- (a) ACT restricted zone
- (b) New South Wales restricted zone
- (c) Victorian restricted zone, must produce evidence of a COVID-19 test as follows in order to be a level 4 or 5 arrival (as applicable)—

- (i) if arriving by air, produce evidence of a negative COVID-19 test taken by an appropriately trained and qualified health care worker, within 72 hours before their arrival in South Australia, or must be tested immediately upon arrival as directed by an authorised officer; and;
- (ii) if arriving by any other means, produce evidence of a negative COVID-19 test taken by an appropriately trained and qualified health care worker, within 72 hours before their arrival in South Australia or, in the event that an authorised officer is satisfied that they were unable to obtain a test or receive the result within that period, must comply with the testing requirements in clause 5 of the General Direction applicable to Level 2-5 arrivals.

Notes—

A person who is unable to produce the evidence required by this clause to the satisfaction of an authorised officer is a Level 6 arrival and may only enter the State in accordance with an exemption from the Department for Health and Wellbeing (SA).

For the avoidance of doubt, a person who produces the evidence required by this subclause is also subject to the testing requirement in clause 5 of the General Direction applicable to Level 2-5 arrivals (subject to any specific direction by an authorised officer).

Commercial transport and freight workers are subject to specific testing requirements under subclause (2).

- (2) Despite anything in clause 5 or in the General Direction, the following COVID-19 testing regime applies to commercial transport and freight workers arriving in South Australia—
 - (a) a commercial transport and freight worker arriving by road or rail who has been in a restricted zone at any time during the 14 days before arrival must produce evidence of a negative COVID-19 test taken by an appropriately trained and qualified health care worker within 72 hours before their arrival, or must within 12 hours of arrival submit to—

- (i) a point-of-care antigen based test to detect or diagnose COVID-19; and/or

These workers are not subject to the testing requirements in clause 7 of the General Direction.

In accordance with the National Protocol for Domestic Border Controls – Freight Movements, this requirement applies to all freight workers entering the State, including from unrestricted zones.

- (c) a commercial transport and freight worker arriving by air and entering the landside of the airport terminal who has been in a restricted zone at any time during the 14 days before arrival must produce evidence of a negative COVID-19 test taken by an appropriately trained and qualified health care worker within 72 hours before their arrival, or must be tested within 12 hours of arrival;

Note—

The presumption in subclause 6(5) of the General Direction does not apply to these workers, but applies to workers who remain on the airside of the terminal (so that they are taken not to have arrived in SA and are not subject to a testing requirement).

- (d) a commercial transport and freight worker arriving by means other than by air, road or rail who has been in a restricted zone at any time during the 14 days before arrival must produce evidence of a negative COVID-19 test taken by an appropriately trained and qualified health care worker within 72 hours before their arrival, or must be tested within 24 hours of arrival;
