3a. In addition to the days mentioned in the second schedule to this Act, the twenty-fifth of April shall be a public holiday and a bank holiday: Provided that when the said day falls upon a Sunday, the following Monday shall be a public holiday and a bank holiday in lieu of that day.

Saturdays to be bank holidays

3b. (1) After the passing of the Holidays Act Amendment Act, 1958, the several days mentioned in the third schedule shall be bank holidays.

(2) If it appears to the Governor that the arrangements referred to in subsection (2) of section 2 of the Holidays Act Amendment Act, 1958, have not been or are not being observed or complied with, the Governor may, by proclamation, declare that on a day to be specified in the proclamation this section and the third schedule shall cease to have effect and this section and that schedule shall cease to have effect accordingly.

Special holidays may be proclaimed

4. (1) The Governor may, from time to time, as he may think fit, by proclamation published in the Government Gazette, appoint a special day to be a public holiday or bank holiday in any year either—

- (b) prevent the responsible Minister in charge of a Government department from requiring the services of any or all of the officers of such department during any public holiday in case of emergency.
