Information about the calculation of your stamp duty liability:

Calculation of Servicing Cost Percentage

1. Your gross rental income should include any Goods and Services Tax (GST) that you have collected from your clients during the relevant period.
2. Where you receive rental income in excess of $2 000 per month ($24 000 per annum), you may be eligible to claim a deduction for costs incurred in keeping your goods in a hireable state. Any GST paid by you, as part of your servicing cost expenses, can also be included.
3. If you have been allocated a fixed servicing cost percentage by this Office, this figure will be stated at P on the front of this Return.

If you do not have a fixed servicing cost percentage issued by this Office, please calculate your percentage based on the percentage of servicing costs incurred to gross income received. A schedule of servicing costs incurred must also be provided. Please note that you can only claim a maximum of 40% servicing cost deduction (unless otherwise approved by this Office).

Calculation of Duty

5. If the net amount of income received (after deductions for your allowance and servicing costs) is negative, your liability to stamp duty is NIL. You are not allowed to claim a refund.
7. Deductions under this item must be accompanied by detailed evidence of your claim, according to the following:
 - If you are claiming a deduction for cross border rental, please see Circular 110 and complete the necessary Application for Deduction of Stamp Duty Paid on Rental Business.
 - If you are claiming a deduction for any stamp duty previously paid for the relevant period, please attach copies of any documentation relating to the duty paid.

PLEASE NOTE

- This return and any duty payable must be lodged with the Commissioner of State Taxation no later than the 21st day following the end of the period to which it relates.
- If no stamp duty is payable, a NIL Return must still be lodged.
- Failure to lodge your Return by the due date specified on your Return may result in a Notice of Assessment being issued under the Taxation Administration Act 1996. Penalties of up to 75% and interest may also be applied.
