5—Incident management system

- (1) SACFS will prepare and maintain an overall plan for fighting fires and dealing with other emergencies in the country (the incident management system).
- (2) The objective of the incident management system will be to achieve—
 - (a) the greatest possible protection of life, property and the environment in the case of a fire or other emergency; and

- (b) the greatest possible effectiveness and efficiency in the operations of SACFS in the case of a fire or other emergency.
- (3) Each SACFS organisation must prepare and maintain a plan for the implementation of the incident management system in its area of responsibility (an incident response plan).
- (4) A plan under subregulation (3) must—
 - (a) set incident response goals; and
 - (b) set out strategies for fighting fires and dealing with other emergencies in its area, and provide for the periodical review of those strategies; and
 - (c) set out procedures to facilitate co-ordination between the SACFS organisation and other recognised emergency services; and
 - (d) provide for the optimum use of equipment and other resources; and
 - (e) set goals for the training and proficiency of the members of the SACFS organisation.
- (5) An SACFS organisation must, in order to ensure that it can implement the incident management system in accordance with its plan—
 - (a) work to achieve and maintain the highest possible standards in the following organisational areas:
 - (i) operations;
 - (ii) planning;
 - (iii) logistics;

 - (b) define the area in relation to which it is proposed that the brigade be established; and
 - (c) list the full name, residential address, occupation and date of birth of each person who is applying to be a foundation member of the brigade; and
 - (d) specify the location of any proposed fire station for the brigade; and
 - (e) if the application falls within the ambit of subregulation (2)—specify the proposed purpose of the brigade; and

 - (d) the Chief Officer is satisfied that some other reasonable ground exists on which to refuse registration.
- (3) An application to register a person as a member of an SACFS brigade must be in a form approved by the Chief Officer.
