IMPORTANT INFORMATION

TENANTS

You may apply to the South Australian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (SACAT) to reinstate the tenancy if you believe you are not in breach of your agreement or the breach has been remedied. If you do not remedy the breach (or apply to SACAT) the tenants and all occupants will need to move out of the premises with their possessions on or before the date specified in Part 3.

If you are a co-tenant under a residential tenancy agreement and your tenancy is terminated due to the actions of another tenant, you may wish to seek advice about negotiating a new tenancy with the landlord, or seek advice on whether options are available to make an application to SACAT.

LANDLORDS

Rent (or part of rent) must remain unpaid for at least 14 days before serving this notice on the tenant. For example, if rent is paid to 1 March (and rent is payable fortnightly), then this notice can first be served on 17 March for unpaid rent due on 2 March and 16 March. The 14 days do not include the day that rent is due.

If the tenant does not remedy the breach or give up possession of the premises on or before the date specified in Part 3, you cannot enter the premises unless the tenant has abandoned or voluntarily gives up possession of the premises, or you have applied to the South Australian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (SACAT) and received an order authorising you to take possession. You are not entitled to possession of the premises until the day after the date specified in Part 3—this is the earliest you can apply to SACAT for an order authorising you to take possession.

Information for the landlord

1. If the landlord is a registered community housing provider and the tenant has ceased to be a member of the provider or no longer satisfies an essential requirement to remain as a tenant, the period of notice must be at least 28 days.
2. Except where the landlord is a registered community housing provider, this notice cannot be used if the tenancy has been entered into for a fixed term.
3. It is a criminal offence under section 81 of the Residential Tenancies Act 1995 to state a false ground of termination in this notice.
4. A landlord who recovers possession of premises under section 81 of the Residential Tenancies Act 1995 after giving 60 days notice must not, without the consent of the Tribunal, grant a fresh tenancy over the premises within 6 months after recovering possession.
5. Except where the termination is for a failure to pay rent, if the premises are subject to a housing improvement notice or are subject (or potentially subject) to rent control, the Tribunal must give its authorisation to this notice before it is effective.
6. This notice may be served on the tenant (or on an agent of the tenant)—
 - (a) personally; or
 - (b) by sending it by post addressed to the person at their last known place of residence, employment or business; or
 - (c) by leaving it in a letterbox or other place where it is likely to come to the person's attention at their last known place of residence, employment or business; or
 - (d) by email to an email address provided by the person for the purposes of service under the Act.
7. You should retain a copy of this notice.

Information for the tenant

1. You may vacate the premises before the date specified in this notice. If you give the landlord or agent at least 7 days written notice before you vacate the premises, you will not be liable to pay rent after the day on which you vacate. If you give the landlord or agent less than 7 days written notice before you vacate the premises, you will not be liable to pay rent from the 7th day after you give notice to the landlord or agent.

2. When you vacate the premises, you should leave them in a reasonable condition and in a reasonably clean state. If you do not, the landlord may recover from the bond, or from you directly, the costs required to remediate the premises (with supporting evidence showing the condition of the premises compared to the start of the tenancy, which demonstrates more than wear and tear).
3. If possible, you should agree with the landlord on how the bond should be paid. Applications for bond payments are generally made online with Consumer and Business Services. If agreement cannot be reached with the landlord, you should contact Consumer and Business Services.
4. When you vacate the premises, ensure that you leave all the keys, remote controls and security devices with the landlord or agent, and notify the electricity entity, gas company, Australia Post, Telstra etc, so that the new tenants do not use gas, electricity and the telephone on your accounts, and so that mail can be forwarded to you.
5. If you are a co-tenant under a residential tenancy agreement and your tenancy is terminated due to the actions of another tenant, you may wish to seek advice about negotiating a new tenancy with the landlord, or seek advice on whether options are available to make an application to SACAT.
