- (a) the net rate of return achieved by investment of the relevant division of the Fund over the financial year; and
- (b) the desirability of reducing undue fluctuations in the rate of return on contributors' accounts.

Electricity Corporations Act 1994

(5) Where, under subclause (4)(b), the Superannuation Board determines a rate of return that is at variance with the net rate of return achieved by investment of the relevant division of the Fund, the Superannuation Board must include its reasons for the determination in its report for the relevant financial year.

(6) Where it is necessary to determine the balance of a contributor's account at some time other than the end of the financial year, the balance will be extrapolated by applying a percentage rate of return on accounts in the relevant division of the Fund estimated by the Superannuation Board.

(7) The Superannuation Board must, within six months after the end of each financial year, provide each contributor referred to in subclause (8) with a written statement of the amount standing to the credit of the contributor's account at the end of the financial year and the amount by which the balance of the account has been increased under subclause (3) in respect of that financial year.

- (f) if a transferred asset consists of rights to the possession or use of property under a lease or other agreement, the transferee may exercise those rights without giving rise to any liability on the part of the transferor for parting with possession of the property, or permitting the possession or use of the property by another person, contrary to the terms of the lease or agreement; and
- (g) the transferee has the same right to ratify a contract or agreement relating to an asset or liability transferred to it from the transferor as the transferor would have had if there had been no transfer; and
- (h) legal proceedings in respect of a transferred asset or liability commenced by or against the transferor must (subject to discontinuance) be continued and completed by or against the transferee; and
- (i) in legal proceedings relevant to a transferred asset or liability—
 - (i) the transferee will have the same rights and privileges as the transferor would have had if there had been no transfer; and
 - (ii) a document that could have been given in evidence by or against the transferor if there had been no transfer may be given in evidence by or against the transferee; and
- (j) the transferee may execute an instrument discharging, surrendering, transferring or otherwise dealing with a transferred asset or liability either in its own name or in the transferor's name.

Registering authorities to note transfer

8. (1) The Registrar-General or any other authority required or authorised under a law of the State to register or record transactions affecting assets or liabilities, or documents relating to such transactions—

- (a) must, on the application of the transferee, register or record in the appropriate manner the transfer of any transferred asset or liability; and
- (b) must register an instrument in registrable form, executed by the transferee, relating to property that is a transferred asset even though the transferee is not registered as the proprietor of the property.

(2) If property is registered in the name of an electricity corporation, the Registrar-General or other registering authority may register a dealing with the property by the corporation or another electricity corporation without being concerned to enquire whether the property is or is not a transferred asset.

Exclusion of obligation to enquire

9. (1) A person dealing with an electricity corporation is not obliged to enquire whether property to which the transaction relates is or is not a transferred asset.

(2) If an electricity corporation purports to deal with property as if entitled to it, the transaction is valid even though the corporation purporting to deal with the property is not entitled to do so because the property is, or is not, a transferred asset.

(3) However, this clause does not validate a transaction if the party dealing with the electricity corporation has actual notice of the deficiency of title, or acts fraudulently.

Stamp and other duties or taxes

10. (1) No stamp duty or other duty or tax is payable under a law of the State in respect of—

- (a) any transfer effected by order of the Minister under this Act; or
- (b) any other transfer or assignment of assets or liabilities between electricity corporations; or
- (c) an application or entry made, or receipt given or anything else done for a purpose connected with, or arising out of, such a transfer or assignment.

(2) No person has an obligation under the Stamp Duties Act 1923 or any other Act—

- (a) to lodge a statement or return relating to a matter referred to in subclause (1); or
- (b) to include in a statement or return a record or information relating to such a matter.

Evidence

11. (1) A certificate issued by the Minister certifying as to the transfer or non-transfer of an asset or liability under this schedule is to be accepted in any legal proceedings as conclusive evidence of the matter so certified.

(2) An apparently genuine document purporting to be a certificate of the Minister under subclause (1) is to be accepted in any legal proceedings as such a certificate in the absence of proof to the contrary.

PART C—TRANSFER OF STAFF

Transfer of staff

12. (1) The Minister may, by order in writing, transfer an employee from a position in the employment of one electricity corporation to a position in the employment of another.

(2) An order under this clause may be varied or revoked by the Minister by further order in writing made before the order takes effect.

(3) A transfer under this clause does not—

- (a) affect the employee's remuneration; or
- (b) interrupt continuity of service; or
- (c) constitute a retrenchment or redundancy.

(4) Except with the employee's consent, a transfer under this clause must not involve—

- (a) any reduction in the employee's status; or

Electricity Corporations Act 1994

- (b) any change in the employee's duties that would be unreasonable having regard to the employee's skills, ability and experience; or
- (c) any change in the employee's place of employment unless the new place of employment is within reasonable commuting distance from the employee's former place of employment.

(5) For the purposes of subclause (4), responsibility for the same or similar business operations that are smaller in scope as a result of a reduction of the business operations, or responsibility for a lesser number of staff, does not, of itself, constitute a reduction in status.

(6) A person who is transferred from one electricity corporation to another under this clause is taken to have accrued as an employee of the corporation to which the person is transferred an entitlement to annual leave, sick leave and long service leave that is equivalent to the entitlements that the person had accrued, immediately before the transfer took effect, as an employee of the corporation from which he or she was transferred.

(7) A transfer under this clause does not give rise to a right to any remedy or entitlement arising from cessation or change of employment.

(8) For the purposes of construing a contract applicable to a transferred employee, a reference to the electricity corporation from which the person is transferred is to be construed as a reference to the corporation to which the person is transferred.

PART D—GENERAL

Schedule overrides other laws

13. This schedule has effect despite the provisions of the Real Property Act 1886 or any other law.

Effect of things done or allowed under schedule

14. Nothing done or allowed under this schedule—

- (a) constitutes a breach of, or default under, an Act or other law; or
- (b) constitutes a breach of, or default under, a contract, agreement, understanding or undertaking; or
- (c) constitutes a breach of a duty of confidence (whether arising by contract, in equity, by custom, or in any other way); or
- (d) constitutes a civil or criminal wrong; or
- (e) terminates an agreement or obligation, or fulfils any condition that allows a person to terminate an agreement or obligation, or gives rise to any other right or remedy; or
