) This section applies where the contributor's employment is terminated by the contributor's death.

(2) If the contributor is survived by a spouse, the spouse may elect to take—

(a) a lump sum calculated as follows:

$$LS = M \times FS \times A$$

Where

LS is the lump sum

M is the multiple opposite the contributor's name in the schedule

FS is the contributor's actual or attributed salary immediately before termination of the contributor's employment (expressed as an annual amount)

A is the lesser of the following:

(a) unity;

- (i) if the contributor was an active contributor immediately before his or her death—the numerical value obtained by dividing the number of the contributor's extrapolated contribution points by the number of months between the date of the contributor's acceptance as a member of the STA scheme and the contributor's age of retirement;
- (ii) if the contributor was not an active contributor immediately before his or her death—the numerical value obtained by dividing the number of the contributor's accrued contribution points by the number of months between the date of the contributor's acceptance as a member of the STA scheme and the contributor's age of retirement;

or

(b) a pension calculated as follows:

$$P = \frac{LS \times 2}{27}$$

Where

P is the pension expressed as an annual amount

LS is the lump sum that the spouse would have been entitled to under paragraph (a) if he or she had made that election.

(3) No child of the deceased contributor is entitled to a superannuation benefit if the contributor's spouse makes an election under subsection (2)(a) but if the spouse makes an election under subsection (2)(b) the eligible children of the deceased contributor will be entitled as follows:

(a) where there are one or two eligible children each is entitled to a pension calculated as follows:

$$P = \frac{LS}{81}$$

(b) where there are three or more eligible children each is entitled to a pension calculated as follows:

$$P = \frac{LS}{27 \times N}$$

Where

P is the pension expressed as an annual amount

LS is the lump sum that the spouse would have been entitled to under subsection (2)(a) if he or she had elected to take that lump sum

N is the number of eligible children.

(d) where there are four or more eligible children each is entitled to a pension calculated as follows:

$$P = \frac{LS}{9 \times N}$$

Where

P is the pension expressed as an annual amount

LS is the lump sum to which the contributor would have been entitled if he or she had survived and retired on his or her sixtieth birthday and if the contributor's actual or attributed salary immediately before retirement had been the same as the contributor's actual or attributed salary immediately before his or her death

N is the number of eligible children.

(5) Where the contributor is not survived by a spouse or an eligible child a lump sum calculated under subsection (2)(a) is payable to the contributor's estate.

(6) If a deceased contributor is survived by a lawful spouse and a putative spouse each is entitled to make an election under subsection (2) in respect of his or her share of the superannuation benefits but if the Board accepts an election in respect of the whole of those benefits by one spouse without notice of the other spouse's interest the other spouse is not entitled to make an election under subsection (2) in respect of those benefits.

(7) A pension payable under this section will be indexed.

Death of contributor in receipt of a pension

31. (1) Where a contributor who is in receipt of a pension under this Act dies—

(a) a surviving spouse (not being a person who became the contributor's spouse after termination of the contributor's employment and less than five years before the date of the contributor's death) is entitled to a pension equal to two-thirds of the deceased contributor's notional pension;

(ii) where there are two eligible children—a pension equal to 40 per cent of the deceased contributor's notional pension;

(iii) where there are three eligible children—a pension equal to 30 per cent of the deceased contributor's notional pension;

- (iv) where there are four or more eligible children—a pension calculated by dividing the deceased contributor’s notional pension by the number of eligible children.

(3) A reference in this section to a deceased contributor’s notional pension is a reference to the amount of the contributor’s pension immediately before his or her death.

(4) A deceased contributor’s notional pension will be indexed as if it were (or remained) an actual pension and consequential adjustments will be made to pensions calculated by reference to the notional pension.
