- (1) The Parliament of South Australia recognises that—
 - (a) children and young people are valued citizens of the State; and

- (2) The Parliament of South Australia recognises that, as a State, we want each child and young person to benefit from (at least) the following outcomes:
- (a) to be safe from harm;
 - (b) to do well at all levels of learning and to have skills for life;
 - (c) to enjoy a full sense of wellbeing;

- and the Parliament of South Australia accordingly commits to promoting these outcomes.
- (3) The Parliament of South Australia recognises that children and young people can reasonably expect to be loved by their families and treated with respect and dignity by those with whom they interact.
- (4) The Parliament of South Australia recognises that—

- (7) It is the intention of the Parliament of South Australia that the performance of functions in the administration and operation of this Act be done in collaboration with, and with the cooperation of, children and young people and their families, rather than simply being done to or for them.
- (8) The Parliament of South Australia recognises the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child and the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples as documents that inform the administration and operation of this Act.

Division 3—Guiding principles

10—Safety principle

It is a principle of this Act (the safety principle) that children and young people are to be kept safe and protected from harm (and, despite any other provision of this Act, the safety of the child or young person must always be the priority in determining whether or not to remove a child or young person under section 87(1)).

11—Best interests principle

- (1) It is a principle of this Act (the best interests principle) that the best interests of each child and young person are to be upheld and effected in all decision making under this Act (and a reference in this Act to a particular decision being in the best interests of a child or young person will be taken to be a reference to the decision being made in accordance with the best interests principle).
- (2) In determining whether a decision or action is in the best interests of a child or young person, the need to keep them safe from harm and the risk of harm, to protect their rights and to promote their development (taking into account their age and stage of development) must always be considered.

 - (f) the effects of cumulative harm on the child or young person's safety and development;
 - (g) the desirability of continuity and permanency in the child or young person's care;

- (h) the desirability of making decisions as expeditiously as possible and the possible harmful effect of delay in making a decision or taking an action;
- (i) a child or young person is only to be removed from the care of their parents in accordance with section 87 or an order of the Court;
- (j) if the child or young person is removed from the care of a person—the need to place the child or young person in a safe, nurturing, stable and secure environment;

 - (ii) the desirability of siblings being placed together when they are placed in care; and
 - (iii) the desirability of connection between the child or young person and their family being maintained;
- (n) if the child or young person has been removed from their parents or family—the need to ensure that they have the ability to know, explore and maintain their identity and values, including those relating to their culture, language or religion;
- (o) if the child or young person has a disability—the need to ensure that the child or young person is treated in a way that preserves their identity and respects their developing capacity;
- (p) if a child or young person with a particular cultural identity is placed in care with a person who is not a member of that cultural community—the desirability of the child or young person retaining a connection with their culture;
- (q) the desirability of using family group conferences to make informed decisions as to the arrangements for the care of the child or young person;

- (r) the desirability of a child or young person being supported to gain access to appropriate educational services, health services and accommodation and to participate in appropriate social opportunities;
 - (s) the desirability of allowing the education, training or employment of the child or young person to continue without interruption or disturbance;

- (2) The following elements collectively constitute the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Child Placement Principle:
 - (a) the prevention element—Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children and young people have the right to be brought up within their own family and community, and should, to ensure that families can stay together safely, be provided access to culturally safe services that support families and communities to care for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children and young people;

 - (i) decisions under this Act affecting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children and young people; and

- (2) Despite any other provision of this Act, a child protection officer must, in determining whether to remove a child or young person under subsection (1), always prioritise the safety of the child or young person.

Note—

See section 10.

- (3) If a child protection officer believes on reasonable grounds—

 - (b) the child or young person is residing with a person other than the specified person; and

- and the child protection officer does not consider it to be in the best interests of the child or young person to be removed from that location, the child protection officer may, instead of removing the child or young person in accordance with subsection (1) but acting in accordance with any requirements set out in the regulations, issue a notice (a custody notice) placing the child or young person in the custody of the Chief Executive.

- (c) the end of the fifth business day following the day on which the child or young person was removed or the custody notice issued,
- whichever occurs first.
- (2) However, a child or young person must not be returned to the custody of a parent or guardian if the Chief Executive or a child protection officer (as the case may be) reasonably suspects that, if the child or young person were to be so returned, the child or young person would be at risk of harm.

Part 8—Family group conferences

95—Application of Part

This Part applies in relation to a child or young person whether or not they are, or are to be, in care.

96—Purpose of family group conferences

- (1) The purpose of a family group conference is to provide an opportunity for a child or young person and their family, in accordance with this Part—
 - (a) to make informed decisions as to the arrangements for the care of the child or young person; and
 - (b) to make voluntary arrangements for the care of the child or young person (being arrangements that are consistent with the requirements of this Act); and
 - (c) to review those arrangements from time to time.
- (2) Subject to this Act, a failure to hold a family group conference does not, of itself, affect the validity of an application for an order of the Court under this Act, nor any such order.

97—Family Group Conference Guidelines

- (1) The Chief Executive must publish guidelines (the Family Group Conference Guidelines) relating to the conduct of family group conferences under this Act.
- (2) Without limiting the matters that may be included in the Family Group Conference Guidelines, the guidelines must—
 - (a) set out the people who are entitled to attend family group conferences; and
 - (b) set out how valid decisions are made at family group conferences; and
 - (c) provide for the keeping of records of decisions made at family group conferences; and
 - (d) set out how and when reviews of arrangements made at family group conferences are to be conducted; and
 - (e) comply with any other requirements set out in the regulations.
- (3) The Family Group Conference Guidelines may make different provision according to the children or young people, or matters or circumstances, to which they are expressed to apply.

98—Chief Executive may convene family group conference

- (1) The Chief Executive may convene a family group conference in respect of a child or young person if—
 - (a) the Chief Executive suspects that the child or young person is at risk of harm; and
 - (b) the Chief Executive is of the opinion that it would be appropriate in all of the circumstances to make arrangements in relation to the care of the child or young person by means of a family group conference.
- (2) The Chief Executive may convene a family group conference in respect of an unborn child if—
 - (a) the Chief Executive suspects that there is a risk of harm to the physical or psychological development of the unborn child (whether due to an act or omission of a parent or otherwise); and
 - (b) the Chief Executive is of the opinion that it would be appropriate in all of the circumstances to make arrangements in relation to the care of the unborn child once born by means of a family group conference.
- (3) A family group conference is to be conducted by a coordinator nominated by the Chief Executive.

99—Procedures and attendees at family group conferences

- (1) A family group conference is to be conducted by the coordinator of the family group conference in accordance with the Family Group Conference Guidelines.
- (2) Subject to this Act and the Family Group Conference Guidelines, the coordinator of a family group conference may determine the procedures of the conference.

- (3) The coordinator of a family group conference may exclude a person entitled to attend a family group conference under the Family Group Conference Guidelines (including, to avoid doubt, the child or young person to whom the conference relates or the child or young person's parents or guardians) from attending a family group conference if the coordinator is satisfied that to do so would be in the best interests of the child or young person.
 - (4) The coordinator of a family group conference must, in respect of the attendees at (or persons to be excluded from attending) the conference, consult with the child or young person and other persons (if any) in accordance with the Family Group Conference Guidelines.
 - (5) The coordinator of a family group conference must, as far as is reasonably practicable, ensure that—
 - (a) the conference is held at a time and place that is suitable to the child or young person and the child or young person's parents or guardians; and
 - (b) a person who is entitled to attend the conference is given notice in accordance with the Family Group Conference Guidelines; and
 - (c) a suitable person (who, to avoid doubt, need not be a legal practitioner) is arranged to act as advocate for the child or young person at the conference.
 - (6) However, the coordinator of a family group conference need not comply with subsection (5)(c) if they are satisfied that the child or young person has made an informed and independent decision to waive their right to be so represented.

100—Chief Executive etc to give effect to decisions of family group conferences

- (1) Subject to this Act, the Chief Executive and State authorities should perform their functions so as to give effect to valid decisions made at a family group conference.
- (2) However, if a valid decision is made at a family group conference but is not implemented or complied with, the Chief Executive may apply for such an order of the Court under Part 10 as the Chief Executive considers appropriate.
- (3) Nothing in this section—
 - (a) requires or authorises the Chief Executive or any other person to do something that is unlawful; or
 - (b) requires or authorises the Chief Executive or any other person to not do something that is required to be done under another Act or law; or
 - (c) creates legally enforceable rights or obligations on the part of the Crown, the Chief Executive, the child or young person or any other person.

 - (b) a particular parent or guardian of a child or young person has failed to respond within a reasonable period of time to a request that they enter into a voluntary custody agreement; or
 - (c) it is not, in all the circumstances of the case, reasonably practicable to request a particular parent or guardian of a child or young person to enter into a voluntary custody agreement,the remaining parent or guardian of the child or young person (as the case requires) may enter into a voluntary custody agreement in respect of the child or young person.
- (3) Negotiations for a voluntary custody agreement may be initiated by a parent or guardian of a child or young person, or by a child or young person of or above 16 years of age.
- (4) A voluntary custody agreement in relation to a child or young person of or above 16 years of age can only be entered into, or extended, with the consent of the child or young person (however, the consent of the child or young person is not required if the child or young person lacks the capacity to consent to such an agreement).
- (5) If the Chief Executive is satisfied that a child or young person under 16 years of age has a sufficient understanding of the consequences of a voluntary custody agreement, the child or young person must be consulted before a voluntary custody agreement relating to them can be entered into or extended.
- (6) A voluntary custody agreement—
 - (a) must be in writing; and
 - (b) may be terminated at any time—
 - (i) by a parent or guardian of the child or young person who is a party to the agreement; or
 - (ii) by agreement between the parties to the agreement; and
 - (c) will be taken to have been terminated on any order being made under this Act or any other Act or law placing the child or young person in the custody, or under the guardianship, of a person.
- (7) A termination of a voluntary custody agreement under subsection (6)(b)(i) must be by notice in writing to the Chief Executive.

- (8) If a voluntary custody agreement relates to a child or young person of or above 16 years of age, the Chief Executive must, if the Chief Executive is satisfied that proper arrangements exist for the care of the child or young person, terminate the agreement on the request of the child or young person (unless the child or young person lacks the capacity to understand the nature of terminating the agreement, in which case the Chief Executive is not obliged to so terminate the agreement).
- (9) Unless the agreement is terminated earlier under this section, a voluntary custody agreement—
 - (a) has effect for the period (not exceeding 3 months) specified in the agreement; and
 - (b) may, on its expiration, be extended by the parties to the agreement (but not so that the agreement will operate for a total period of more than 6 months).

- (4) If the Court places a child or young person under the guardianship of the Chief Executive or any other person or persons, the Chief Executive or the other person or persons is or are the lawful guardian or guardians of the child or young person to the exclusion of the rights of any other person.
- (5) An order under this section ceases to have effect when the child or young person to whom the order relates attains 18 years of age.

117—Interim orders

- (1) The Court may make such interim orders in relation to an application under this Part as the Court thinks fit.
- (2) However, interim orders relating to an assessment order must not be inconsistent with section 115.

118—Limitations on orders that may be made by Court

- (1) Nothing in this Act authorises the Court to make orders of the following kinds (including in an interim order, or as part of any other order, under this Part):
 - (a) an order relating to the placement (including removing a child or young person from a particular placement) of a child or young person who is in the custody, or under the guardianship, of the Chief Executive;

- (b) an order making contact arrangements (however described) in respect of a child or young person (including by varying or revoking arrangements made by the Chief Executive);

and, to the extent that an order of the Court purports to do so, the order will be void and of no effect.

- (2) The Court must not, on an application for an order placing a child or young person in the custody, or under the guardianship, of a person, place a child or young person in the custody, or under the guardianship, of a person other than a person specified in the application except with the agreement of the Chief Executive.

119—Limitations on orders that may be made if child or young person unrepresented

- (1) Subject to this section, the Court must not hear an application under this Part unless—
 - (a) the child or young person to whom the application relates is represented in the proceedings by a legal practitioner; or
 - (b) the Court is satisfied that the child or young person has made an informed and independent decision not to be so represented.
- (2) However, the Court may proceed to hear an application under this Part in the absence of legal representation if the Court is satisfied that the application should be heard as a matter of urgency (however in such a case the Court should make interim orders in respect of the application and then adjourn the proceedings so as to enable the child or young person to be represented by a properly instructed legal practitioner if they so wish).
- (3) The Court may, in interim orders under subsection (2), make any order the Court could have made under section 116 (however the interim orders will only have effect for the period of the adjournment).

120—Consent orders

- (1) Without limiting section 118 or 119, the Court may, in proceedings under this Act, make an order under this Part with the consent of such of the parties to the proceeding who participate in the proceedings.
- (2) An order may be made without consideration of the matters that the Court must otherwise consider in the proceeding.

121—Court may make declaration as to name of child or young person

- (1) Without limiting the orders that can be made under this Part, if the Court makes an order placing a child or young person under the guardianship of the Chief Executive or a specified person or persons—

 - (b) such that the child or young person has been under the guardianship of the Chief Executive, or the person or persons, for a period of at least 24 continuous months, the Court may make a declaration of the name by which the child or young person is to be known.

- (2) However, the Court may only make a declaration under this section if the Court is satisfied that it is in the best interests of the child or young person to do so.
- (3) If the Court makes a declaration under this section—
 - (a) the Registrar of the Court must give notice of the declaration to the Registrar of Births, Deaths and Marriages in accordance with any requirements set out in the regulations; and
 - (b) the Registrar of Births, Deaths and Marriages must, as soon as is reasonably practicable after receiving the notice, register the change of name under section 28(1) of the Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1996.
- (4) Sections 26, 27 and 28(2) and (3) of the Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1996 do not apply in relation to a change of name under this section.

124—Noncompliance with orders

- (1) A person who, having been personally served with an order made by the Court under this Part, contravenes the order is guilty of an offence.

Division 5—Specified person guardianship orders

125—Certain approved carers may apply to Chief Executive to seek specified person guardianship order

- (1) An approved carer in whose care a child or young person has been for a period of at least 2 years (or such shorter period as the Chief Executive may determine) (the proposed guardian) may apply to the Chief Executive for an application to be made under this Division for a specified person guardianship order placing the child or young person under the guardianship of the proposed guardian until they attain 18 years of age.
- (2) An application under subsection (1)—

 - (b) make a determination as to whether, in the opinion of the Chief Executive, the proposed guardian is suitable to be the guardian of the child or young person.

126—Guardianship care plan to be prepared

- (1) If the Chief Executive determines that the proposed guardian is suitable to be the guardian of the child or young person to whom an application relates, the Chief Executive must cause a plan (a guardianship care plan) to be prepared in respect of the child or young person.
- (2) A guardianship care plan must contain the information required by the regulations (and may contain any other information the Chief Executive thinks fit).

127—Chief Executive to apply to Court for specified person guardianship order

- (1) Subject to this Act, the Chief Executive must, on completion of the preparation of a guardianship care plan in respect of a child or young person, apply to the Court for a specified person guardianship order and any other order under this Part that the Chief Executive considers necessary or appropriate.
- (2) However, the Chief Executive need not apply to the Court under subsection (1)—
 - (a) if following the completion of a guardianship care plan, the Chief Executive—
 - (i) becomes aware (by any means) of information not considered in the course of an assessment under section 125(3), or in the course of preparing a guardianship care plan under section 126(1); and

- (2) A specified person guardianship order ceases to have effect when the child or young person to whom the order relates attains 18 years of age.

129—Onus on objector to prove order should not be made

- (1) If in proceedings under this Division a person objects to the making of a specified person guardianship order by the Court, the onus is on the person to prove to the Court that the specified person guardianship order should not be made.
- (2) However, subsection (1) does not apply if the person objecting to the making of the order is—
 - (a) the Chief Executive; or
 - (b) if the Court is satisfied that the child or young person to whom the proceedings relate is not being unduly influenced by any person to object to the making of the order—the child or young person.

130—Variation or revocation of specified person guardianship orders etc

- (1) The Court may, on an application by a party to the proceedings, vary or revoke a specified person guardianship order.
- (2) On the revocation of a specified person guardianship order (including, to avoid doubt, a specified person guardianship order made under section 116(1)(h)), the child or young person to whom the order relates will, unless the Court otherwise orders, by force of this section, be taken to be under the guardianship of the Chief Executive until they attain 18 years of age.
- (3) On the death of all persons under whose guardianship a child or young person is placed under a specified person guardianship order (including, to avoid doubt, a specified person guardianship order made under section 116(1)(h)), the child or young person to whom the order relates will, unless the Court otherwise orders, by force of this section, be taken to be under the guardianship of the Chief Executive until they attain 18 years of age.

 - (e) a child or young person who has been placed in the custody, or under the guardianship, of the Chief Executive or another person or persons under this Act or a repealed Act is absent from a State care placement without lawful authority.
- (2) The Court may, on an application under this section, if satisfied by information given on oath, personally or by affidavit that—
- (a) it is reasonably necessary to return a specified child or young person to the custody of the Chief Executive; or
 - (b) a specified child or young person has been unlawfully removed from the custody or guardianship of the Chief Executive or another person or persons; or

- (a) a child or young person who is under the guardianship of the Chief Executive under this Act or a repealed Act;

 - (d) a child or young person who is in the custody of the Chief Executive or another person in accordance with an order made under Part 10 Division 4;
 - (e) any other child or young person, or child or young person of a class, prescribed by the regulations, but does not apply to a child or young person, or child or young person of a class, prescribed by the regulations to be excluded from the ambit of this definition.

- (2) The Chief Executive must cause a plan (a case plan) to be prepared and maintained in respect of each child or young person to whom this section applies.
- (3) A case plan (including the reunification plan under subsection (5)(g)) for a child or young person must be prepared as soon as is reasonably practicable (and in any case not later than 6 months) after they become a child or young person to whom this section applies.
- (4) The Chief Executive must, in causing a case plan to be prepared, take reasonable steps to ascertain the views, and encourage the participation, of any person who, in the opinion of the Chief Executive, has information relevant to the preparation of the case plan of a particular child or young person.
- (5) Without limiting the matters that may be included in a case plan, a case plan must include such of the following parts as may be relevant to the child or young person's circumstances:

- (6) The Chief Executive may from time to time vary, substitute or revoke a case plan.

134—Case plans must be given effect

- (1) Each person or body engaged in the administration, operation or enforcement of this Act must perform their functions so as to give effect to a child or young person's case plan.
- (2) However, this section does not create legally enforceable rights or obligations on the part of the Crown, the Chief Executive, a child or young person or any other person.

Part 12—Placement and contact arrangements etc of children and young people in care

Division 1—Placement etc of children and young people in care

135—Chief Executive's powers in relation to children and young people in care

 - (i) make arrangements for the professional examination, assessment or treatment of the child or young person (including, for example, admission to hospital);
 - (j) make such other provision for the care of the child or young person as the Chief Executive thinks fit.
- (2) To avoid doubt, nothing in this section limits the operation of section 136 or 150.
- (3) The Chief Executive must keep each parent and guardian of a child or young person (if the Chief Executive is not that person) informed about where the child or young person is placed and how the child or young person is being cared for, unless the Chief Executive is of the opinion that it would not be in the best interests of the child or young person to do so.

136—Temporary placement of children and young people

- (1) Despite section 150, but subject to this section, the Chief Executive may place a child or young person who is in the custody, or under the guardianship, of the Chief Executive with a person who is not an approved carer if the Chief Executive is satisfied that—
- (a) the child or young person requires placement as a matter of urgency; and
 - (b) it is not, in the circumstances, reasonably practicable to place the child or young person with an approved carer; and
 - (c) the risk of harm being caused to the child or young person if they are not placed with a person under this section exceeds the risk that the person will cause harm to the child or young person.
- (2) Despite subsection (1)(b), the Chief Executive may place a child or young person with a person under subsection (1) despite it being reasonably practicable to place the child or young person with a particular approved carer if the Chief Executive is satisfied that to place the child or young person under that subsection is preferable to placing the child or young person with the approved carer.
- (3) The Chief Executive may, if the Chief Executive considers it appropriate to do so, place a child or young person with a member of the child or young person's family, or a person known to the child or young person or their family, in accordance with subsection (1) without being satisfied of the matters set out in subsection (1)(a) or (b).
- (4) The placement of a child or young person under this section—
- (a) must be of a temporary nature (and in any event must not exceed a period of 3 months); and
 - (b) except in the circumstances referred to in subsection (2) or (3), and subject to the regulations, must be brought to an end as soon as it is reasonably practicable to place the child or young person with an approved carer; and
 - (c) must comply with any requirements prescribed by the regulations.
- (5) If a child or young person is placed with a person under this section—
- (a) section 150 will be taken not to apply to the person; and

- (b) sections 139, 140 and 152 are to be construed as if the person were an approved carer (but, to avoid doubt, the person will not otherwise be taken to be an approved carer).
- (6) The regulations may make further provisions in relation to the placement of a child or young person with a person under this section (including by modifying the operation of a specified provision or provisions of this Act relating to the placement of children and young people).

Division 2—Provision of information regarding placements and involvement of approved carers in decision making

137—Children and young people to be provided with certain information prior to placement

If a placement agency is considering placing a child or young person with an approved carer under this Act, the agency must, before so placing the child or young person, provide to the child or young person the prescribed information in relation to the approved carer.

138—Approved carers to be provided with certain information prior to placement

- (1) Subject to this section, if a placement agency is considering placing a child or young person with an approved carer under this Act, the agency must, before so placing the child or young person, provide to each proposed approved carer any information in the possession of the agency that may be relevant to the person's decision whether or not to accept the placement.
- (2) In determining whether to provide particular information to an approved carer, a placement agency must have regard, and may give effect, to any wishes expressed by the child or young person relating to the disclosure of such information.

139—Approved carers to be provided with certain information once child or young person placed

- (1) A placement agency must provide to each approved carer with whom a child or young person is placed any information (including, to avoid doubt, any medical reports) held by the agency that is reasonably necessary to ensure—
 - (a) that the approved carer is able to provide appropriate care to the child or young person in all of their circumstances; and
 - (b) the safety of the approved carer and any other member of the approved carer's household.
- (2) An approved carer who is provided with information under this section, and any other person who becomes aware of the information, must not disclose the information except—
 - (a) to a health professional for a purpose related to the examination, assessment or treatment of the child or young person; or
 - (b) to a child protection officer performing a function under this Act; or

140—Approved carers entitled to participate in certain decision making processes

- (1) Without limiting Part 2, but despite any other provision of this Act or any other Act, an approved carer with whom a child or young person is placed is entitled to participate in any decision making process relating to the health, safety, welfare or wellbeing of the child or young person.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply in relation to a particular decision if the decision maker is satisfied that the participation of the approved carer would not be in the best interests of the child or young person.
- (3) This section applies whether the decision is made under this Act or any other Act or law.

141—Noncompliance with Division not to invalidate placement

A refusal or failure to comply with a requirement under this Division does not, of itself, affect the validity of a placement of a child or young person with an approved carer or a decision referred to in section 140.

Division 3—Contact arrangements

142—Application of Division

- (1) This Division applies to the following children and young people:
 - (a) a child or young person who is in care;

143—Contact arrangements to be determined by Chief Executive

- (1) For the purposes of this Act, contact arrangements in respect of a child or young person to whom this Division applies are to be determined by the Chief Executive.
- (2) To avoid doubt, the Chief Executive may, for any reason the Chief Executive thinks fit, determine that there is to be no contact between a specified child or young person and a specified person.

- (3) In making a determination under this section, the Chief Executive must have regard to the following provisions:
- (a) if the Chief Executive is satisfied that reunification is viable—the primary aim of the contact arrangements should be to establish or maintain attachment relationships between the child or young person and the person or persons with whom the child or young person is to be reunified;
 - (b) if the Chief Executive is satisfied that reunification is not viable—particular consideration must be given to the need for the child or young person to maintain a connection with their family and culture;
 - (c) in any event—the Chief Executive must give weight to the importance of the child or young person maintaining contact with their siblings (if any).
- (4) Nothing in this Division authorises or requires contact arrangements to be made in favour of a particular person if, in the opinion of the Chief Executive—
- (a) there is a significant possibility that a child or young person would be at risk of harm in the course of contact with the person; or
 - (b) such contact arrangements would undermine the stability of the child or young person's placement; or
 - (c) such contact arrangements would not be consistent with a provision of Part 2; or
 - (d) it would otherwise not be in the best interests of the child or young person to have contact with the person.
- (5) A determination under this section must—
- (a) be by notice in writing; and
 - (b) set out—
 - (i) the frequency of contact visits in a specified period; and
 - (ii) the duration of each contact visit; and
 - (iii) the venue or venues at which contact visits are to take place; and
 - (iv) any person who may be present during contact visits; and
 - (v) whether contact visits are to take place under the supervision of a person determined by the Chief Executive,and may make any other provision the Chief Executive thinks appropriate; and
 - (c) comply with any other requirements set out in the regulations,
- however, a failure to comply with this subsection does not, of itself, affect the validity of a determination.
- (6) The Chief Executive may, from time to time and by notice in writing, vary, substitute or revoke the contact arrangements in respect of a child or young person.
- (7) The Chief Executive must cause a copy of each determination under this section, and any variation, substitution or revocation of the determination, to be included as part of the case plan for the child or young person.

144—Minister to establish Contact Arrangements Review Panel

- (1) The Minister must, in accordance with any requirements set out in the regulations, establish a panel (the Contact Arrangements Review Panel) for the purposes of reviewing contact arrangements under this Division.

- (3) However, the Contact Arrangements Review Panel may only allow an extension of time under subsection (2)(a) if satisfied that special circumstances exist.
- (4) The Contact Arrangements Review Panel must, as soon as is reasonably practicable after receiving an application under this section and in accordance with any requirements set out in the regulations, convene a panel of members of the Contact Arrangements Review Panel to review the contact arrangements relating to the child or young person in accordance with this Division.
- (5) The presiding member of the panel must be a person who is not an officer or employee of the Department.
- (6) The panel need not conduct a review under this section if the panel is of the opinion that the application for review—
 - (a) is frivolous, vexatious, misconceived or lacking in substance; or
 - (b) is being used for an improper purpose; or
 - (c) is otherwise an abuse of process, and, in such a case, a further application relating to the same matter may only be made with the permission of the Contact Arrangements Review Panel.

- (7) A panel must, within 4 weeks of being convened under this section, and in accordance with any requirements set out in the regulations, complete a review in accordance with this section.
- (8) A panel must, in conducting a review, have regard to any submissions made to the panel by—

 - (i) substitute its own determination; or
 - (ii) send the matter back to the Chief Executive for determination in accordance with any directions or recommendations that the panel considers appropriate, and must, within 14 days of the making of the decision, provide to the applicant notice in writing of the decision and the reasons for the decision.

- (10) The Chief Executive's determination as affirmed, varied or substituted by the panel—
 - (a) will be taken to be a determination of the Chief Executive of contact arrangements in respect of the relevant child or young person; and
 - (b) has effect from the time specified by the panel; and
 - (c) must, subject to this Act, be implemented by the Chief Executive.
- (11) A determination that has been affirmed, varied or substituted under this section cannot be the subject of a further review under this section.

 - (b) the Chief Executive is of the opinion that the request is frivolous or vexatious, or otherwise not made in good faith.
- (4) A review must comply with the following provisions:
